WE STICK WITH BRITAIN! ULSTER WARNS IRELAND

Ready to Fight for Place in Empire.

BY SAM BREWER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BELFAST, Northern Ireland, Oct. 26.—Prime Minister Viscount Craigavon tonight indignantly rejected the possibility of any three corner conference with Ireland and Great Britain to settle the United Ireland question.

Viscount Craigavon.

William T. Cosgrave, former president of the Irish Free State (now Ireland), suggested in Dublin yesterday that such a conference might be the way to end the disagreement, but as far as Lord Craigavon is concerned Ulster would fight rather than see any change in its status.

[Northern Ireland has a separate parliament and executive government. Parliament has the power to legislate for its own area except in regard to certain imperial matters such as the army, navy, and air force and the making of peace or war. The executive power is vested in the governor in behalf of the king of Great Britain.]

Nobody's Czechoslovakia.

Lord Craigavon made it plain in stating northern Ireland's side of the case that Ulster is nobody's Czechoslovakia. Following Germany's conquest of Sudeten territories in Czechoslovakia, Prime Minister Eamon De Valera of Ireland began a campaign for the union of Ireland and Ulster.

"Feeling throughout Ulster is as strong as if some one wanted to take one of your states from the Union—a star from your flag," Lord Craigavon told THE TRIBUNE in an exclusive interview.

"There is no possibility of my meeting Mr. De Valera on the subject of an all Ireland parliament," he said.

He scoffed at London rumors that the British might try to buy Ireland's good will by reajustments on the border.

"You can't stop rumors," he said. "Some one has to take the responsibility of saying 'Halt' to Mr. De Valera's increasing and outrageous demands. I am quite prepared to take that responsibility."

Speaks of Civil War.

Any effort of anybody to force Ulster into reajustment of the border between the Catholic-republican south and the Protestant-monarchist north would mean civil war, Lord Craigavon intimated.

Sitting in his study in the magnificent parliament house the British built for Northern Ireland, an autographed portrait of Queen Victoria on one side of the desk and a painting of her coronation on the other, he said that Ulster's leaders glory in their attachment to the monarchy.

"It is said in many quarters that were I to stand aside from my long leadership of the Ulster people, southern Ireland's aggressive intentions would succeed," he said. "Such is not the case.

Says Last Resort Is Arms.

"Were there no leader in Northern Ireland, were I to retire and nobody succeed me, the people themselves would undoubtedly take the matter into their own hands.

"The last resort is arms. I do not believe in threats, but feel it is much more honorable to say that plainly now before it is too late."

The prime minister said that when Ireland was separated in 1920 "it was well understood by the parties to the agreement on which the act was founded that so far as Ulster was concerned it was the final settlement of all differences between the two countries."

"The southern Irish, as we have always predicted, desired and still desire complete separation from Great Britain with a view to establishing what they call a free and independent republic," Lord Craigavon continued.

Sees Empire Breaking Up.

That, he believes, would begin the break-up of the British empire.

"I do not know what fancy name they like for it—commonwealth of

Chairman Strikes Back at President.

BY WILLARD EDWARDS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 26.—[Special.]—Chairman Martin Dies, [D., Tex.], of the committee investigating un-American activities, today termed President Roosevelt's attack upon the committee a "last desperate move" by the administration to discredit the inquiry which has, among other things, been unveiling the penetration of communists into the Democratic party.

Undeterred by the President's unprecedented assault upon a congressional committee, Dies went ahead today with the production of evidence that the Democratic state in California is dominated by the communist party.

Names Communist Candidates.

With numerous exhibits to support his assertions, Harper Knowles, chairman of the radical research committee of the California American Legion, testified that the three leading Democratic nominees in California are communists and fraternize with common communists.

Moreover, he said, John G. Clark, chairman of the Democratic central committee of the state, campaign manager for the entire Democratic slate, was a member of the communist party until he accepted the appointment of Democratic chairman.

Listed as Red Nominees.

The three named by Knowles were the following:

Culbert Olson, Democratic nominee for governor, "who fraternizes with and accepts the program of the strategy committee of the communist party, meeting with them in secret session."

Sheridan Downey, Democratic nominee for United States senator, running mate in 1934 of Upton Sinclair, who "is today the recognized unofficial head of the communist party in California."

Called "Great Liberals."

After their nomination in the Democratic primary, President Roosevelt characterized Downey and Olson as "great liberals" although repudiating the former's $30 every Thursday pension plan.

Another witness, Joseph F. Hannon, of San Francisco, who was formerly an assistant director in charge of employment in the San Francisco Works Progress administration, testified that communists occupied important positions in the WPA.

"Richard Flambert, a member of Unit 102 of the professional section of the communist party, is supervisor in charge of street survey, a WPA project in San Francisco," Hannon testified. "He is the contact between the communist party and WPA and looks after the procuring of jobs for communists. Flambert is powerful enough in the WPA to put any communist to work within twelve hours after losing his previous assignment."

Joins to Learn Activities.

Hannon testified that he joined the communist party to get information about its activities.

"My contact with various communists convinces me that the communist party is gradually acquiring a vise-like grip on all political and social

MIGHTY ANXIOUS TO PULL HIM OFF THE TRAIL

Girl Is Clawed by Bear in Zoo; Critically Hurt

Cleveland, O., Oct. 26.—(AP)—A 600 pound polar bear mauled and clawed Miss Julia Zemnick, 21 years old, federal art project worker, for 20 minutes today, leaving her in critical condition from loss of blood and deep lacerations on her entire body.

Miss Julia Zemnick. [A. P. Wirephoto.]

While sketching the animal from the top of a wall adjoining a ten foot fence surrounding its Brookside zoo cage, Miss Zemnick either lost her balance and fell or was dragged screaming into the pit.

With a roar the white beast pounced on her and began to claw her. She was rescued by quick thinking Curley Wilson, zoo superintendent, and two attendants who came to her aid with a long, sharp pointed pole.

Drag Victim from Cage.

While Wilson held off the bear with the pole, an attendant threw a lasso around one of the girl's legs and dragged her from the cage.

Two of the girl's fellow workers, standing outside the fence, witnessed the mauling.

"Judy was sitting there sketching," said one, James Kulhanek, "when the bear reared up on its hind legs and made a grab at her. She screamed: 'He's got me.'

Victim Nearly Scalped.

Hospital attendants said the young woman was nearly scalped. They called for blood donors and said that removal of the left eye may be necessary.

Describing the animal, Silver, as a killer, the zoo superintendent expressed amazement he and his coworkers were able to pull out Miss Zemnick alive.

"One person in a thousand could go into a polar bear's cage without meeting instant death," he said.

'$30 Every Thursday' Sued for $50,000 'Ham and' Bill

Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 26.—(AP)—Sponsors of the $30-every-Thursday pension plan called it "ham and eggs for California," so they were sued for $50,000 damages today. The plaintif is Ham & Eggs, Inc., a restaurant five miles from pension headquarters. The suit charges that patrons, mistaking the restaurant for pension headquarters, have boycotted the former.

JOHNNIE EARNS 20 CTS., AND STARTS A POLICE INQUIRY IN EVANSTON

Mrs. John Happ, 1200 Harvard terrace, Evanston, was sure that her son, John Jr., 7 years old, had been the unwitting tool of a burglar in the house at nearby 1100 Mulford street. John said that a man gave him 20 cents to slip through a basement window and open the front door. So Mrs. Happ notified the police. The policemen found C. L. Bear sitting in front of the radio. It was Mr. Bear's home, he explained, and he had forgotten his keys.

PILOTS CHANGED IN TWO DARING AIR MANEUVERS

Lancaster, Cal., Oct. 26.—(AP)—In two daring maneuvers pilots were changed today in a light airplane attempting to establish a new endurance record of more than 136 hours in the air.

Thomas H. Smith of Clarksburg, W. Va., who took the plane up at 1:25 p. m. last Sunday, became ill from fumes this morning and his co-pilot, Clyde Schlieper of Long Beach, Cal., dropped a message asking for relief.

A parachute was attached to a rope dangling from the plane and Schlieper hauled it in. At an altitude of 2,000 feet the groggy Smith went over the side of the plane and landed safely.

Harley Long, Long Beach test pilot, later relieved Smith. He leaped from a truck, from which refueling operations are conducted, to a rope ladder Schlieper had lowered.

JILTED, SHE USES FATHER'S GUN TO SLAY HER SUITOR

Jenkins, Ky., Oct. 26.—[Special.]—Using her father's pistol, Miss Stella Bates, 18 years old, today shot and killed Omar Mullins, 21.

Mullins had courted Stella and promised to marry her, the girl said. Then they quarreled and two weeks ago Omar married Miss Edith Keel of Vergie, Ky.

Miss Bates and Mullins met again today on a street here. The girl was carrying the service revolver of her father, Policeman Henry Bates of Jenkins. In the midst of a quarrel, the girl suddenly drew the weapon and shot Omar. She then surrendered to two of her father's co-officers.

Manufacture of Cream Is Forbidden in Germany

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Oct. 26. The manufacture of cream of any kind is forbidden in Germany for eight months a year, from Sept. 15 to May 14, under a new decree published today. The ban includes whipped cream, sour cream, and canned cream. Convicted violators will be sent to jail.

One of the tiniest Chicago babies ever to remain alive more than a few minutes after birth clung to a slender thread of life last night in an incubator at St. Bernard's hospital.

The baby, a girl, weighed 23 ounces when she was born Tuesday night at 10 o'clock to Mrs. Jean Freckelton of 1308 West 57th street. Mrs. Freckelton, who is 24 years old, and her husband, Elmer, have named their daughter Caroline Jean. She is their first child.

Chances Considered Slim.

While the tiny infant's chances of survival are considered slim, physicians and nurses at the hospital were hopeful last night that Caroline Jean would continue to gain strength. Every hour of life gives her more chance of surviving.

"She is an exceptionally small baby," said Dr. Max Bernauer, who is in charge of the case. "Normally in such cases the baby does not live more than a few minutes. She has about a 10 per cent chance to live. But all of us hope that having weathered the first twenty-four hours, the baby will grow into a healthy, normal child."

Food and Heat Vital.

Dr. Bernauer said the most important items in keeping the vital spark alive were to maintain a regular body temperature and provide the necessary food requirements. Because the infant is not strong enough to swallow, feeding must be by artificial means.

Twelve hours after her birth, the baby received a transfusion of blood—about one gram—from her father. Then she was placed on a routine schedule of nourishment, receiving injections of glucose in a salt solution every three hours.

Both the blood and the glucose are injected under the skin. Last night at 8 o'clock she received another blood injection, and will receive a third today.

Oxygen Tent Aids Fight.

Another important item in her fight for life is an oxygen tent which encases the incubator. Last night as one of the nurses peeped through the window pane in the tent Caroline Jean delighted the watcher with a piping cry.

Almost three years ago Chicago laid claim to the smallest infant ever born in Jacqueline Jean Benson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Benson of 5914 Dakin street. She weighed 12 ounces at birth on Jan. 14, 1936, and today is a normal, healthy child.

Straw Ballots Show Trend to G. O. P. Nov. 8

Straw vote results announced yesterday by the Cook county Republican committee indicated extremely close races for the United States senatorship, the county judgeship, and other major offices at stake in the election of Nov. 8.

The Democratic county organization refused to make public its straw vote figures, stating that they were gathered for the committee's private information and chiefly to uncover weak spots where organization work is needed. Such information, spokesmen for the committee said, is not to be given to the enemy.

The Republicans said their figures and others from earlier polls showed that approximately one voter in every five who voted Democratic two years ago will vote Republican this year. They said there has been a 20 per cent shift in all territories they have sampled.

Predicts Victory for Lyons.

"A change of that sort," said Frank M. Kalteux, who conducted the tests, "indicates a close fight for the entire county ticket, and that Richard J. Lyons, our nominee for United States senator, is a sure winner because he is certain to have a big lead downstate."

The votes on the two principal candidacies on the state and county tickets—the race between Lyons and Scott W. Lucas for the senatorship and between County Judge Jarecki and the Republican nominee for his post, Theodore F. Ehler—were announced by Kalteux as follows:

Ward	Lucas	Lyons	Jarecki	Ehler
5 53d-Lake Park	69	87	69	88
12 Archer-Western	50	40	49	41
29 Madison-Kedzie	85	69	86	68
30-31 Crawford-Chicago	58	43	57	41
33 Kedzie-Milwaukee	69	71	57	67
36 North-Crawford	48	51	46	47

Trend Toward G. O. P.

In 1936 the wards represented in these straws cast a total vote of 192,065 for Roosevelt and 73,745 for Landon. The Republican vote was only 27.7 per cent of the total. On the basis of the straws the Republican vote would be 48.63 per cent if the calculation is based on Lyons' vote and 49.2 per cent if it is based on Ehler's vote.

The same straws gave: For county treasurer, John Toman [D.], 352, and George Curran [R.], 349; for sheriff, Thomas J. O'Brien [D.], 346, and Patrick Sheridan Smith [R.], 360; for county clerk, Michael J. Flynn [D.], 355, and Leslie P. Volz [R.], 355; for assessor, John S. Clarke [D.], 355, and Raymond J. Peacock [R.], 349.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MONTREAL, Que., Oct. 26.—After being a "woman" for 58 years, Joseph Florida Varin, a grocer, today was granted permission by the Supreme court to have the baptismal register of the Church of the Holy Infant Jesus changed. Since 1880 he had appeared in that record as Marie Florida Varin, the "legitimate daughter" of his parents. Varin said personal embarrassment had influenced him to correct the error.

SMASH 1-PARTY CONTROL, LYONS WARNS VOTERS

Points Out Evils of Top-Heavy Rule.

BY GEORGE TAGGE.

Trust busting now must be aimed at the one party monopoly in government. Richard J. Lyons, Republican candidate for United States senator, told this to a cheering luncheon audience in the Hotel Sherman yesterday. The occasion was a welcome home party for Lyons after his 45,000 mile trailer campaign throughout the state.

It was the first time that the G. O. P. nominees—state and county—had put their feet under the same table. The candidates took advantage of the opportunity to overwhelm Lyons with gratitude for the unceasing eight-month night-and-day campaign which has taken him into every one of the state's 102 counties and to almost every hamlet and crossroads.

"No Interference!" Says Lucas.

While Lyons was expressing his strong opposition to monopoly in government, his Democratic opponent, Scott W. Lucas, by coincidence was championing the other side of the trust busting argument. "We will not brook the interference of a minority party which hurls invective," Lucas declared in a state-wide radio address to 4,000 Democratic precinct committeemen and their workers who had been instructed to listen to him.

Lyons, during his assault on one party rule of the nation, warned that the Democratic monopoly now extends from the White House into the local courts of Chicago. All, he said, is Democratic: Federal, state, county, and city governments. The watchdogs in government—auditors, prosecuting attorneys, and judges—are of the same party as the men they are supposed to examine critically.

Warns of Complete Rule.

In the Municipal court there are only three Republican judges out of thirty-seven, and all three are up for reëlection.

"If they should be defeated we will have as complete a one party rule in Illinois as any foreign dictator could demand," said Lyons.

"I say to you that monopoly in government is worse than monopoly in business."

Mob psychology rules in the house of representatives, he said, with the present margin of 330 to 76 in favor of the Democrats, and a similar situation exists in the senate. Even a revolt by half of the Democrats can't stop administration bills, he declared.

Minority Rights Threatened.

Topheavy Democratic majorities threaten the rights of all minorities, Lyons warned. Rights of labor as well as of capital, and religious as well as civil liberties, may be swept away, he said.

"I say to you, the American people will not stand for such complete domination by any one party, which even Vice President Garner, a good American Democrat, cautioned against," he said. "They will now see to it that the government regains its equilibrium."

Because Lucas has refused invitations to debate with him in the Lincoln-Douglas tradition, Lyons last night challenged him in a radio talk to tell the people of Illinois what had become of Lucas' anti-Nash-Kelly issue since the primary election.

Speaks Outside County.

Last night Lyons made two talks outside of Cook county. At Woodstock he declared that halting the importation of foreign cheese competing with American cheese would mean $300,000,000 additional revenue for the dairy industry. At Belvidere he renewed his plea for protective tariffs for farm products.

Lucas also left the city for two appearances. He spoke in Des Plaines and in Niles Center. He praised the New Deal record as one of accomplishment deserving the continued support of all voters.

Eyebrows were raised when Lucas, speaking at the Lincoln school in Niles Center, said he was "glad to be in this section of Chicago."

"I will go to the senate as a progressive Democrat," Lucas said, "as one who by his voting in congress has proved that he is in sympathy with, and has voted for, the humanitarian objectives of the New Deal, but one who will not be a slave to tradition nor a vassal to political expediency.

"I shall always challenge any so-called supergovernment which attempts to trample on the rights and the constitutional guarantees of any group, social, racial, or religious.

"I know you will agree with me that we will not brook the interference of a minority party which hurls invective and insults instead of honest challenge, which conducts a filibuster against reason, against logic, and against humanity."

Gov. Horner, it was announced, will leave Chicago campaign platforms to join the downstate vote drive in the final ten days of the campaign. He will speak in seven cities.

ALIEN LOSES HIS JOB AS OAK PARK POLICE SERGEANT

Sergt. Albert Groote, a member of the Oak Park police force for sixteen years, was dismissed last night by the village fire and police board. It was found that Sergt. Groote is not a citizen. Members of the board said they were sorry, but had no alternative.

Groote was born in the Netherlands. He came to the United States with his parents when he was 14. He served in the United States army during the world war, and it was there the mixup occurred which cost him his job. He said he applied for first papers before the war and believed that his army superiors had put through his naturalization.

His alien status was disclosed when the federal communications commission refused to give him a radio operator's license, necessary for the two-way radios on Oak Park squad cars. Groote is 48 years old and lives at 315 Wisconsin avenue in the suburb. His brother, Richard, is chief of the Lombard police.

COURT UPHOLDS ELECTION FRAUD SENTENCES OF 3

Jail sentences imposed on three election officials of the 47th precinct, 20th ward, for permitting fraud at the April, 1936, primary, were affirmed yesterday by the Illinois Appellate court.

The three, who were sentenced by County Judge Edmund K. Jarecki, are: Max Freedman, 1407 Newberry avenue, and Jack Werner, 1359 Newberry avenue, each a substitute Republican judge, sentenced to one year, and Henry Lieberman, 807 Maxwell street, a substitute Republican clerk, six months.

Four more witnesses testified yesterday before Judge Jarecki that they received assistance in voting in the April 12 primary in the 35th precinct, 24th ward. Similar testimony had previously been given by thirty-one others in trial of five elections officials of the precinct.

Sets Aside Tax Judgments Against G. O. P. Candidate

Municipal Judge Harold P. O'Connell yesterday set aside two judgments entered Monday against Raymond D. Peacock, Republican candidate for county assessor, for non-payment of personal property taxes. At the request of Attorney Frank Peska, a hearing on the matter was set for Nov. 18. Peacock is the publisher of several community newspapers. He has contended that the judgments, one for $208 and the other for $554, represent duplicate assessments on the same property.

Card passed out by supporters of Horner state ticket in this year's primary, when they were seeking to defeat Kelly-Nash candidates. This ticket was circulated in the 25th senatorial and 7th congressional districts. Now that the two Democratic factions have made up, the primary name calling is becoming embarrassing.

VOTE DEMOCRAT TICKET, UNION OFFICIAL ORDERS

Mathew Taylor, president of the Elevator Operators' union, is again sending out letters to his union members telling them how to vote in the coming election. Beware, his letter advises them, of "listening to and being swayed by Republican propaganda." As in 1936, he tells them that all good union members will vote the Democratic ticket—all down the line—they and their families and their friends.

Although the union is affiliated with the American Federation of Labor, the members are told they must not listen to the federation when it comes to politics. Instead, they are instructed to listen to Mr. Taylor. The federation follows the policy of recommending votes for "labor's friends," regardless of party. But only the straight Democratic ticket, Mr. Taylor's letters stated, is satisfactory to Mr. Taylor.

ANTI-BOSS SIGNS OF PRIMARY NOW PLAGUE MAKERS

Republicans Assail Ban on Their Posters.

Gov. Horner, in Chicago to shake hands publicly with Nash-Kelly leaders, declined yesterday to comment on the refusal of local No. 1 of the bill posters' union to post the Republican slogan, "Smash Nash-Kelly Boss Rule—Vote Republican." Otto Krueger, business agent, has said his local will not handle these placards for fear of getting in bad with the city administration.

A. K. Stiles, chairman of the Republican state central committee, pointed out last night that Gov. Horner last spring experienced none of the present difficulties in circulating attacks on the Nash-Kelly machine. That was before Horner's machine joined with the Cook county organization in harmonious support of their ticket.

Shows Circulars from Primary.

Mr. Stiles brought forth from office files some of the campaign literature circulated by Horner's organization last April.

"Our poster 'Smash Kelly-Nash' is virtually the same as the slogan that Gov. Horner used so successfully in the primary," said Stiles. 'It is being suppressed by the united Democrats intimidating a labor union."

From his files the Republican leader showed a handbill advertising a meeting at the Hibbard school, Spaulding avenue and Ainslie street, on April 6. Gov. Horner and others of his faction were on the program. Across the bottom, in bold capital letters, was the message "DEFEAT THE BOSSES."

Other Mementoes of Spring.

Another memento of the primary was a hand-out card with the caption "STOP BOSS RULE."

A mimeographed letter from the 40th ward Democratic organization, dated April 10 and with Horner's name in the upper left corner, read:

"Dear friend and neighbor: The corrupt Tammany hall machine was swashed by the civic minded voters in the city of New York. You can and should SMASH BOSS RULE and the corrupt Kelly-Nash machine Tuesday, April 12."

Another ward organization circular letter, also with Gov. Horner's name in the upper left corner, was dated April 3 and read:

"Isn't it your fervent wish and desire to help stamp out and stop Kelly-Nash bossism and political dictatorship."

Moore Calls It Dictatorship.

Edward F. Moore, chairman of the Cook county central committee, speaking at a luncheon in the Hotel Sherman yesterday, denounced Democratic efforts to suppress lawful billboard advertising. "It is political dictatorship born of a monopoly of public offices," he said.

In the meantime, citizens inactive in the campaign are complaining of unlawful and unsightly political posters plastered on buildings and fences by workers of both parties. From Edgewater came a typical complaint. A vacant two story building at Broadway and Rosedale avenue, 5900 north, has become a crazy quilt of blatant political advertisements.

YOUTH WINS SUIT OVER ACCIDENT EIGHT YEARS AGO

For twelve days a broken trafic light post remained unrepaired at Mansfield and Bloomingdale avenues, although two policemen lived in the block and could have reported it. The Appellate court emphasized that point yesterday in affirming a $10,000 judgment awarded by a Circuit court jury to Charles Koch, 20 years old, of 1030 North Monitor avenue. The judgment was awarded jointly against the city and the Welsbach Trafic Signal company, which had a contract for maintenance of the light. Koch was playing near the post eight years ago when his vision was impaired by a caustic solution issuing from it.

Sergt. Granata Elected Police Annuity Trustee

FLAILS DEMOCRAT TAX BOOSTS TO PAY FOR SPENDING

Old Problems Unsolved, Peacock Charges.

In his campaign speech at a 6th ward meeting at 6618 Cottage Grove avenue last night, Raymond J. Peacock, Republican nominee for county assessor, relied largely on figures to press his point that a change is needed in the office he seeks.

Raymond J. Peacock.

Among their fellow candidates the contest between Peacock and his Democratic opponent, Assessor John S. Clark, is known as the mathematical war because of the constant use of figures in most of their talks. Clark usually demonstrates how he has improved the tax situation in the last four years. Peacock contends the contrary is true.

Assails High Tax Rate.

In last night's talk Peacock contended that the quality of government is reflected in its tax rates, that high taxes prove there is something wrong with the government.

"The chief thing that will reduce taxes," he said, "is to cut operating expenditures by eliminating waste, extravagance, inefficiency, and padded pay rolls. This Democratic officials refuse to do.

"If we confine ourselves to rising taxation alone, all we need are a few facts and figures. The total real estate and personal property tax bill for 1933 was $158,635,000; for 1937 it was $186,635,000. That is an increase for Cook county, including Chicago, of 17½ per cent.

"The tax rate on Chicago property for 1933 was $8.40 for every $100 assessed property valuation. For 1937 it was $8.73.

New York Rate Lower.

"Chicago has the second highest 1937 tax rate per $1,000 of assessed valuation of all large cities in the country. The Chicago rate is 35 per cent higher than the New York rate. The comparative figures are $32.30 for Chicago and $23.30 for New York.

"In the last four years the Democratic tax dissipators have levied and spent $85,000,000 more in tax revenue over and above the 1933 level of $158,635,000 spent by the six local governments.

"Those additional and unnecessary taxes were gouged from the taxpayers during the depression years when they were least able to pay even their current taxes.

"Democratic party officials, local and national, seized upon the depression, unemployment and general economic distress as an excuse for new and bigger sources of taxes and as an excuse to spend. The problems they pretend to solve by spending are still with us—bigger and more discouraging than ever.

"The responsibility for what has been done to our social and economic structure locally and nationally should weigh heavily upon guilty Democratism. But does it? I doubt it. Democratism has become a callous blight."

AUTO OF WOMAN KIDNAP VICTIM FOUND BY POLICE

The automobile of Mrs. Adele Schreiner, 51 years old, in which she was kidnaped Tuesday by a maniacal gunman and forced to drive to Gary, was found by the Hyde Park police last night. It was parked in Ellis avenue between 38th and 39th streets. It was turned over to agents of the federal bureau of investigation, who are seeking the kidnaper.

After driving to Gary and back and brutally beating Mrs. Schreiner, the kidnaper let her out of the car near 47th street and the Outer drive. She made her way back to her apartment in the Windermere East hotel at 1642 East 56th street. She was under the care of a physician there yesterday.

The only clew found in her automobile was a crushed cigar butt. The federal agents were to inspect it for finger prints.

Dr. Johnson of Schools Returns After Operation

Dr. William H. Johnson, superintendent of schools, returned to the city by automobile late last night from Rochester, Minn., where on Oct. 6 he underwent an operation at the Mayo clinic. He said physicians had ordered him to remain away from his desk for from four to six weeks.

AIMS NEW BLAST AT JARECKI AIDS IN FEE SCANDAL

Mrs. Robertson Cites Individual Cases.

BY PERCY WOOD.

While County Judge Edmund K. Jarecki was defending himself on the stump last night against charges of approving illegal appraiser fees, a new blast was leveled at his personal employés whom he had appointed appraisers in several estate cases.

The new accusations came from Mrs. Harriet M. Robertson, president of the Women's civil council, who filed a complaint against the judge with the Chicago Bar association last Monday. This complaint will be considered by the association's board of managers today.

Mrs. Robertson's latest charges were released at about the hour that Judge Jarecki was campaigning for reëlection in the western suburbs. In Oak Park, before a large meeting celebrating harmony between the Democratic district leaders, the judge declared it was significant that the charges "pop up all of a sudden, just two weeks before election."

The judge made no detatiled defense, but assured the meeting that "I shall continue to maintain my office within the law in the future, as I have in the past."

Four Accused Anew.

Four of the men who work for Judge Jarecki were accused anew by Mrs. Robertson of collecting excessive appraiser fees. They were Sidney Holzman, the judge's secretary; A. L. Matuszak, listed as the judge's chauffeur, and two clerks, Thomas Hannigan and Vincent Zwiefka.

After spending most of the day examining records in County Treasurer Horace G. Lindheimer's office, Mrs. Robertson declared that the four had held only a fraction of the number of appraisal hearings for which they billed the county and were paid.

She also charged the Inheritance Abstracting company, which inventories all contested estates, with overcharging the county for stenographic work.

In one of the cases cited by Mrs. Robertson—the estate of A. J. Bennett—Holzman, she said, received $300 in appraiser's fees, although he held but one hearing. For that, she declared, he was entitled only to the $10 daily maximum fixed by law.

"Thus," she charged, "on the face of this record it appears that $290 of that fee was illegally certified to by Judge Jarecki and paid by the county treasurer."

$300 for One Hearing.

In the same case, Mrs. Robertson continued, the abstracting company was paid $165. The abstract, which she said she inspected, consisted of forty-eight pages, which she calculated should have cost $25 at standard stenographic rate. The conclusion, she charged, was that the company had overcharged the county $140.

In the E. C. Wheeler estate case, Holzman, Mrs. Robertson said, held five hearings and collected $230. For the same matter, the fee to the abstracting company was given $110 for sixty-seven pages of work.

Zwiefka was credited, in Mrs. Robertson's statement, with having received $300 for holding one appraisal hearing in the J. E. Berree estate case. The abstracting company was given $185 for eighteen pages of testimony and exhibits.

Hannigan, Mrs. Robertson said, received, in the P. M. Zulfer case, $200 for one hearing and the abstracting concern $150 for eighteen pages of transcript.

Matuszak, she added, got $240 for one hearing on the Elizabeth McCarthy estate while the abstracting company collected $186 for forty pages.

"These five cases," Mrs. Robertson's statement read, "clearly substantiate every charge made in our complaint that Judge Jarecki has wantonly and corruptly certified to and directed payment of illegal and excessive fees, in violation of the statutes, and that these appraisers have corruptly received these fees contrary to law. These files would seem to prove that the mysterious abstracting company is part and parcel of the conspiracy."

Dig Into Details.

Accountants and other investigators worked on the estate appraisal books in Treasurer Lindheimer's office yesterday, inquiring into payments to appraisers and the abstracting company.

One set of figures immediately obtained appeared to refute the assertion of Mrs. Ruth Schultz, head of the company, that the gross annual income of her concern runs about $20,000 annually.

Lindheimer's records disclosed that the company received $22,452 alone from April 1 to Oct. 1 of this year. Monthly payments for stenographic work in making inventories of estates, the value of which were contested by Attorney General Otto Kerner, ran as follows: $4,644 for April, $3,408 for May, $4,201 for June, $3,145 for July, $4,249 for August, and $2,805 for September.

Du Page Civic Group Splits Election Recommendations

Three Democrats and two Republicans were favored by the Du Page county civic council yesterday in its recommendations for the election of county officials. The Republicans are Win G. Knoch for county judge and Lewis V. Morgan for county superintendent. Both are incumbents. The recommended Democrats are Felix M. McFarland, for county treasurer; Hugo Carlson, for sherif, and George A. Nicholson, for county clerk.

President's Son Sees Hollywood

The Stars Gawk

Hollywood, Cal., Oct. 26.—[Special.]—The nation's No. 1 convalescent, James Roosevelt, visited Hollywood night spots last night and gave filmland's celebrities, used to being gawked at, a chance to do a little rubber necking of their own.

By Hollywood standards, the President's eldest son and his wife, spent a comparatively quiet evening, taking in a motion picture preview in the suburban university community of Westwood and then journeying to the film city's night club row to dance at the swank La Conga.

The White House secretary, who is recovering from a recent operation at the Mayo clinic at Rochester, Minn., and Mrs. Roosevelt, were the guests of Walter Wanger and Joan Bennett.

MRS. SIMMS AIDS CAMPAIGN FROM BED IN HOSPITAL

Albuquerque, N. M., Oct. 26.—[Special.]—A broken hip failed to keep Mrs. Ruth Hanna McCormick Simms from participation tonight in New Mexico's political campaign in which the Democratic machine is laboring under the handicap of recent indictment of seventy-three of its members for WPA graft.

Mrs. Simms, former Illinois Republican congresswoman, was injured in a fall in her home today. At Presbyterian hospital she had a microphone installed over her bed. Lying on her back she delivered a radio address she had been scheduled to make on behalf of Albert K. Mitchell, Republican nominee for governor.

Twice during her speech she touched on the WPA scandal that is burdening the state machine led by Senator Dennis Chavez. The senator's son-in-law, sister, nephew, and secretary are among those indicted here last week by the federal grand jury for political perversion of WPA.

LOOKING FOR A PERFECT MAID? SO ARE POLICE

Mrs. Max Guggenheim, wife of the president of the Guggenheim Packing company, thought she had found the perfect maid at last. The maid was neat, courteous, polite. She even apologized because she didn't have her own uniforms and promised to buy some with her first pay check.

On Tuesday Mrs. Guggenheim left her home at 1180 Hyde Park boulevard on a shopping trip to the loop. As a surprise gift, she bought two uniforms for the new maid. When she returned to her apartment, the maid was gone.

So was a collection of loose pearls and several articles of clothing with a total value of $452. Mrs. Guggenheim reported it to Hyde Park police. They started looking for the maid.

KILLER JOKES AT LIFE AS HE WAITS ON FIRING SQUAD

Salt Lake City, Utah, Oct. 26.—(AP)—A slayer, who faces a firing squad at dawn Monday at his own request, said today: "I'm going out there and prove that those guys who said life begins at 40 are cockeyed liars."

Less than two months ago John W. Deering observed his 40th birthday anniversary. Most of those years were spent in prisons and reform schools. Rather than go back, he asked and received the death penalty for the slaying of Oliver R. Meredith Jr., Salt Lake City businessman, during a holdup last May.

Deering will be the 33d man in Utah's history to be executed. He will be the 32d to face the rifles of five marksmen. One man chose hanging on being informed that hanging cost the state more than the alternative method.

Ask Views of Candidates on Library Law Changes

Candidates for the state legislature, in a letter addressed to them by the Chicago Public Library employés' union, were asked yesterday to express their stand on a proposed amendment to the library law. The proposal would increase the pegged levy for maintenance of the library from 2 million to 3 million dollars, and the tax levy for building purposes from one-tenth to two-tenths of a mill on each dollar of assessed property valuation.

ROOSEVELT RAP AT DIES INQUIRY STIRS MICHIGAN

Fitzgerald Cites Reds' Backing of Murphy.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Benton Harbor, Mich., Oct. 26.—[Special.]—President Roosevelt's attack on the Dies house committee which has been exposing communist activities and his defense of Gov. Frank Murphy, Democrat, against charges made by Michigan witnesses gave added fury today to Michigan's political campaign.

Former Gov. Frank D. Fitzgerald, Republican, who is opposing Murphy in the gubernatorial contest, pointed out in Detroit that the communist party has indorsed Murphy. The governor, echoing the President's denunciation of the committee, declared at Kalamazoo that the Dies hearings constituted a planned effort to win the Michigan election.

Two Outstanding Issues.

Outstanding issues in the campaign are of Gov. Murphy's policies in the Michigan sitdown strikes of 1937 and the activities of communists in the United Auto Workers' union, a C. I. O. affiliate, and in politics.

Fitzgerald pointed out that the Dies committee is a Democratic committee, headed by Representative Martin Dies [D., Tex.].

"President Roosevelt," commented Fitzgerald, "has attempted in other states to purge leaders he does not like; now he is trying just as hard in Michigan to save one he does like.

"The communist party in Michigan has given its indorsement to Gov. Murphy and opposed me. That action certainly was not influenced by the Dies committee. It is a certainty that the Republicans of Michigan had nothing to do with the disclosures before the Dies committee or with the indorsement of Gov. Murphy by the communist party."

Quote Communist Writer.

Republican headquarters at Lansing issued an excerpt from "The Great Sitdown Strike," written by William Weinstone, secretary of the Michigan district of the communist party. Weinstone referred to the settlement of the sitdown strike, which centered in Flint, Mich., and spread into other states.

"Of first rate importance among the reasons for the victory," he wrote, "must be considered the attitude of the goverment. By the government I mean in this case the attitude of the governor of the state of Michigan and of President Roosevelt."

Fitzgerald, in his comments, declared: "You all recall the recent open break in the ranks of the United Auto Workers when President Homer Martin ousted some of his lieutenants. He openly charged they were influenced and controlled by communists. Now they have been ordered reinstated."

Murphy Assails Inquiry.

Gov. Murphy is telling his audiences that the Dies committee has become a political instrument.

"Reactionaries carefully built up this situation," he said. "It is the opposition that has gone to Washington and they have done it obviously in a cunning and deliberate way. It was an arrangement apparently worked out with the Dies committee. It was timed perfectly.

"It is not the employers who are misrepresenting my efforts. It is the reactionary spoilsmen. The sum and substance of my labor policy is to do things reasonably, talk over differences and negotiate a settlement. Here was Walter Chrysler, a broad-minded employer, ready and willing to follow that policy. So were Alfred Sloan, William Knudsen, and other industrial leaders."

As many politicians view it, Fitzgerald is growing in favor in outstate Michigan and Murphy is gaining in Wayne county [Detroit]. Most observers believe Murphy must roll up a 100,000 vote lead in Wayne county to overcome Fitzgerald's margin outside Detroit. Democrats are counting on Genesee county [Flint], on the labor vote in Jackson, Lansing, Grand Rapids, Muskegon, and other industrial centers, and on carrying the upper peninsula by 15,000 to 20,000.

Fitzgerald is a great vote getter. In 1932 he survived the Roosevelt landslide and was reëlected secretary of state. In 1934 he was elected governor. Two years ago, when President Roosevelt carried Michigan by 317,000, Fitzgerald was beaten by only 48,900 by Murphy, who came back from his post as high commissioner to the Philippines, at the request of the White House, to run for governor.

WPA Angle Considered.

How far political activities among WPA workers and state employés are to count in the election is a question. Gov. Murphy boasts he established a civil service as substitute for the spoils system. The law forbids collections from state employés, but at Lansing, the Ingham county Democratic committee has sought to collect campaign slush funds from state employés.

The Michigan Merit System association, through its president, Arno R. Schorer, has called attention to this. He says the politicians have found a loop hole which lets county committees levy on state job holders under threats of dropping them from the pay roll unless they fork over. Schorer is urging the voters to combat this type of political black jacking by voting against it.

Gov. Murphy says he warned all county committees such collections would be against the merit system and has advised employés to disregard such solicitations.

There are some 17,000 state employés. There are 172,424 on WPA. Charges are tossed around that here, as elsewhere, politics is being played with the WPA.

On emergency relief are 65,104 cases, including dependent blind and children. Based on an average of 4 persons to a family, authorities estimate about 260,400 individuals are on emergency relief.

Named in Red Inquiry

Harper Knowles, American Legion official, yesterday told the Dies committee that Culbert Olson (left), Democratic nominee for governor in California, is a communist. He said John G. Clark (right) was a communist until he became chairman of the state Democratic central committee.

Knowles testified that Sheridan Downey (left), senate nominee, and Ellis Patterson (right), nominee for lieutenant governor, are also communists.

activities throughout the state of California," he said. The communist party is united behind the candidacies of Olson, Patterson, and Downey."

Hannon said he became acquainted with Harry Bridges, the alien C. I. O. agitator in California, whose deportation has been delayed by Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins. He quoted Bridges as saying:

"I am well protected in San Francisco and I have a connection in Washington so there is no fear of me being deported."

Replies to President.

At the opening of today's hearing Dies read a prepared statement in answer to President Roosevelt's attack. The President was angry because witnesses had testified before the committee that Gov. Frank Murphy of Michigan refused to enforce the law in Michigan during the rioting at Flint, Mich. He asserted the committee was engaged in "a flagrantly unfair attempt to influence an election."

Gov. Murphy is a nominee for reelection.

In mentioning the "Shirley Temple fabrication" Dies referred to misrepresentations made following testimony that certain motion picture stars, including young Miss Temple, had unwittingly helped the communist cause by appearing at benefits the profits of which went to organizations supported by the communist party. The committee was immediately ridiculed by enemies of the investigation for charging that "Shirley Temple was a communist."

Makes Detailed Reply.

The Dies statement in part follows:

"After reading the President's statement I desire to make a more detailed reply. As I stated last night, I have known from the beginning that neither the President nor his advisers favored this investigation. The departments not only refused to comply with the request of congress that our committee be supplied with adequate personnel, but they have thrown every obstacle in the way of a successful investigation.

"In addition to this, a well planned campaign of misrepresentation, ridicule, and sarcasm was conducted by those who hoped to discredit the investigation. This campaign was aided by members of the cabinet.

"The Shirley Temple fabrication was conceived by certain radical writers whose sympathies for Soviet Russia are matters of common knowledge. Immediately, and as if by prearrangement, Secretary Perkins and Secretary Ickes repeated this crude and silly fabrication, thus hoping to lend the color of truth and respectability.

"When this campaign utterly failed and recoiled upon the heads of those who conceived and engineered it, the next move was to exert every conceivable pressure to stifle this investigation. When this likewise failed, as a last desperate move, the President was induced to permit the prestige of his great office to be used for the purpose of discrediting the investigation.

Points to Hearing Record.

"That the President has been wholly misinformed is obvious from his statement. Of course, the President did not hear the testimony and has not read the record. He is evidently relying upon reports that have reached him from prejudiced sources. Had he read the testimony he would have found that Democrats testified the same as Republicans and that some of the testimony came from former officials of the U. A. W.

"In this connection I wish to say that our investigator spent two months in Detroit with instructions to conduct a fearless investigation. As a result of two months' work on the ground, he subpenaed these witnesses independent of the question of politics, so that when the President states that the committee made no effort to get at the truth he is obviously misinformed.

Contends Evidence Convincing.

"He is likewise misinformed when he says that we 'did not call for facts to support mere personal opinion.

"The testimony with reference to the Michigan situation showed very clearly that well known communists instigated and engineered the sitdown strike and the so-called Lansing holiday.

"The evidence shows that the state police sat helplessly by for lack of instructions from the governor in the face of open rebellion while the governor looked down upon the scene from a window in the capitol.

"While I deeply regret the President's bitter attack on a congressional committee of an independent department of the government, and while I regret that the President did not read the testimony before issuing this statement, I wish to make it plain that I shall continue to do my duty undeterred and unafraid."

LA VINA CHICKERING.

Down on a farm in the Georgia swamps 40 miles south of Macon, Miss Lavina Chickering, 24 years old, read an advertisement, "Draw this and get a job." She had had quite a reputation in her neighborhood ever since schooldays, which ended with eighth grade with Lavina, so she answered the advertisement. She got a letter saying her drawings were fine and telling her to come to Chicago for a job. She set out with $3.

Last night she sketched several policemen as Sergt. Stephen Naughton of Central police vainly thumbed through numerous directories looking for the name of the art school she had hitch-hiked eleven days to find.

"I won't go back home," said Miss Chickering. "I want to make something of myself. Besides, I'm sore at my brother, Alonzo. He's 32. I used to help him farm, but he got married. I'll stay here and get a job."

With the exception of a spot in northern Michigan the entire nation yesterday enjoyed perfect weather. Forecaster J. R. Lloyd said the weather conditions were as ideal for the country as it is possible to have at one time. In Chicago the mercury hovered in the low sixties, while a warm sun beamed from cloudless skies. A gusty northwest wind at times made walking a little perilous.

PURGERS MAKING LAST DITCH FIGHT ON REP. O'CONNOR

Tammany, Farley, WPA Marshal Relief Vote.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

John J. O'Connor.

The President has lost all the battles he has fought in other districts and states to retire from congress those Democrats who had refused to do his bidding in the passage of legislation. He sought to "liquidate" nine Democratic senators and numerous Democratic representatives in the Democratic primaries for opposing his undertaking to pack the Supreme court, his bill clothing him with dictatorial power to reorganize the government, and other Roosevelt "must" measures.

All of the senators were renominated in the Democratic primaries, and all of the congressmen except one—John J. O'Connor.

Nominated on G. O. P. Ticket.

O'Connor, chairman of the powerful rules committee of the house, for whose defeat the President yerned in every fiber of his being, failed of renomination in the Democratic primary by 500 votes, but won renomination at the hands of the Republicans, whose primary he had entered by way of getting a second string to his bow which he might need if the President succeeded in beating him in their own party primary.

The primary in this congressional district, therefore, furnished Mr. Roosevelt his only victory in his attempted purge of Democratic legislators he dubbed "yes-but men" and only a partial victory, at that, for he had to fight O'Connor all over again in the election campaign.

It is a furious struggle, with party lines shot to pieces on both sides. O'Connor, a Tammany Democrat, is running as a Republican and also as an independent Democrat under a party labeled "Andrew Jackson" on the ballot.

Faced by Tammany Nominee.

The Democratic nominee is James H. Fay, a Tammany man and holder of an internal revenue job, who is running also as the nominee of the American Labor party, with the indorsement of the President, Democratic National Committee Chairman James A. Farley, and Tammany.

Fay also has received a letter from Harry Hopkins, national relief administrator, wishing him well. At Fay headquarters it was stated the letter would not be made public because it might be construed as a hint to WPA workers to vote for Fay. The letter was written, it was explained, because Hopkins is a personal friend of Fay, dating from their early association in welfare work in New York.

According to O'Connor, much more than a hint already has been given WPA workers.

Relief Voters Warned.

"In the primary campaign," said O'Connor, "Mayor F. H. La Guardia's agents went into the tenements in my district delivering WPA checks to the unfortunates on relief and telling each one: 'This is the last check you will get if O'Connor is renominated.'

"On primary day WPA projects were closed down at 2 p. m. in order to allow relief workers time to go to the polls and carry out their instructions to vote against me. Not only that, but WPA workers from outside my district were brought in to swell the vote against me."

Close Race Indicated.

Indications are that the result of the contest will be close. O'Connor is being supported by the majority of the Republicans, if one may judge from the unanimity of the Republican district leaders in his favor, and by the conservative Democrats. Fay has the support of the New Deal Democrats, the Tammany element, the labor party members, and Republicans disgruntled by O'Connor's defeat of Allen W. Dulles in the Republican primary.

Chairmanship at Stake.

O'Connor says that if elected by the combined vote of the Republican and Andrew Jackson tickets, he will retain the chairmanship of the rules committee. This view is based on the house usage under which a member is permitted to choose his party designation.

O'Connor could designate himself a Democrat and only a vote of the house could refuse him such designation. If the Democrats should refuse to continue him in the chairmanship, he could be elected thereto by Republican and Democratic votes.

Fay denies this, asserting that O'Connor, if elected, would lose his Democratic seniority and would not be entitled to the chairmanship under the usage observed by Republicans as well as Democrats.

TELEGRAPHERS STRIKE AGAINST POSTAL; GO BACK

A strike of Postal Telegraph company employés in Indianapolis, Kansas City, and a few smaller cities, called yesterday afternoon, was ordered ended shortly after midnight today. The order came from Frank B. Powers, president of the Commercial Telegraphers' union, an American Federation of Labor affiliate.

The strike was in effect only in cities where the union had agreements with the management. The union demanded a 44 hour week in accordance with the new federal wage-hour act, at the same pay now received for 48 hours. Powers said the company had agreed to open negotiations by Nov. 15.

The American Communications association, a union of the Committee for Industrial Organization, called a truce in its slow down strike in Postal offices in Chicago when a temporary settlement of the wage differences under the wage-hour act was reached, Miss Claire Brown, C. I. O. organizer, said. The Postal workers affiliated with her union, she said, would vote on the new terms which provide an equivalent of the old 48 hour weekly wage scale for 46 hours work. Miss Brown claimed A. F. of L. telegraphers' unions in Dallas, Tex., Jacksonville, Fla., and Louisville, Ky., yesterday switched to the C. I. O. union.

CZECHS ACCEPT ITALY, GERMANY AS PEACEMAKERS

Nations to Arbitrate Row with Hungary.

BUDAPEST, Hungary, Oct. 26.—(AP)—Czechoslovakia tonight accepted Hungary's proposal that Italy and Germany arbitrate their territorial dispute.

It appeared probable that the two dictator states would decide the new Czechoslovak-Hungarian border.

There still were secondary differences between the stands of Prague and Budapest, however, which might keep them apart.

Acceptance of the principle of arbitration by Germany and Italy was contained in Czechoslovakia's latest proposals, received tonight in reply to proposals Hungary made Monday.

A foreign office spokesman said among the still existing differences was Czechoslovakia's insistence that occupation of the pure Hungarian areas wait until Germany and Italy and possibly other arbitrators decide on the occupation procedure. The spokesman described this as "unacceptable" by Hungary.

Sidesteps Hungarian Demand.

The Hungarian government in its proposals demanded a plebiscite be held in eight disputed districts, including four big towns where the Czechoslovak note suggested settlement by arbitration.

The Czechoslovak answer did not fulfill the Hungarian demand that a plebiscite be held in Slovakia and Ruthenia to decide whether they intended to remain with Czechoslovakia or to join Hungary. The Czechoslovaks demanded, moreover, that further negotiations concern the Hungarian minority problems in Slovakia alone.

The Prague note further demanded that Rumania be added as arbitrator in the event Poland should be appointed to the arbitration committee.

Hungarian officials rejected this, arguing that Czechoslovakia "must not bring in old little entente allies, but must deal with new friends instead."

Cabinet Meets Today.

A Czechoslovak suggestion that a Czechoslovak-Hungarian military commission be formed immediately to prepare details of the Czechoslovak evacuation of territories as well as for smooth occupation was accepted in Hungarian military circles, providing occupation began within forty-eight hours.

Whatever these differences may be, the Hungarian cabinet council tomorrow will have to decide whether it accepts German-Italian arbitration, prefers further direct diplomatic talks with the Prague government, or will reject both and order the army to march in after a short ultimatum.

It was understood the decisions of the Hungarian government will depend largely on suggestions expected from Germany, Italy, and Poland—Hungary's friends.

Ready to Accept Task.

It was understood these countries already had impressed upon Hungary that they would accept the arbitration task providing Hungary from now on would faithfully trust that her friends would carry out justice.

Germany, it was disclosed, will not tolerate separate Hungarian military action regarding Czechoslovakia while arbitrators are at work to draw new border lines and organize terms of Hungarian occupation.

PREMIER RESIGNS IN RUTHENIA OVER HUNGARIAN ROW

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia, Oct. 26.—(AP)—Andrew Brody, premier of self-governing Ruthenia, resigned today because of internal dissension arising from negotiations with Hungary, and was replaced by Msgr. Augustin Valosin. Brody quit his post during a joint session of cabinets of the Czechoslovak national government and of Slovakia and Ruthenia.

Brody was said to have taken exceptions to negotiations directed by two other ministers of Ruthenia, Edmund Bacinsky and Julian Revay.

Msgr. Valosin, a Ruthenian church official, had been state secretary in Brody's cabinet. He and other Ruthenian ministers were said to have supported negotiations which Bacinsky conducted for his government with the German foreign office.

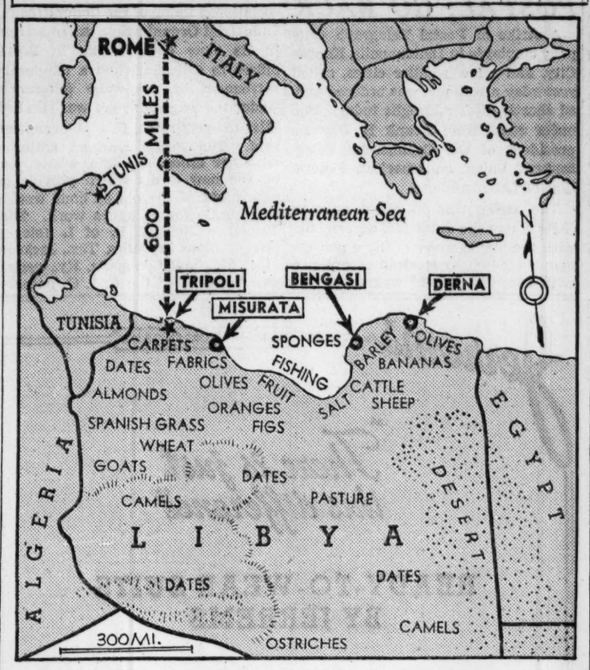
Italy Raises Status of Libya



Libya, which was decreed an integral part of Italy yesterday, is to be colonized by Italians. Tripoli, Misurata, Bengasi, and Derna are the governing seats of the four provinces of Libya. In addition the military has command of the southern desert area. Products and resources of Libya are indicated on the map.

LIBYAN COLONY BECOMES A PART OF ITALY PROPER

ROME, Oct. 26.—(AP)—The Fascist grand council decreed today that what Italians call their "fourth shore," the North African colony of Libya, should be made an integral part of Italy.

A new Libyan constitution was ordered drawn for approval later. The first of 20,000 new Italian settlers will sail from Genoa on Friday.

In a motion the council referred to the constantly increasing Italian population there and said Libya under the governorship of Air Marshal Italo Balbo "has totally transformed its spiritual, political and economic conditions."

New Position for Balbo?

Fascists indicated a new appointment awaited Balbo. Rumors that Balbo might return to Rome, perhaps as minister for Italian Africa were revived when Virginio Gayda, authoritative Fascist editor, reported that whatever autonomy Balbo had enjoyed would end.

Another possible change reported was in the diplomatic corps. Prince Ascanio Colonna, former minister to Hungary, was said to be the most likely candidate for ambassador to Washington, D. C. He would succeed Fulvio Suvich, who on Sept. 12 was named president of the Riunione Adriatica, one of Italy's largest insurance companies.

Premier Benito Mussolini is making a spectacular effort to colonize the four provinces of Libya—Tripoli, Misurata, Bengasi, and Derna—which his cabinet organized only eighteen months ago.

Plan Grain Production.

The government plans to establish 80,000 Italian peasants in Libya's coastal provinces by 1941 in the hope that irrigation will help make the land flourish anew as it did when the North African coast was an outstanding granary of ancient Rome.

The four Libyan provinces have about 840,000 inhabitants in an area of 216,988 square miles. The military command over the rest of the colony covers 467,953 square miles with only 49,794 inhabitants.

LONDON'S NIGHT SPOTS SAD OVER EDICT FOR BANISHMENT OF KENT

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Oct. 26.—With the duke and duchess of Kent, royalty's gift to West End restaurateurs, banished for three years to Australia, gloom hung over London's gayest spots tonight.

The depression threatened to become real, because George and Marina attracted thousands of dollars yearly to the night spots they favored with their patronage.

Where the Kents went, there went the heaviest spenders, the duke and duchess having succeeded the duke of Windsor and Wallis Warfield as fairy godparents to maitres d'hotel. When the swanky Ritz reopened its doors in 1937, George and Marina were the drawing card. When the Kents quit the Ritz, the attendance sagged.

Marina was reported to be resigned to the decree sending her to Canberra, Australia's capital, where George will be installed one year hence as dominion governor-general.

STATE ST. SENIORS HONOR LYTTON AT DINNER TONIGHT

Henry C. Lytton, 92 years old and one of the oldest merchants in the country, will be the guest of honor tonight at the sixth annual dinner of the Association of State Street Seniors in the Palmer house. The dinner will celebrate Chicago's future subway, Navy day, and Haloween.

Mr. Lytton is the only survivor among the original 14 State street merchants.

WE STICK WITH BRITAIN! ULSTER WARNS IRELAND

Ready to Go to War for Place in Empire.

nations or something—to me it is still the empire," he said.

So long as Ulster remains firmly attached to Britain he believes that a Republican Ireland is impossible.

A suggestion that some sort of conference on the United Ireland question might be called under British pressure brought this response: "Any form of meeting would be regarded as a sign of weakening. We took our stand on partition eighteen years ago."

Craigavon, who has ruled in the north since it became a separate unit eighteen years ago, said that if he stood aside "instead of a controled body of men and women organized and obedient to law there would be a general uncontroled rising with disastrous results."

Increased demands follow every agreement the south enters into, he said, "but so far as we are concerned we made our final demands and they were settled in 1920."

Public Never Disarmed.

In case of an attempt at forcible settlement, northern Ireland has powerful means to meet it. The Protestant population, armed by the government during the outbreaks of violence in 1922, was never disarmed.

One-third of Ulster's population is Catholic—alleged to have been armed from across the border.

A highly reliable source disclosed that the authorities know there are plenty of arms on both sides in Ulster and that caution is necessary.

To counteract that authorities of northern Ireland rely on their "special powers act" which they prefer to call the civil authorities act. Passed at the time of the earlier trouble, it has become part of the country's permanent law. It allows the arrest of any suspect without formal charges, and he may be held as long as the police consider it necessary.

Explains "Special Powers Act."

"Criticism has been advanced on the fact that the civil authorities act permanently is on the statute book," Lord Craigavon declared. "The reason is easily explained. Were an emergency to take place one might be obliged to call parliament together. By the time bills were passed through the various stages of the lower house and upper house much damage might be done, especially by such expert members of the Irish republican army—secret and illegal, but still existing here—who are still scattered throughout the community.

"By our system prompt action could be taken, and the fact of its permanency is an effective restraint on wrongdoers."

Despite the act's existence there are periodic bombings. The law is so rigorous, however—some suspects have been held two years without even a charge against them—that it undoubtedly discourages faint hearted would be terrorists.

A KISS IN COURTROOM WINS FREEDOM FOR AN ACCUSED BURGLAR

When Stanley Augustine, 36 years old, walked into the Felony court yesterday he was an accused burglar. When he walked out—but let's listen to him as he talks to Judge Matthew Hartigan:

"For four years, your honor, I was engaged to Miss Ruth Willix of 6242 South Tripp avenue. I had given her $450 to furnish our home when we married. Then we quarreled and I went out and got all lit up. I went to her apartment and got my money from its hiding place. I had a key, but I was not able to use it. That's why I kicked in the window. I have since given the money back."

Judge Hartigan asked Stanley if he still loved Miss Willix. "I sure do, judge," he said. "All right," said the court, "show me." Stanley grabbed Miss Willix and showed him until bailiffs decided no kiss should last that long, and parted them. "Discharged," said Judge Hartigan.

JAP MAIN FORCE TAKES COMPLETE GRIP ON HANKOW

Safety Promised Chinese in Refugee Zone.

HANKOW, Oct. 26.—(AP)—The Japanese completed occupation of the great Wuhan industrial and commercial area—the cities of Hankow, Hanyang, and Wuchang — late tonight without encountering the slightest resistance.

This was done to the accompaniment of sounds no more warlike than that of a few machine guns fired by incoming destroyers at presumed enemies on the Yangtze river bank opposite Hankow.

Sharing the honor of taking the Chinese wartime capital, the first of a long line of warcraft of all types steamed into the waterfront as infantry regiments halted opposite the Japanese consulate, which was a smoldering ruin. Accompanying the warships were scores of planes. By nightfall transports and supply ships had arrived in numbers.

March into Safety Zone.

At a gateway leading into the former German concession, now become a civilian safety zone, a Japanese infantry column halted while British and Italian officers and Father Jacquinot, who organized the safety zone, explained its extent. The Japanese commander gave assurance that military action would not be planned there if no Chinese resistance materialized.

The Japanese then marched into the crowded zone. At first the refugees ran for cover. But soon sidewalks and doorways were filled with Chinese getting the first sight of their new masters.

On reaching the Chinese section of the city, the Japanese broke ranks and began forcing their way into houses seeking quarters. Over the protest of the British commissioner, a Japanese naval landing party entered the customs house and converted it into a barracks.

Prevent Return to Homes.

Machine guns were posted along the former German concession waterfront, and Japanese sentries refused to permit even German residents to return to their homes. Similar precautions were taken in other sections where Japanese troops were billeted.

The Chinese forces, which set fires, blasted buildings, and destroyed everything of value to the Japanese before retreating from the Wuhan cities, were reported withdrawing farther west and south of Hankow, vigorously pursued.

Southeast of Hankow the Japanese army continued its march of conquest with a renewed assault upon Teian which resulted in a break through along the north wall of that desperately defended town.

Bloody street fighting ensued as Chinese rallied to prevent capture of the town 30 miles south of Kiukiang which they have successfully defended for nearly three months.

With the occupation of Hankow the Japanese have taken over most of the major lines of communication and the richest cities and towns through thirteen provinces of about 575,000 square miles in area and with a population of about 200,000,000 or nearly half the population of China.

New Fires in Canton.

CANTON, Oct. 26.—(AP)—Fires continued to flare up intermittently today in Canton, South China metropolis which Japanese soldiers occupied last week. New and widespread incendiarism was reported around Fatshan, a Chinese residential and industrial city ten miles west.

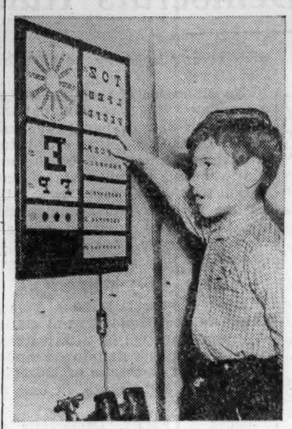
Japanese warships encountered difficulty with mines in the Pearl river entrance to Canton and were reported still several miles from the city.

LOYALISTS REGAIN MADRID GROUND LOST TO REBELS

HENDAYE, France, Oct. 26.—(AP)—Spanish government dispatches said tonight a counter-attack in the Aranjuez sector southeast of Madrid had resulted in the recapture of almost all positions lost to rebels two days ago in a surprise offensive.

These advices said that despite heavy rains the government forces struck back and repulsed a renewed rebel attack at noon. The entire action appeared to have been limited by the adverse weather.

Reads in Reverse



Richard Kenealy reading eye chart in reverse position.

When Richard Kenealy, 8 years old, looks at an automobile rolling down the street, it appears to be doing strange tricks. As he explains it, the wheels seem to be in the air and the passengers just float along with their heads about six inches off the concrete.

But when it stops the automobile suddenly turns upright again. Dr. Edmund J. Krump, Berwyn optometrist, who has examined the boy, said that he has a rare form of defective vision in the right eye. He added that he believed it could be corrected by letting him use only the left eye.

Richard lives at 6743 Stanley avenue, Berwyn. He said that when he plays ball with other boys overhanded pitches look underhanded, but he is able to catch just as well as his companions. When objects are not moving he has almost normal vision.

IT'S SMASHING BIRTHDAY TILL POLICE ARRIVE

Charles Patch, 706 South Ashland boulevard, a WPA watchman, was 22 years old yesterday and started celebrating early. When he got to the Astor theater, 12 South Clark street, last evening he was refused admittance. "You're too tipsy," said James Roder, the ticket taker.

Resentful, Patch smashed the ticket box, two windows of the ticket seller's booth, and Roder's glasses. He then walked to the intersection of Clark and Madison streets and punched out two windows in a parked taxicab. With the driver, Art Alpern, 731 Adams street, in pursuit, Patch ran west to the elevated station at Wells street, where he broke more glass before Alpern grappled with him.

CANCEL FOREIGN RIGHTS IN CHINA, JAP PARTY URGES

Wants Powers Deprived of Concessions.

TOKIO, Oct. 26.—(AP)—The small but potent political party, Tohokai, today adopted a resolution demanding that third powers relinquish their concessions and other special rights and privileges in China when a new Chinese government is set up under Japanese guidance to govern conquered territory.

Seigo Nakano, one of the strongest rightists and a member of the innermost circles of the Japanese government, is president of Tohokai. In 1936 he formed the party, which holds eleven seats in the lower house of parliament.

Mostly French and British.

The resolution will be handed to Premier Prince Fumimaro Konoe tomorrow. The party's demand was based on a contention that foreign concessions in China were "hotbeds" of anti-Japanism.

China is dotted with foreign concessions and international settlements, most of them in commercial centers along the coast, with French and British interests predominating.

There are foreign concessions at Tientsin, Shanghai, Amoy, and Canton, to mention the principal ones. In cities such as Shanghai concentrations of foreign interests have given rise to international settlements governed by consular bodies.

Take Jab at Soviet.

The Tohokai resolution contained six clauses:

1. Japan should consolidate military achievements "as a victor, without paying attention to the machinations of Britain, France, and the soviet union."
2. Japan should proclaim the birth of a new China and ask recognition by Italy and Germany in accordance with the three powers' pact against international communism.
3. Japan should coöperate fully with the new government "and make the latter demand that foreign powers return rights and interests ceded by old China."
4. Japan should "make the new China recover foreign concessions and settlements.
5. Japan should administer Chinese customs "pending complete establishment of the new régime."
6. Japan should "exercise the military and police right to suppress anti-Japanese operations and assistance to Chiang [Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek] which are being done within the foreign concessions and settlements."

THE DILEMMA OF THE HORN

By CALEB

NO SIMPLE or passing problem in these traffic-troubled days is the tooting driver. He is in our midst from sun to sun. No hour of the day, no street laid for travel, is free from his nerve-shredding presence. And despite the undoubted intelligence which our traffic experts have invested in the subject—to expedite transit, promote safety, and preserve a semblance of tranquillity—there is still a woeful lack of it directed toward autodom's child of Stentor: the horn.

Authorities tell us that honks puncture the purlieus of Broadway and Forty-second, New York City, 43 to the minute—yet that 97 per cent of all New York's horn blasts are unnecessary—mere faucous gestures at passersby or fellow motorists, prompted by nothing more than a show-off complex. And if it's like that in Manhattan, you can reasonably bet your own horn button it's not very different in Chicago.

Far better, however, is the status tootis in foreign climes. Toot your horn in Imperial Rome, and you're $2.50 per toot poorer, with worse to follow, if fines seem to be no object. Likewise in Bucharest, Bombay, Havana—no tooting, please! And should you be careless about pleasing, life can become very unpleasant for you.

Much more than a facetious note needs sounding on this matter of irresponsible, inconsiderate, anytime-any-place horn blowing. No driver worthy the name or the post at his steering wheel, needs to use his horn often if he makes merely sensible use of clutch, brake, steering wheel, and accelerator. Watch the taxi ace, as he needles through the cosmopolitan maze of cabs, buses, trucks, bicycles and street cars. Little honking there! Quiz the test drivers for our big auto makers: they'll tell you that the finesse of good driving is to proceed swiftly, yet surely, in any situation to any destination, with rare benefit of horn button.

Solve this dilemma of the horn, and more orderly traffic, more tranquil foot travel, more safety, economy and satisfaction will appear on America's streets, as the shattering blasts of the Driving Tooter disappear from them.

MINTON PLAINT AGAINST G. O. P. IS BOOMERANG

WPA Tampering Charge Proves Unfounded.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 26.—[Special.]—The senate campaign expenditures committee revealed today that Senator Sherman Minton, [D., Ind.], a member of the McNutt machine and beneficiary of the 2 per cent club, which levies that amount upon the pay of all state employés, had complained that Republicans were seeking to influence WPA relief workers.

Although amazed by the paradoxical circumstance that Minton should complain about Republican tampering with the WPA, the senate committee duly investigated the charges, and the result thereof was a slap at Minton.

The committee, controlled by Democrats, issued a statement saying Minton had complained that a representative of the Republican county committee of Clay county had sent letters to WPA workers embodying "a criticism of the WPA."

Finds Nothing Illegal.

"The committee has examined the letters and finds nothing illegal in either a candidate or a political organization sending letters in criticism of the operation of WPA any more than they would if a candidate or political organization sent letters in commendation of the WPA and its activities," said the committee's announcement.

Minton also complained that Republican workers had solicited WPA workers to vote the Republican ticket.

"The investigators visited the parties named in the complaint and were informed by the supervisor of the WPA, who was a Democrat, that he knew of no such practice," said the committee announcement. "The Democratic chairman of the county also stated that he knew of no such practice."

Taft Is Exonerated.

The committee exonerated Robert A. Taft, Republican nominee for the senate in Ohio, as to charges so far investigated concerning expenditures allegedly unreported. An audit disclosed that all receipts and expenditures had been reported.

On the other hand, the committee found that there had been violations of the criminal code of the United States in contributions by federal employés to the campaign of Senator Robert J. Bulkley, Mr. Taft's Democratic opponent. It was found that approximately 50 federal employés made contributions to the Bulkley campaign committee in violation of the law which prohibits contributions by persons receiving compensation from the government for the benefit of a member of congress.

Chairman Morris Sheppard, [D., Tex.] said the committee had not had time to ascertain whether Senator Bulkley knew of these illegal contributions.

Solicited in Wisconsin.

The committee also found that federal employés in Wisconsin were solicited for contributions by the Duffy-for-Senator committee and that some federal employés did contribute unlawfully to the campaign of Senator F. Ryan Duffy, a yes-man Democrat. The committee found, however, that Senator Duffy did not sign the letter soliciting the funds and that when he learned of it he repudiated it.

The committee previously found that such a letter sent to thousands of federal employés and WPA workers in Pennsylvania and bearing the signature of Senator Joseph F. Guffey, another 100 per center, violated the criminal code. Today the committee announced that the letter was drafted by Edward N. Jones, vice chairman of the Pennsylvania state Democratic committee, who swore that he did not know the letter constituted a violation of law and had discontinued the practice. The committee found no evidence that Guffey authorized the signature.

Pensioners Contribute.

In California the committee's investigators found that some old age pensioners, paid in part with federal funds, had contributed to the fund being raised by the "$30 every Thursday" pension scheme promoters.

The committee found that these contributions benefited Sheridan Downey, advocate of the "ham and eggs" scheme and the Democratic nominee for the senate.

The committee announced that it would resume its investigation of charges made by A. H. Greening, state's attorney at Springfield, Ill., that huge sums of money collected by unfair means, including contributions from pay rollers paid from federal aid road funds, were expended during the Illinois primary.

RELEASE YOUNG AUTO JOYRIDERS.

Seven boys of high school age, seized while joyriding in a stolen automobile Tuesday night on south side streets, were released yesterday. The owner, W. F. Superior, 8044 Drexel avenue, an accountant, refused to prosecute.

Granted Divorce

[TRIBUNE Photo.]

Mrs. Hope Kaufman Smith, who won divorce, being kissed in court by her mother, Mrs. Harry L. Kaufman.

Mrs. Hope Hamilton Kaufman Smith, a June bride, won a divorce from Gordon Raymond Smith yesterday. Mrs. Smith, who is 21 years old, is the daughter of Harry L. Kaufman of the Congress hotel, president of the Congress Hotel company.

Six weeks after the wedding, Mrs. Smith told Judge Robert C. O'Connell, Smith slapped her. A few nights later he found her in bed when he returned from a night club, she said, and bruised her eye and her arm. Her parents then asked him to leave their summer home at Marquette, Mich., where the newlyweds were staying. Mrs. Smith's attorney, Samuel A. Rinella, told the judge an out of court settlement had been made. Smith, who lives in Detroit, was not in court but was represented by Attorney Bowen E. Schumacher.

Admits Theft Guilt; Freed on Plea of Claustrophobia

Salinas, Cal., Oct. 26. — (AP) — Dr. Jaime de Angulo, 54 years old, pleaded guilty to grand theft today but argued that claustrophobia—a morbid dread of being in closed rooms or narrow places — made jail confinement hazardous for him. The court granted his plea for probation on a one year sentence.

OUST MANAGERS OF TWO RELIEF FOOD STATIONS

Lyons Orders Audit Made at Warehouses.

Warehouse superintendents for the Illinois Emergency Relief commission in Chicago and in East St. Louis have been suspended from their duties, it was learned yesterday. Thousands of dollars' worth of foodstuffs sent out by the Federal Surplus Commodities corporation [FSCC] for distribution to reliefers pass through the warehouses each month.

Leo M. Lyons, executive secretary of the IERC, admitted the two men were no longer at work. He said an audit is being made of the two warehouses, but refused to give his reason for removing the men.

Refuses to Discuss Dismissal.

Edward F. Powers, 11610 Hale avenue, was in charge of the warehouse here. He refused to discuss his dismissal. Edward Roach was in charge of the East St. Louis warehouse, which is subsidiary to the one here.

Louis P. Zerweck, state's attorney of St. Clair county, in which East St. Louis is located, said IERC officials discussed Roach's case with him, but that the irregularities they brought to his attention were trivial.

Plans to Bolster Prices.

The FSCC buys foodstuffs in the open market as part of the Roosevelt administration plan to bolster prices of farm products. The foodstuffs are then distributed to reliefers through the IERC in this state.

The commodities are shipped to the warehouses in bulk or in large containers such as barrels, crates, and sacks. At the warehouses the foods are divided into smaller packages for distribution to reliefers. Any revenue derived from the sale of the original containers is supposed to be returned to the IERC.

AUTO DEATHS HELD ACCIDENT.

A verdict of accidental death was returned by a coroner's jury yesterday at the inquest over Joseph Radlow of New York and W. Smith of Winnipeg, Canada, who were killed Oct. 12 when their car was hit by a locomotive at the 162d street crossing in Calumet City.

Dewey Confident He'll Defeat Lehman, End Democrats' Rule

BY WILLIAM FULTON.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Oct. 26.—[Special.]—District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey, Republican nominee for governor, predicted tonight that the political monopoly of the Democratic machine and its racketeering allies would be ended at the polls on Nov. 8. The G. O. P. standard bearer was full of confidence that he would defeat Gov. Herbert H. Lehman for reëlection.

Speaking at the Nassau county fairgrounds in Mineola, Dewey told the throngs who came to hear him that Gov. Lehman was avoiding an explanation of why he accepted support and votes from the underworld, the true story of his budget balancing, and other issues upon which the public deserved enlightenment.

Debt Paid on Paper.

Gov. Lehman's highly advertised budget balancing and the payment of a 97 million dollar deficit he inherited from Roosevelt's régime as governor were accomplished by bookkeeping, said Dewey.

"No discussion of the state budget is complete without pointing out that the state is now in debt to the tune of $541,000,000—more than ever before in history—almost $200,000,000 more than when the present state administration took office," said Dewey. "Under the present state administration the total taxes collected annually from the people have increased by 77 per cent."

Crowd Greets Dewey.

Three thousand persons greeted Dewey in the Grand Central station this morning when he returned from Albany, where he lit into corruption in the local Democratic organization, vote frauds, and assessment cuts for politicians.

James A. Farley, Democratic national chairman and New York state chairman, issued his third attack on Dewey in as many days. Showing the fear of the Democrats over Dewey's vigorous campaign and the possibility they may lose their sixteen year hold on the state, Farley is devoting nearly all his time and efforts to the state campaign.

Laugh at Farley Charge.

Farley said Dewey was taking credit for driving racketeers out of New York City that was not due him. He referred to a statement by Dewey in Albany that ten public enemies listed in 1935 were either in prison, dead, or fugitives from the city. According to Farley, Dewey was responsible for ridding the city of only one, Lucky Luciano, the vice king, whom the prosecutor sent to the penitentiary.

Dewey supporters laughed at Farley and recalled that Dewey had not taken full credit for the eradication of the public enemies and that the big boss of the Democratic party had twisted the meaning to suit his purpose.

Dewey convicted seventy-two out of seventy-three racketeers as a special prosecutor before being elected district attorney last fall.

Arrest Chauffeur with $200,000 Missing Jewels

New York, Oct. 27 [Thursday].—[Special.]—Solution of the $200,000 jewel theft from Mr. and Mrs. Edward N. Townsend Jr. came at 2 a. m. today when police trapped the wealthy couple's missing chauffeur with most of the gems in a Manhattan rooming house. The authorities refused to reveal any of the details of the arrest of the chauffeur, George Fleming, 38 years old. The arrest climaxed a search of night clubs, hotels, and underworld resorts for the chauffeur and a mysterious male companion since the theft of the gems was discovered late Tuesday. Yesterday the Townsend limousine and a $2,000 ring were found.

Donnell Brown of Woodstock was ordered yesterday to surrender the keys of his shiny new car to the McHenry county Circuit court bailif. Judge William L. Pierce said that should solve the problems of Brown's ex-wife, Mrs. Jane Doris Brown of Crystal Lake. She said Brown spends so much time on his car that he can't pay her alimony.

HELP STOMACH DIGEST FOOD

Without Laxatives—and You'll Eat Everything from Soup to Nuts

The stomach should digest two pounds of food daily. When you eat heavy, greasy, coarse or rich foods or when you are nervous, hurried or chew poorly—your stomach pours out too much fluid. Your food doesn't digest and you have gas, heartburn, nausea, pain or sour stomach. You feel sour, sick and upset all over.

Doctors say never take a laxative for stomach pain. It is dangerous and foolish. It takes those little black tablets called Bell-ans for Indigestion to make the excess stomach fluids harmless, relieve distress in 5 minutes and put you back on your feet. Relief is so quick it is amazing and one 25c package proves it. Ask for Bell-ans for Indigestion.

NEURITIS-NEURALGIA

Many Muscular Pains

Scientists have recently proven that many conditions of nerve-upset such as neuralgia, neuritis, and many muscular aches and pains are due to lack of certain vital food substances, which, when taken by the sufferer, give amazing relief. Neural-Aid, an inexpensive, DRUGLESS preparation, contains these all-important food elements. Sufferers who clip this ad and bring it in can obtain a FREE SAMPLE of Neural-Aid and full information.

U. S. TO PROTECT ITS HEMISPHERE, SAYS ROOSEVELT

Nations Abroad Warned Not to Interfere.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 26.—(AP)—President Roosevelt, in a virtually unprecedented condemnation of nations which suppress liberty, persecute Jews, and use threats of war to attain national ends, issued a warning tonight that the United States would protect the western hemisphere from interference from abroad.

Speaking by radio from the Oval room of the White House, Mr. Roosevelt added: "And we affirm our faith that, whatever choice of way of life a people makes, that choice must not threaten the world with the disaster of war."

"The impact of such a disaster cannot be confined," he continued. "It releases a flood tide of evil emotions fatal to civilized living. That statement applies not to the western hemisphere alone but to the whole of Europe and Asia and Africa and the islands of the seas."

Meets Arms Challenge.

The President declared that until foreign nations give the United States something more than mere verbal assurances that they desire disarmament—until disarmament discussions are actually started—this country must arm "to meet with success any application of force against us."

Without mentioning directly the recent war crisis which led to the settlement at Munich, Mr. Roosevelt asserted:

"It is becoming increasingly clear that peace by fear has no higher or more enduring quality than peace by the sword.

"There can be no peace if the reign of law is to be replaced by a recurrent sanctification of sheer force.

"There can be no peace if national policy adopts as a deliberate instrument the threat of war."

Lashes at Persecutions.

Without mentioning the measures adopted against Jews by Germany and Italy, he said:

"There can be no peace if national policy adopts as a deliberate instrument the dispersion all over the world of millions of helpless and persecuted wanderers with no place to lay their heads."

And on the subject of liberty of thought and expression, he said:

"There can be no peace if humble men and women are not free to think their own thoughts, to express their own feelings, to worship God."

Deploring armaments competition which "heighten the suspicions and fears and threaten the economic prosperity" of every nation, he called for the adoption of a "good neighbor" policy under which needed political changes "shall be made peacefully."

Defines U. S. Attitude.

He declared the United States does not seek to impose its form of government on any other nation, "but we are determined to maintain and protect that way of life and that form of government for ourselves."

"And we are determined," he added, "to use every endeavor in order that the western hemisphere may work out its own interrelated salvation in the light of its own interrelated experience."

In closing Mr. Roosevelt said: "Let us work with greater unity for peace among the nations of the world, for restraint, for negotiation, and for community of effort. Let us work for the same ideals within our own borders in our relations with each other, so that we may, if the test ever comes, have that unity of will with which alone a democracy can successfully meet its enemies."

HALIFAX URGES U. S. CO-OPERATE IN PEACE MOVES

Cites Roosevelt's Entry in Czech Crisis.

LONDON, Oct. 26.—(AP)—Viscount Halifax, the British foreign minister, in a speech broadcast exclusively to the United States, tonight asked for American coöperation with Britain in establishing world peace.

He spoke of the crisis last month over Czechoslovakia and President Roosevelt's contribution in appeals for peace to Adolf Hitler and President Eduard Benes of Czechoslovakia, a contribution which he said was as "valuable as it was welcome."

"Most deeply do we appreciate what the President and Cordell Hull [secretary of state] have done and will, I am sure, continue to do in the cause of peace," he said.

Attitudes Called Similar.

Referring to the United States neutrality legislation, he said: "We do not question the motives which inspired your neutrality legislation, and no one on this side expects you to do anything which we have the sense to know to be impossible, but we noted you followed with acute interest the events in Europe. There is little real difference in the attitude of the average man and woman in Britain and America regarding the turbulent currents sweeping Europe."

Pointing to the already close associations between the two peoples, Lord Halifax said there was a mutual desire for true peace based upon agreement "that law and not force shall rule the world."

"The only foundation for such a peace is understanding, and the first stage on that road is that nations who share the same ideals should be prepared to think together," he said.

Cites Nations' Responsibilities.

"For countries like yours and mine, which have been so favored in the past by history and circumstance, there is a heavy responsibility to use all our energy to guide our fellow men toward a future which may serve us all."

Lord Halifax said Britain understood the United States' desire "not to be caught up in disputes and controversies which are far from your shores and which do not seem to touch you directly."

"We know," he added, "that with your own deep-rooted belief in liberty you must have watched with deep concern, not less than our own, the influence that these events might exercise upon the rights of man which you and we both base upon the ultimate and eternal value of individual lives."

In a speech in London earlier today David Lloyd George, Britain's wartime premier, said England was headed for "a war without friends" as a result of the Munich pact, which resulted in the dismemberment of Czechoslovakia.

"We are not even ready to defend ourselves," he said, "let alone rescue others. I tell you what we shall find. We shall have forfeited honor, we shall have lost the respect of the world, and, what is worse, we shall have lost our self respect."

BRITISH CABINET AGREES ON ACTION IN ITALIAN PACT

LONDON, Oct. 26.—(AP)—The British cabinet tonight was reported to have agreed to put the Anglo-Italian pact into operation.

Reliable sources said they understood the cabinet had decided that the agreement, sealing the friendship of Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain with Premier Mussolini, would go into force between Nov. 15 and Nov. 30 after the new session of parliament, convening Nov. 1, has had time to debate it.

[The pact was signed provisionally last April 16. In it Italy promised to withdraw its volunteers from Spain upon "settlement" of the Spanish civil war, to reduce its troops in Libya to peacetime strength, and abide by the London naval treaty of 1936, which limited the size of warships. Both reaffirmed the guarantee permitting all nations to use the Suez canal and promised not to attempt to change the status quo in the Mediterranean and Red seas.]

The decision on the pact was viewed as a further step toward European appeasement.

BRITISH RULERS PLAN VISIT TO QUINTUPLETS DURING CANADIAN TRIP

OTTAWA, Oct. 26.—(AP)—Proposals for the first meeting ever held of the dominion's complete privy council and a call upon the Dionne quintuplets are under consideration for the itinerary of King George VI. of Great Britain next summer.

The king also is understood to be considering a trip of several days into the United States.

The royal party will spend three weeks in Canada.

U. S. NAVY POWER MUST BE UPHELD, SAYS ROOSEVELT

Washington, D. C., Oct. 26.—(AP)—President Roosevelt said today, on the eve of the annual observance of Navy day, that the nation's sea power must be adequate "to insure positive protection against any aggressor."

In an annual letter to the secretary of navy, which assumed special significance in view of the administration's program to reënforce land, sea, and air defenses, Mr. Roosevelt declared: "The fleet must be ready."

Saying it is a matter for rejoicing that the United States is at peace with the world, the President added: "But within the past year unsettled world conditions have made it imperative that we take stock of our national defense and face the facts. I believe it entirely consistent with our continuing readiness to limit armaments by agreement that we maintain an efficient navy adequate in men and material to insure positive protection against any aggressor."

Now is profit planning time

This is the planning season for sales and advertising men. It is the time of year when planning boards and strategy committees discuss and decide what shall be done next year to hold and increase business. Questions are sharp and to the point—are we getting the most out of our sales and advertising appropriation? Can we do a better job next year?

It is a good season to re-examine the fundamentals of advertising and of markets. Look at New York, for instance, with a cold and appraising eye. Do you know where your advertising does the most good here? Do you know how a re-direction of your advertising pressure may realize a greater profit-potential?

We answer your questions

For over a year now, The New York Times Market Research Department has applied itself to answering these questions. Its findings may help you, as they are helping many other sales, advertising and management executives, in planning a more profitable selling operation in New York.

Studying retail sales of dozens of different products—chiefly in the grocery and drug store fields—our Market Research Department has discovered that a single, fundamental principle underlies the marketing of a wide variety of advertised products in New York.

Simply stated, that principle is this: that advertised products, regardless of kind or price, sell with greatest velocity in outlets serving above-average-income families.

More profit to you

Corollary to this is the finding that there are enough above-average-income families in New York to comprise a major volume market. Because selling this market entails a more economical operation (distribution is higher, stores are fewer, sales per store are greater) it is the most profitable volume market available.

A specific example of what this means for the advertiser is this: 80% of the total sale of the four best-selling toothpastes in New York City is made among 54% of the families—those in the high- and medium-income groups.

Conducting a somewhat different investigation, the U. S. Department of Labor (in its recently published Consumer Purchase Survey) provides important corroboration for our Market Research Department's conclusion. The Consumer Purchase Survey, available for New York as well as a number of other cities over the country, gives a detailed picture of family expenditure by income groups. It shows that markets improve for advertisers as the income of the families comprising them improves. For instance, 70% of the total expenditure made by New York City families is made by one-half the families—the families that make up the upper income half.

The families you want

When they begin to give these principles practical application, many advertisers will see that they differ sharply from one line of thinking that has become rather widespread in advertising circles. They will see that advertising is not necessarily marked for success merely because it reaches a large number of families. It must, rather, to be fully profitable, reach families plus purchasing power.

Before you make up the final draft of your selling plans for this market next year, why not let us supply you with the market facts which should help multiply the effectiveness and reduce the cost of your New York operations? The specific data in our Research Department files is sufficiently comprehensive to be of material assistance in drawing up advertising plans for almost any staple product. Write us today. This coupon is easy to use.

Don't Be Fooled About Constipation!

Many people, when constipation hits them, just reach for the medicine shelf, dose up with a physic, and try to forget it—till the trouble comes back. And come back it usually does—more and more often—till you get at its cause.

If you eat what most people do—just bread, meat, potatoes—chances are just this fact causes your trouble: lack of "bulk." And "bulk" doesn't mean a lot of food. It's a kind of food that isn't consumed in the body, but leaves a soft "bulky" mass in the intestines and aids elimination.

If that's the reason for your trouble, what you need is a good dish of crunchy Kellogg's All-Bran for breakfast. It contains the "bulk" you need plus Nature's great intestinal tonic, vitamin B_1.

Eat it every day, drink plenty of water, and join the "regulars." Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Flush Kidneys of Acid and Poisons

Gain in Health and Stop Getting Up Nights

When kidneys are clogged they become weak—the bladder is irritated—often passage is scanty and smarts and burns—sleep is restless and nightly visits to the bathroom are frequent.

The right safe harmless and inexpensive way to stop this trouble and restore healthy action to kidneys and bladder is to get from any druggist a 35-cent box of Gold Medal Haarlem Oil Capsules and take as directed—you won't be disappointed.

'SILLY!' MERRY SAYS OF RULING VOIDING DIVORCE

"Ridiculous!"

That's what Merry Fahrney Cassini thinks about the ruling of the Illinois Appellate court yesterday that her fourth husband is one husband too many. She spoke her mind in New York, where Merry, known as the madcap marrying patent medicine heiress, has been living with No. 4.

And, Merry added, she'll arrive in Chicago by plane tomorrow to upset the decision that upset her apple cart. Informed that the Appellate court justices said her case illustrated the need of cleaning up the divorce business, she demanded:

"Why do they have to start cleaning up those things with me?"

She Loves No. 4.

Her attorney, Frank Cantwell, said Merry is so much in love with her fourth husband, Count Oleg Cassini, that she'll carry the whole thing to the United States Supreme court if necessary.

The Appellate court ruling was that Merry's divorce from No. 3, Baron Arturo Berlingieri of Italy, is void. The baron appealed the divorce, which was granted by Judge John Prystalski last Feb. 4. Although the appeal was still pending, Merry eloped Sept. 2 with Count Cassini, a dress designer from Russia. In 1934 she won an annulment of her marriage to Frank Van Sands Eiszner. In 1933 she divorced Hugh Parker-Pickering, father of her son, who is 6 years old.

Among the reasons the Appellate court mentioned for voiding the divorce were: Merry doesn't live here any more and so isn't entitled to a Chicago divorce; the baron doesn't either; if he were cruel, as she charged, he wasn't very; that the cruelty didn't occur in California, as she said, and that she didn't seem to mind anyway.

Separate Room Defense Vague.

Moreover, the court found, Merry was too vague on her reasons for the separate room she always insisted the baron occupy; she gave no indication of wifely devotion, and she never denied that she told him he mustn't mind her calling other men "Darling," and "Honey."

Merry's attorney emphasized that if the Appellate court did hold Merry had an extra husband, it didn't even intimate she was a bigamist. He said he talked to her on the telephone and told her to go right on living with No. 4.

Merry was meanwhile announcing in New York that she meant to. Asked if she would take back the baron and if she would give up the count, she answered "Certainly not!" twice.

Her lawyer said he would ask the Appellate court today to grant a new hearing, although the three justices were unanimous in ruling against Merry. If the new hearing is denied, he said, he expects to ask permission to appeal to the Illinois Supreme court. Permission in such cases is usually granted.

Delay Is Indicated.

If the Appellate court permits the appeal, Cantwell said he would have forty days in which to prepare a brief to the Supreme court. In case it decides to review the case, action might be expected next spring.

Legal authorities said that if the divorce is finally upset the present marriage will automatically be annulled.

Husband No. 3 originally asked that the divorce suit be dismissed because Merry, as the wife of an Italian, could not claim Illinois as a residence. There was some speculation last night that Merry might have to go to Italy to divorce him.

The Appellate court ruling, written by Justice Denis E. Sullivan and concurred in by Presiding Justice Ross C. Hall and Justice Oscar Hebel, said, "The obtaining and granting of divorces has almost become an industry."

Suggest Means to Ban Fraud.

The justices suggested appointment of a proctor to investigate the facts in divorce cases for the prevention of fraud.

Grover C. Niemeyer, chief justice of the Superior court, commented:

"It is generally admitted that many divorces are fraudulent. Any effective means to detect fraud should be welcome."

William V. Brothers, chief justice of the Circuit court, said:

"I am heartily in favor of anything to give the trial court the assistance of impartial investigation by a proctor or other responsible officer of the court."

VOTE TO INDICT WIFE IN SHOOTING OF HER HUSBAND

Mrs. Ruth Moran, 26 years old, who shot her husband, Glenn, also 26, on Sept. 27 during a quarrel over their children, was reported named yesterday by the grand jury in a true bill charging assault to commit murder. Previously Judge Matthew D. Hartigan in the Felony court had ignored Moran's plea that he did not wish to prosecute. The case had been continued from a previous hearing when Moran had declined to prosecute, then abruptly left the court after his wife taunted him.

He insisted that the shooting was the result of the quarrel over the children, but because Mrs. Moran, who lives at 517 North Wood street, has admitted being friendly with another man, Judge Hartigan stated he did not believe Moran was telling the whole truth.

"Your wishes have no weight with this court," he told the husband, ordering that Mrs. Moran be held.

Gets 15 Day Jail Term for Newspaper Thefts

After pleading guilty to stealing bundles of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE from street corners, Mike Guide, 22 years old, of 2611 North Sawyer avenue, was sentenced yesterday to 15 days in the Bridewell. A TRIBUNE employé who witnessed one of the thefts took the license number of Guide's car and the Shakespeare avenue police traced him. Judge N. J. Bonelli passed sentence.

CITY APPROVES $800,000 FUND TO EXPAND AIRPORT

Aldermen Assail Railroad for Delaying Action.

BY WAYNE THOMIS.

The city council yesterday passed the long awaited ordinance providing for expenditure of $800,000 to give Chicago an airport of adequate size at 63d street and Cicero avenue. The measure provides for removal of the Chicago and Western Indiana railroad tracks from the flying field to a new site to be purchased by the city.

The council's action was taken despite a request by J. R. Barse, general counsel for the C. & W. I., that the measure be held up until the Bankers' Trust Company of New York had completed an examination of the ordinance provisions.

Trustee Must Approve Plan.

The trust company is the trustee of the railroad's mortgage bonds and must approve the ordinance before it becomes a contract between the city and the railroad. A copy of the ordinance has been in the hands of the trustee for eight days but approval of the ordinance form has not been received.

Although only two votes out of forty were registered in opposition to the airport measure, considerable discussion was provoked prior to the roll call at the council meeting.

"I'm in favor of a large airport for Chicago," said Ald. James J. McDermott [14th], "but the airport should not burden the corporate fund. We are paying $100,000 annually to keep up the airport, and I believe the council should exact from the air transport companies compensation to make up this cost. An enlarged airport probably will increase expenses 50 to 75 per cent."

Meet to Discuss Costs.

"We're going to hold a meeting very soon to take up the matter of fees to meet expenses," replied Ald. Bryan Hartnett [12th], chairman of the council airport committee. "But an enlarged airport won't increase expenses by any such amount as 50 to 75 per cent. The same ground crew, the same control tower crew will operate the larger field as it did the smaller. All we're doing now is lengthening the runways."

"Well, as for the railroad I hold no brief for it," growled McDermott. "I remember the trouble we've had with the C. & W. I. We couldn't get them out of Plymouth court, once we let them in."

"Ald. McDermott," interjected Mayor Kelly, "would you hold up the development of air transport because you don't like the railroad or because the city doesn't get money out of the airport?

Kelly Defends Action.

"Chicago is a progressive city. We should appreciate the meaning of air transportation—the air transportation of the future. The railroad is getting from us only that to which it is entitled."

"Of course," said Ald. Joseph C. Ross [40th], "the ultimate place for an airport is on the lake shore in Chicago's front yard, but for the present the airport on the southwest side should be improved as much as possible in order to benefit the city and air commerce. Later, with the help of our mayor, we hope to be able to build an airport close to Chicago's heart!"

LAWYERS TAUNT LEITER HEIR FOR IGNORANCE PLEA

Smarter Than He Claims to Be, They Say.

Attorneys for the Continental Illinois National Bank and Trust company yesterday examined Colin Campbell, grandson of the late Levi Z. Leiter, pioneer Chicago merchant, in an effort to prove he was smarter than he claimed to be. Campbell, who is 31 years old, maintained steadily that he was a very ignorant young man when he was seeking information from company officials, trustees of the estate of his grandmother, Mrs. Mary T. Leiter.

Campbell and four other heirs of the estate are plaintifs in an accounting suit being heard before Master in Chancery Harold L. Sullivan. The heirs contend that the bank concealed matters concerning the estate.

Statements Mean Little to Him.

Campbell testified that he got quarterly statements from the bank and kept a longhand record, but the statements meant little to him. The record he kept therefore was worth nothing, he said.

"He takes refuge in his own ignorance," said Attorney Robert Hanley for the bank, when Attorneys Denis E Sullivan Jr. and Edmond Sullivan, representing the beneficiaries, objected to questions. "I have a right therefore to question him on that ignorance."

"Here is a young man," replied Attorney Edmond Sullivan, "who through good fortune was not compelled to enter the business world at 21, and who is handed a statement and can't understand it."

"We'd like to know what he did," said Attorney Emmett McCarthy, for the bank. "He went to Harvard. If he didn't know what he was doing then, maybe he doesn't now. He can't remember anything he said last week on the stand. Maybe we'd better have him see a psychiatrist."

Ask Remark Be Stricken.

This amused Mr. Campbell, apparently, although attorneys seriously asked the remark be stricken from the record, which was done. Attorney Hanley went on:

Q.—Do you want us to understand you were entirely ignorant of the securities in trust? A.—I knew very little about them. I asked one of the trustees to differentiate between a state bond and a government bond, and things like that. I had a large ignorance of the matter of securities.

Q.—Will you explain just what knowledge you did not have that kept you from keeping an accurate record of these investments? A.—If you don't know anything, it is hard to explain what you don't know.

Q.—What specific knowledge did you require? A.—That is hard to answer categorically.

Q.—What do you mean categorically? A.—I mean it is hard to know about bonds and securities, what makes them go, why they are good or bad.

NAVY DAY.

Today the nation will celebrate Navy day. American citizens are not likely to take the occasion as lightly as they have done perhaps in the past, an occasion for some sentimental flag waving and toasts to John Paul Jones, to Perry, to Farragut, and Dewey. The American people have always been proud of their navy with good reason, but in the state of the world today graver thoughts and emotions must enter into the occasion. We have just emerged from a crisis in world affairs from the consequences of which, had they brought war in the complicated relations of the great powers of Europe, would in all human probability eventually have involved us not merely economically but also in the actual military conflict. We are aware, too, of the progress in the far east of epoch making events which no one is so blind as not to see must affect our security and our material interests, immediately perhaps and most certainly in the future.

In these circumstances we realize that the possession of sea power, which has so often determined the rise and fall of nations, becomes a consideration of the first rank. The navy is not only our first line of defense but a factor of prime importance in the management of our relations with every other nation. The organized pacifism which has resisted the development of our naval strength and the easy optimism which has neglected and retarded it now sing very low. The dictatorships have seen to that. In the past history of the United States we have never been ready for the ordeal of war, but war conditions, moving with a violence which impresses the dullest imagination, no longer permit indifference or smug postponement. There has never been a time when the American people has been more awake to the importance of our naval policy or more willing to make adequate provision for its support.

We hope and believe that the American people today are more conscious than hitherto that our naval establishment has not been developed in step with our expanding responsibilities in a swiftly changing world. It is well to celebrate the American navy and cherish confidence in its ability to meet any situation it is called upon to confront with courage, ability, and devotion. But it is more important to understand its obligations and to see to it that it is provided fully with the means to meet them. Our naval establishment needs more ships and more men and more bases for efficient operations wherever its responsibilities lie.

We have neglected the acquisition of bases too long, although they are a first rate factor of naval power. The possession by foreign powers of bases within easy striking distances of our shores, in fact of the most populous and richest region of the country, should not be longer ignored. Bermuda, Nassau, and the Windward and Leeward Islands are a base for attack and invasion which would have to be taken at once in case of our involvement in war in the Atlantic. They face our main front and are on the flank of the canal and of any operations for the defense of our obligations in the western hemisphere. They should be in our hands, not in the control and at the use of any foreign power. We are in a position to correct this weakness in our defenses by timely negotiation, and it should no longer be postponed.

THE ILLINOIS WATERWAY.

The railroads complain that only a part of the population of the United States is served by the inland waterway system of the Mississippi and its tributaries, while the cost of construction is borne unfairly by the taxpayers of the entire country. But, one might inquire, why bring that up when, in these days of changing ideas of fundamentals, the taxpayers of Maine are required to help pay for a water supply system for the city of Los Angeles and those of California are asked to pay for a Passamaquoddy power project for the citizens of Maine? We mention it merely to bring out the fact that in the development of the Illinois waterway, from Grafton to Chicago, the taxpayers of Illinois have paid for 80 per cent of it out of their own pockets.

They, therefore, cannot be criticized much for taking some satisfaction in the signs of animation that are becoming evident in the trafic on the waterway. In 1935 a million and a half tons of freight were handled; in 1936, two million; in 1937, three and a half million, in round figures, and in 1938 there will be an increase to close to four and a half million tons. Of this freight there were shipped into and out of Chicago eight hundred thousand tons in 1935, one million in 1936, two million in 1937, and there will be close to three million in 1938. These figures do not include the sand brought in from Lake Michigan nor the lighterage trafic on the Chicago river. The bulk of this trafic is sand, gravel and stone, coal, petroleum products, and grain. The value of all the trafic handled in 1937 exceeded sixty-five million dollars. The large increase in tonnage this year is due chiefly to the increase in shipments of coal and grain. It is interesting to note that approximately twenty thousand tons of this coal came all the way from West Virginia by barge.

Shippers are beginning to realize the vast possibilities of the waterway and will without doubt make themselves heard effectively in the war department when the fifteen hundred second feet diversion limitation is finally made effective by the Taft decision.

MR. ROOSEVELT ON THE DEFENSIVE.

Mr. Roosevelt, on the defensive for the first time all along the line, does not like what the Dies committee has been doing. It was set up by congress for a vacation job of investigating anti-American activities. Mr. Dies is a Texas Democrat. The committee is not governed by its Republican members. Congress gave it an inadequate appropriation but suggested that the departments of government would help it. They haven't.

The committee has listened to witnesses from many sections of the country telling what they knew of Nazi, Fascist, and communist activities in the United States. Only the communists have been directly linked with federal and state governments and with radical and revolutionary labor movements, particularly in the C. I. O. Mr. Roosevelt was particularly disturbed by testimony relating to Gov. Frank Murphy of Michigan. Therefore he said that Judge Paul V. Gadola of the Circuit court of Flint was a disgruntled Republican judge, that John M. Barringer, city manager and director of public safety of Flint at the time of the riots in 1937, was a discharged Republican city official, that Police Captain Edwin Hughes of Flint was one of the officious and biased police officers who were permitted to make lurid charges against the governor without any attempt to disclose how prejudiced they were.

Judge Gadola saw the Michigan state troops under Gov. Murphy prevent the service of writs he had issued to enforce law in Flint, and the city manager and the police officers were stopped in their attempt to perform their duties. Gov. Murphy himself was alarmed by what happened at another Michigan city, Lansing, in the riot which was called a labor holiday and said the communists were responsible for it. The communists are now supporting him for reëlection. They have joined Mr. Roosevelt in this campaign.

Gov. Murphy used the state troops to protect the communist led strikers in the seizure of property, knowing that he had the approval of Mr. Roosevelt and the coöperation of the federal labor department, the postoffice department, and the attorney general. Mr. Roosevelt approved it then, and now that Mr. Murphy is in trouble the White House vindicates him again. Mr. Roosevelt couldn't be ignorant of the state of affairs in Michigan. Homer Martin, president of the Automobile Workers' union, has been fighting the communist control for over a year. John Lewis has supported the communists and replaced them in office. Lewis bought Mr. Roosevelt and Gov. Murphy with $500,000 of the miners' money. He stands by the communists. They want industrial war.

Mr. Roosevelt upholds the revolutionaries, defends Murphy, impeaches the law enforcement officers, and impugns the motives of a Democratic congressional committee. He has to discredit Homer Martin, to belittle the purpose and efforts of officials of the American Legion, and to speak contemptuously of judges. To support his conclusions he must expunge the whole record and then try to explain why the slogan "For Roosevelt and the New Deal" is at the masthead of the communist party.

There is another Democratic committee, headed by Senator Sheppard, which has been uncovering the criminal use of federal relief agencies such as the WPA. Mr. Roosevelt may soon give his opinion of this committee. On the defensive, he must try to put a good face on the Chavez relations in New Mexico, on Hines in New York, on Earle and Guffey in Pennsylvania, on Quinn in Rhode Island, on Benson in Minnesota. He left them and others out of the purge.

A DECLARATION OF AMERICANISM.

Beloit college is one of those educational institutions we call small. But collectively and qualitatively the small college is not small. Many of the small colleges, although they cannot do work the large universities are accomplishing in research, are producing a quality of general and basic education of prime value in the private and public life of the nation and its people.

Among these smaller colleges Beloit occupies an honorable place. The mettle of Beloit is well shown by resolutions passed the other day by its board of trustees. They are brief but significant and we are glad to present them to Tribune readers, as follows:

"In an attempt to phrase the meaning and motives of Beloit college, and to make articulate the faith and purposes of her founders to which we of today subscribe, we do hereby authorize the following as a declaration of principles:

"Tenet 1—A Christianity uncontroled by nationalism or sectarianism.

"Tenet 2—An integrity of purpose and performance steadfast against expediency or exploitation.

"Tenet 3—A tolerance of spirit that will perpetuate freedom, whether of work, worship, speech, press, or academic research.

"Tenet 4—A government by consent of the governed, constitutionally expressed."

This declaration is, we believe, indicative not only of the Americanism of Beloit but that of most of the smaller colleges of the United States, which collectively are an immense influence for the preservation of American ideals and the success of the American experiment in democracy and free institutions. It is not through these colleges that subversive ideas are filtering from the old world into American thought. On the contrary, it is there, we believe, where the main defenses of American principle are most loyally manned and made effectual through the sending forth of citizens strong in the faith and ready to battle for it.

Editorial of the Day

TO THE PERISCOPES, THEN.

[Memphis Commercial Appeal.]

Albert de Paris, who is described as an international hair stylist and sounds like he might very well be such, says that the current upswing in what are presently called "hair-do" styles will continue for at least two more years. That being the case, there is a golden chance open for any one who can and will invent, produce, and market at reasonable price a periscope for use in the movies. It is true that the average well styled hat these days looks like a pancake that has been stepped on by an elephant, but that makes no difference when the lady's crowning glory is thrust up as high as can be above the top of her head. After all you can't very well request the lady in front of you to let down her hair. The periscope appears to be the only logical hope.

"BUNN THE BAKER" ARGUMENT.

A contributor's report to the Line of the discovery of the original Bunn the Baker of Baraboo in Cincinnati in the person of W. H. Clark, a chain store executive, is challenged by several correspondents. A. D. Dorsett writes:

"Over thirty years ago there was a man named Bunn who ran a bakery in Baraboo, Wis., and for many years his wagon was a familiar sight on the streets of that city. My partner, H. E. Cole, a frequent contributor to the Line, brought Bunn to the attention of B. L. T."

"Former Resident of Baraboo" testifies:

"John Bunn is still living in Baraboo and is a janitor in one of the public schools."

Suggestion to fertile contributors who are sending their quips and verses to both the Line o' Type and the Wake of the News columns: Choose the side you are playing on and carry the ball for it with single hearted devotion. Otherwise the cheer leaders will get mixed up and the scorekeepers will go crazy. Standard Line contribs belong here; standard Wake contribs belong on the sports page. Of course these gifted and versatile folks may occasionally get inspirations in the style that prevails on the other side of the fence; and in such circumstances a change of pseudonym is in order.

A Hangover Quip.

Your recent torch-bearing for the lesser panda, honey bears and such reminds me of the crack made by the yokel at A Century of Progress. He said he didn't know which he liked the most,
Frank Buck's honey bears or the Streets of Paris' bare honeys.
Well, it was funny when I heard it.

TO A COLORATURA.

(Lucille Meusel of the San Carlo Opera company.)

Now you have lighted with a quickening spark
Our slumbering dreams to shining loveliness,
Hanging the lamp of beauty in our dark,
Filling our lives with music's power to bless.
For you whose song pours splendour all around
I make this little verse to try to tell
The happiness you bring; how I have found,
Sitting silent under the lovely spell,
Enchantment out of the past from lands afar.
Where I have wandered in my quiet dreams,
A glory lingers like a luminous star
Reflecting, in the deeps, its radiant beams.
So, surer than the alchemists of old,
Your song transmutes our dreams to living gold.

Verses for Navy Day.

This is Navy day, and republication of a set of verses called "The Laws of the Navy," by Admiral Ronald A. Hopwood, R. N. [retired], might be an appropriate observance. It happens, however, that this column, under its present administration, has a policy of abstinence from reprints and seeks to devote itself entirely to original matter, virgin to printer's ink. This statement will serve as an answer to the many correspondents who have written to the Linemaster, asking for the republication of this or that favorite poem, often something that appeared in the column years ago. "October's Bright Blue Weather," by Helen Hunt Jackson, is in heavy demand at present. During the recent European war scare there was a clamor for Alan Seeger's "Rendezvous with Death."

Admiral Hopwood's verses, written in a sound and vigorous vein of Kiplingese, are worth reading, however, by any one with a taste for naval or marine subjects. Lieutenant Commander George Dunham Lyon, United States navy recruiting station, in the federal building, can supply copies.

Scientists' Indian Summer.

As to Indian summer: About twenty or twenty-five years ago a violent altercation took place in the Line o' Type column, and when the smoke of battle cleared away something seemed to have been accomplished. Two authorities—the then head of the meteorological department of the University of Chicago and the then chief of the United States hydrographic office in Washington—agreed upon one point, namely, that Indian summer—true Indian summer—never occurred before Nov. 5 or 6. Usually it follows a period of cold, with some snow, in the latter part of October. Some years it does not occur at all. When it does occur it starts somewhere between Nov. 5 and Nov. 13 and lasts possibly from four to ten days. Any warm weather which appears early in October or in the middle of October is simply a prolonging of the summer season and is in no way to be confused with true Indian summer.

Trailing the Old Stone Men.

Referring to Hannah & Hogg's old stone men [10-18-'38]: There used to be one of them in the emporium on Lake street a few doors west of Clark, conducted by Peter Erliwein, but came prohibition and this old man was crated and shipped to Hezekiah Emerson at Temple, Tex., whose front lawn he now guards from the approach of miscreants and eavesdroppers.

John M. Shawhan.

Empire building dictators will sooner or later face a collapse because instead of the square they use the rule o' thumb. Maxellus.

Richard Atwater, the "Riquarius" frequently mentioned in reminiscences of former contributors to the Line, appears in the current book news as co-author, with Florence, his wife, of "Mr. Popper's Penguins." They planned the book together, eight or ten years ago, after seeing Admiral Byrd's first movie of Antarctica. It's a fantasy for children and their parents. "Riq's" old contribs [he was a columnist, too] should send their best wishes regarding "Mr. Popper's Penguins" to the Edward Hines hospital.

SAFEGUARDING THE DIET OF THE PROSPECTIVE MOTHER.

MUCH mystery, as well as misinformation, surrounds the diet of the prospective mother. As soon as it is established that a baby is on the way, suggestions by the score begin to pour in. "Tell Helen that she must not eat tomatoes," one will say; while another will warn against all vegetables growing above ground.

Is it any wonder that the problem of nutrition presents a puzzle to the patient? It is recognized that both the mother and the growing child must be adequately nourished. In fact, it is from her blood that the fetus takes every particle of its own substance. This is why the developing bit of new life is sometimes called a parasite. It fails to respect the physical condition of the mother or her state of strength.

Long before we knew much about calories and vitamins, women were seeking advice as to how to reduce the size of the infant and many a tragedy was enacted through a plan of starvation calculated to produce a small baby. But what was the effect? Merely to jeopardize health without influencing appreciably the weight of the tot.

But there is such a thing as taking on flesh too rapidly. The mother should gain little during the first ninety days, and probably not much more than twenty pounds altogether. There is no precaution that is more valuable than recording the actual weight on the same scales at the same time each week. For the first few months this may be done daily or every other day, and should any abrupt increase be noted the family physician should be called promptly, as it may be the first sign that water, which should be excreted, is being retained in the tissues.

The total amount of food needed will depend largely upon activity. If we grant that the patient exercises, as is her custom, during the first third of the interval, the usual standard diet, if well balanced, will be adequate. But as she begins to get about less, performs lighter and lighter tasks in the home, less sustenance may suffice.

There is one factor, however, which must be critically checked — namely, nitrogen containing edibles. As the uterus [womb] enlarges more muscle building elements will be demanded. This will call for only minor attention during the first five months, but in the last four, from one-fourth to one-third more protein will be required. The general rule is that the minimum meat ration is followed for the first three months, and increased slightly for the next two. About one-third more may be added for the ensuing two, with a tapering off to average or below by the time delivery is imminent.

There are two important considerations which are essential for a healthy babe. One is that the minerals on the menu shall be high, including calcium and phosphorus. Vitamin D—which enables the body to utilize these principles—must be furnished. Not only will this plan save the teeth, but a good bony skeleton for the infant is assured. More than a generation ago physicians learned that teeth need not be sacrificed and no longer does the old adage, "a tooth for every child" hold good. Of course, all the vitamins are necessary, as a deficiency in A may make one more susceptible to infection, and lack of C may cause sore gums.

The second most vital requirement is that the meals shall incorporate more than the normal share of iron. Anemia among pregnant women is all too common and the reason is that while she may be getting sufficient proteins and minerals, this metal may be forgotten. We must recall in this connection that while the newborn infant receives a relatively small quota of this substance in his diet, his liver contains—or should store—a generous proportion. If iron foods are not available the wisest thing to do is to administer it by mouth.

We can sum up the whole matter, then, by observing that one who is looking forward to the "blessed event" may gain, all told, twenty to twenty-five pounds during the period. She may eat normally, or approximately so, for the first five months, and thereafter an increase in protein on a balanced régime is permitted up to 25 per cent.

BAND FOR BABY.

C. T. writes: Is there any advantage in a baby wearing a binder after the naval has healed?

REPLY.

An abdominal band usually is worn for the first few months, but it cannot be considered a necessity except in special cases.

SKATING PERMISSIBLE.

O. W. writes: Are skating and skiing permissible in an arrested case of tuberculosis?

REPLY.

Yes, if not carried to the point of fatigue.

VITAMIN DEFICIENCY.

T. H. writes: In what way can a vitamin deficiency in the body be detected?

REPLY.

By the presence of some disease, known to be due to a deficiency, such as scurvy, rickets, pellagra, and beriberi. Lack of vitamins also is responsible for poor teeth, anemia, susceptibility to colds and infectious diseases, and—to some extent—for digestive disturbances. Current reports that certain types of arthritis and neuritis respond to treatment with vitamins are encouraging. The opinion of some nutritional investigators that cancer may be a product of dietary mismanagement has stimulated much new research. The future rôle of these food accessories is important.

SALVAGE RIGHTS.

Chicago, Oct. 22.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—1. Can a person salvage a boat or its cargo from the Great Lakes and lawfully keep same?

2. If so, how long would I have to wait after the boat sinks?

3. And would I need permission from any one? W. S.

1. If you take possession, you will have a better title than any other person, even the true owner, and the true owner would have to pay your salvage charges, if it appeared that you were acting in his interest, in the sense that you had made reasonable efforts to get in touch with him.

2. No delay is necessary.

3. No.

TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

TITLE TO PROPERTY.

Geneseo, Ill., Oct. 13.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—My mother passed away sixteen years ago. I am an only heir. I have paid all taxes. What process do I have to go through to have farm transferred to my name. It is not worth more than $3,500. There was no will. There was no personal property. Can I go before the court judge and have it done? Could you tell me just how to go about having it transferred to my name? M. A.

In view of the time that has elapsed, debts against the estate have been barred. Hence it seems probable that a purchaser would accept the title if you merely put through a simple proceeding to establish heirship. Employ an attorney.

TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

REPAIRS ORDERED.

Chicago, Oct. 21.—[Friend of the People.]—Will you please investigate the rear porch of the premises adjacent to our property? It is merely clinging to the supports and is in a very weakened condition. It is dangerous for children to be climbing up this porch as it is likely to fall down at any time. R. G.

The owner of the above mentioned premises has been notified to repair and make safe the rear porch. If the work is not done at the expiration of time allotted in our notice, we will proceed according to law.

Commissioner of Buildings.

FROM ACROSS THE SEA

BY SAM BREWER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON.—Great Britain has a fully organized and stafed propaganda ministry which is ready to swing into action immediately when and if war comes to Europe.

The organization is to be kept in what the British call "shadow form" for use whenever it is deemed necessary.

For a long time, just how long cannot be learned, it has existed as a shadow organization, fully planned, with its staf selected and its functions defined but not yet in operation. It is said to have three main functions:

FIRST: Combating enemy propaganda.

SECOND: Presenting the case for Britain to foreign countries.

THIRD: Keeping the British informed of news and developments.

The second of those functions presumably would include censorship of dispatches to foreign newspapers, the first and third censorship of news for home consumption.

Lord Stanhope, president of the board of education, is named as minister and the ministry, it is said, would take over the present offices of the board of education.

Sir Stephen Tallents, public relations director of the British Broadcasting corporation, is reported to be director general, and the Word Press News of London says, "Many prominent press and advertising men and publicists have been approached for their coöperation in event of their services being needed."

During the recent German-Czechoslovak crisis, sixty extra telephones and teleprinters were installed in the board of education offices and provision was made for a large press waiting room.

This conjured up memories to those who have worked in Spain or other countries with open censorship of long waits in the ante-room of the censor's offices, ending with the information that this story or that could not be sent, or that only the bit which was not crossed out in red pencil could go.

Consultations were held between Tallents and various press bodies, including the Newspaper Proprietors' association, the Newspaper society, and the Periodical, Trade Press and Weekly Newspaper Proprietors' association.

Tallents also was reported to have consulted with all the various government press officers, who would come under his control in war time.

Full arrangements were reported to have been made for censorship of newspapers. The ministry also would control all forms of advertising, posters, and lectures.

During the German-Czech crisis British newspapers felt the heavy hand of censorship. Editors were warned of various aspects of preparation they must not mention. When six subway stations were closed "for structural alterations" news agencies sent out a message to editors saying the authorities "requested" them not to speculate on the purpose for which they were closed. None of them did.

A book by a group of technical experts calling attention to deficiencies in air raid precautions was to have come out during the crisis but was withheld. It was published later.

British authorities already have the necessary power to suppress most things they want suppressed. Any gaps presumably would be covered by immediate legislation in case of war.

Failure of all efforts to have the official secrets act amended so it applies only to spies or traitors and not to newspapermen shows that the trend toward censorship will not easily be halted.

GENESIS OF "I WILL" GIRL.

Evanston, Ill., Oct. 24.—I beg leave to inform a recent TRIBUNE inquirer about the origin of the "I Will" girl. Incidentally I shall make bold to include myself in this brief accounting. In 1891, immortal World's Fair a-bornin', this writer, member of his staf, proposed to H. H. Kohlsaat, proprietor of the then The Inter Ocean, a public cartoon competition that should produce a prize-winning drawing personifying the Chicago spirit and tradition as have personified for their respective national groups John Bull, Uncle Sam, Columbia.

Several hundred sketches came in. This jury of admitted distinction was chosen: Thomas Nast, of Harper's Weekly, who cartooned to death Boss Tweed; Mrs. Potter Palmer; Harriet Monroe, author of "Columbian Ode," premier friend of American poets; W. M. R. French, director of Chicago Art institute; Lyman W. Gage, first president of the World's Fair and national financier. Mr. Kohlsaat made his big spread March 20, 1892.

The winner was Charles Holloway, no tyro, but a mural artist of repute. See "Symphony of Time," proscenium arch of the Auditorium. What Holloway did for his city may for several generations survive, although his conception was received a bit snootily by the arty. He first of all expressed in associated words and pictorial image a peculiarly puissant people's soul.

Is this figure official? In its authorization, no; in its popular acceptance, yes. Our Chicago flag, designed by Wallace Rice, is official. Important contributions to Chicago symbolism have been made by THE TRIBUNE. See municipal colors, being a shield or flag of terra-cotta or red with white "Y," signifying Chicago river and branches and city's three divisions. Design used also in commemorative iron work.

Thanks, TRIBUNE. With Rome's epic story teller: "I saw it all; a part I was."

CHANGE WOULD COST $3,000,000.

Chicago, Oct. 24.—Why can't the city firemen have eight hour shifts, the same as any other city employé?

It seems a shame that this department of the city is so regulated that the men have so much time on their hands. It is just making drunkards and bums of many of them. If they only had a fixed time each day to work it wouldn't be so bad—and three days in a row off is too much.

Did you ever see an idle man who didn't get into trouble? Why don't they do something about this situation and do it quick? New York has it; why not Chicago? A FIREMAN'S WIFE.

FEATURES THAT ARE MISSED.

Chicago, Oct. 24.—Entertainment that we miss: One-half dozen silent movies featuring Charlie Chaplin each year; movies continued from week to week; illustrated songs, which always add a great deal of beauty and romance to a program. At the same time as it would give many amateurs and also professional singers an opportunity to earn a living; last but not least, the orchestra with shiny instruments, at least in the more expensive entertainment places. We hope everybody agrees with us.

DIXIE AND SANDY LEE.

PUZZLING CONFLICTS.

Chicago, Oct. 25.—As I read your correspondence I find Americans who favor the insurgents in Spain because they are Catholics, or the government in Spain because they are communists, who wish to name Crawford avenue Pulaski road because they are Poles, who claim that Leif Eriksen discovered America because they are Swedes, who are for England, right or wrong, because they are Episcopalians, or against her because they are Irish, who favor the Nazis because they are Germans or hate them because they are Jews, or are they Americans? TROUBLED.

CALLS ON "GALS" TO VOTE.

Chicago, Oct. 24.—Listen, "gals," you fought hard to get the right to vote. You won that battle; now get out and vote against those whose policies keep millions unemployed, and so keep millions of girls unmarried. Raise your H. Q. [husband quota] by at least 50 per cent by spending a few minutes of your time to vote for those of more constructive and sensible aims.

BACHELOR BOY.

HE LEARNED HIS LESSON.

Chicago, Oct. 24.—He called himself an "American born foreigner" because he came of parents who were born and reared in a foreign land. Loud and long were their praises of the "fatherland," so he, the son, decided when he grew up he would spend a year in this wonder land of his parents. He was sure the reports of intolerance over there couldn't be true. So the day came and he sailed away for a whole year of pleasure. He was gone only a few weeks when he found himself the most unhappy person in the world. He was afraid to say "good morning" with a wrong inflection or he would be thrown in prison, and he said if they could have photographed his brain he would have been shot at sunrise. So he took the first boat for home, and when he landed in this country he knelt reverently down and kissed the earth and said, "America at its worst is better than any foreign country at its best."

ANNE JESTY ROGERS.

DEAFNESS AND HEARING AIDS.

Chicago, Oct. 24.—We read about people in need of hearing aids being too proud to wear them. I am one person, and there must be millions like me, who have been wanting this aid for many years. As the years roll by I keep thinking "maybe next year." But they are not priced within the reach of all who need them, so we trail along behind, getting what we can out of life, a plague to all who must engage us in conversation.

We are at a disadvantage in the business world, hence can rarely afford to pay out $145 cash or on time. Then there is the upkeep. So let us not hear so much about the few who are unwilling to use the aid science has created for us, but let us all pull together and try to put these wonderful devices within the reach of all who are in need of and willing to use them. A READER.

POVERTY? IT'S ALREADY HERE.

Chicago, Oct. 24.—To P. C. T., who wrote in defense of the Roosevelt administration: In your letter you said: "If THE TRIBUNE can create dissension, arouse suspicion, bring back poverty, give birth to want and need," etc.

What do you mean—"bring back poverty"? Is it because we have been steeped in it so long that you no longer recognize its presence? Or are you living in a mental Utopia? And before you accuse me of being a Republican let me tell you that I have never voted a straight ticket in my life, but never has the temptation been stronger.

A WORD FOR MOTHERS-IN-LAW.

Chicago, Oct. 23.—A few months ago the energetic Texans inaugurated a Mother's-in-Law day as a new feature of their calendar. Their basic idea was not only to pay respect to the forgotten woman but also to dispel all the legendary jokes. Perhaps mothers-in-law after all are not as bad as they are painted. I only cite the case of Mrs. Elizabeth Boethme, mother-in-law of Sikora, who has been on trial for his life.

ANOTHER THOUGHT ON THE STRAP.

Chicago, Sept. 25.—Mrs. E. M. Douglas in advocating the use of a strap for punishing the children in our schools overlooks one important fact: That all individuals are not yet sufficiently developed in self-control to be trusted with the right to inflict physical punishment on any one, much less a child, because after the first taste of "blood" they are apt to revert to the savage state and become in danger of the electric chair themselves. C. F.

DOESN'T COVER THE WATCHMEN.

Chicago, Oct. 24.—The wage-hour act has become law, so what? Watchmen are still working seventy-two hours at an average salary of $15 or $20 a week. There is no such thing as time and a half for overtime—a straight salary with the warning: Take it or leave it. Now, I ask, why a wage-hour act?

MECHANIC TIED TO NAZI SPIES BY U. S. WITNESS

Information on Planes Is Gained in Factory.

New York, Oct. 26.—[Special.]—Testimony against Otto Voss, an airplane mechanic, linking him with a Nazi German spy ring in this country, was started in federal court today, where he and two co-defendants are on trial for espionage.

Senta De Wanger. [(AP) Wirephoto.]

Testimony against him was given by Miss Senta De Wanger, an attractive German born young woman who operated a liquor store in Hempstead, N. Y. She was friendly with army aviators stationed at Mitchel field, headquarters of America's eastern air forces.

Voss, who was a civilian employé of an aircraft factory that makes planes for the government, appeared unmoved by her charges. Also listening calmly were his co-defendants, Miss Johanna Hofmann, a hairdresser on the German liner Europa, and Erich Glaser, former United States army private at Mitchel field.

Tells of Frequent Visits.

Miss De Wanger, a government witness, said Voss frequently visited her home in Hempstead during the time William Lonkowski, a fugitive defendant, was a lodger there. She said Voss brought packages when he called on Lonkowski.

The witness said she had dinner one night with Voss and his wife, Lonkowski and his wife, and Karl Schleuter, reputed payoff man for the Nazi spy ring. Schlueter and Dr. Ignatz Griebl, both fugitive defendants who fled to Germany, also visited Lonkowski often, Miss De Wanger said.

Voss is accused of theft of plans for army pursuit planes built in the Seversky Airplane company plant at Farmingdale, L. I., where he worked.

Caught With Evidence.

Lonkowski was seized by a customs guard in September, 1935, and was found to be carrying photographic negatives and technical descriptions of the airplanes. He was released when he said he was a correspondent for an aviation magazine.

Miss De Wanger was preceded on the stand by Maurice Josephs, a United States customs guard. He identified a photograph of Schlueter as a man he had seen talking to Lonkowski at the Europa's pier one night in 1935.

SANITARY BOARD SCANDAL FIGURE ASKS FOR PAROLE

The parole application of Frank J. Link, former sanitary district trustee and former alderman, is among those to be considered at hearings to start Monday. Link was sentenced to serve 1 to 5 years for conspiracy. Under the law he is eligible for parole after serving for eleven months. He was taken to the state penitentiary Nov. 19, 1937.

Link, a Republican, was the only one involved in the graft trials growing out of the sanitary district's whoopee era of 1928-'29 when the district was under Democratic control, who went to prison. One other official, John T. Miller, served six months in the Bridewell.

The parole board divides into committees for its monthly hearings in the prisons. The committees will hear cases involving 382 prisoners whose names are on the November docket. They concern 142 convicts at Stateville, 58 at Joliet, 83 at Menard, 145 at Pontiac and 2 at Dwight.

FORMER CLERK GETS TWO YEARS FOR $3,700 THEFT

For embezzling $3,700 from the Grigsby-Grunow company, Reynold H. Meyer, formerly a clerk for the company's trustee, was sentenced yesterday by Federal Judge John P. Barnes to serve two years in Leavenworth penitentiary. The case was in federal court because the company is in bankruptcy in that court. Meyer, who is 36 years old and lives in Arlington Heights, told investigators he used part of the money to pay his wife's hospital and doctor bills when their child was born. Mrs. Meyer, an expectant mother, collapsed when sentence was passed.

RAPIST-SLAYER WINS REPRIEVE; HAS NEW LAWYER

CRIMINAL COURT.
Love Lee, larceny, sentenced to 1 to 10 years in the penitentiary by Judge Robert Jerome Dunne.

Robert Nixon, Negro rapist and slayer who was under sentence to die in the electric chair at 12:01 a. m. tomorrow, was granted a reprieve yesterday to Nov. 10 by Chief Justice Michael L. McKinley of the Criminal court. The delay, which Judge McKinley said would be Nixon's last, was allowed because of the entry into the case of a new lawyer, Richard Westbrook, who will seek to have the Supreme court review the case.

Previously Nixon's other attorney, Joseph E. Clayton, colored, had flown to Springfield to ask a thirty day reprieve for the slayer. The state board of pardons and paroles set a special hearing for 10 a. m. today in Springfield. Nixon was convicted of the brick murder of Mrs. Florence Johnson, wife of a city fireman, in her home at 4631 Lake Park avenue on May 27.

AX MEN WRECK 12 BOOKS; FIND NONE IN COUNTY

While one ax squad from State's Attorney Courtney's office searched suburban districts of the county yesterday for handbooks, four other ax squads found a dozen gambling houses in the city. They chopped these twelve places, bringing the total of betting dens raided in the present campaign to 530. No books were found running in the county.

The places raided were at 612 South State street, 5058 North Clark street, 533½ West 69th street, 937 East 55th street, 2131 South Cicero avenue, 711 East 75th street, 838 West 59th street, 2205 Sedgwick street, 2201 Geneva terrace, 741 East 71st street, 1137 West 69th street, and 909 Rush street.

Board of Managers Will Weigh Charges.

The board of managers of the Chicago Bar association is to meet today to consider a protest against the official action of State Fire Marshal Sherman V. Coultas. Attorney Joseph T. Harrington has requested the association to investigate Coultas' methods in obtaining fake arson confessions from two men who later proved their innocence.

Emil Guerrieri and Frank Kolesiak, the victims, have charged that they were kidnaped by Coultas and his agents, assisted by amateur detectives, and were wrongly imprisoned after being roughly handled. The fire on which the fake confessions were based was in a Madison street hotel and caused the deaths of eight persons. Fire department officials are convinced it started accidentally.

Warants Asked Ten Times.

Harrington has demanded that warants charging conspiracy be issued against Coultas and those who assisted him in the illegal procedure. The request has been made ten times, but Judge John J. Rooney of the Felony court has repeatedly postponed action until after the election on Nov. 8. The judge is a candidate.

"I have already asked the American Bar association to take official notice of the fake confessions," said Harrington yesterday. "One of its objects is to see that the poor and unfortunate have proper legal representation. My clients had none when their constitutional rights were violated."

Inquiry Ordered by Horner.

Gov. Horner has ordered an investigation of the conduct of Coultas. T. P. Sullivan, chief of the state bureau of identification and investigation, is in charge. The governor instructed him to question everybody involved.

Fraud True Bill Voted Against Ex-Fire Captain

A true bill charging confidence game was reported voted yesterday by the Cook county grand jury against John Lysaught, suspended fire department captain, who is accused of cashing fake money orders. Lysaught, who lives at 7959 South Throop street, had been with the fire department nineteen years. He said he cashed the money orders, but that they were given to him by a man who owed him $1,500. He thought they were genuine, he said.

WIDOW SLASHED TO DEATH; HOLD 4 NEGRO SUSPECTS

Kalamazoo, Mich., Oct. 26.—[Special.]—Four colored men were under arrest here tonight as suspects in the rape-slaying of Mrs. Josie Zeedyke, 68 years old, a widow. She was the mother of John Zeedyke, juvenile agent of Kalamazoo county.

Mrs. Zeedyke was kiled late today, supposedly by a Negro who lured her into the basement of her son's home next door to her own. Her daughter, Clarissa, found her there dying from knife slashes in the abdomen.

Clarissa said a colored man came to the house and said her brother had told him to clean the basement. He asked Mrs. Zeedyke to show him what work was to be done. The elderly woman twice refused to accompany him to the adjacent house, but while Clarissa was working in the yard, her mother disappeared. The daughter then began a search for her.

DALHOVER TO DIE IN MICHIGAN CITY CHAIR ON NOV. 18

The United States Circuit Court of Appeals yesterday set Nov. 18 for the execution of James Dalhover, last of the notorious Brady gang. Dalhover was convicted last December of slaying Paul Minneman, Indiana state policeman. He was tried in the United States District court at Hammond because the slaying occurred as an aftermath of the robbery of a national bank. The execution is to be carried out before sunrise in the electric chair at the Michigan City prison.

2 UNION OFFICERS SEIZED IN ATTACK ON REBEL MEMBER

Pressman Accuses Them of Beating Him.

Joseph J. Seppi, president, and Jay Hargan, business agent of Franklin local No. 4 of the International Printing Pressman's and Assistants' union, were arrested yesterday, accused of beating George Jones, one of the rebel members of the union who are trying to break the autocratic control of Senator George L. Berry of Tennessee, international president.

The attack took place, according to Jones, on Harrison street between Clark and Dearborn streets, on Oct. 17.

"I had just been to the union headquarters at 618 South Dearborn street," he said, "when Charles Meyers, the custodian, had evicted me. I was walking down the street when someone grabbed me from behind. It was Seppi. When I turned around Horgan slugged me with brass knuckles until I fell to the sidewalk badly cut."

Hears Case Tomorrow.

This case will come up before Judge Francis Borelli tomorrow morning. The men were released on bonds. The slugging may also bear upon a case pending before Judge John J. Lupe on the question of violation of an injunction issued June 9 last by Judge Grover C. Neimeyer. This is scheduled for hearing Nov. 3, when the efforts of the group headed by Jones to get local autonomy for their union, and the tactics used against them will be heard.

This injunction restrained Senator Berry and eleven other officers of the union, including the men accused of slugging, from ejecting members from the meetings, expelling members from the union, or issuing new membership cards pending determination of an accounting suit brought by twenty-three members of the local.

Chairman of Committee.

Jones is chairman of a union committee of ten which is seeking to have a new election.

"There is a conspiracy on the part of Berry and local officers to remain in power," he said. The constitution calls for an election every two years, but there has not been an election since 1928 and no accounting of union funds for four years. When I put in a resolution on April 16 last for an election, they threw me out of the meeting. We have had no work since last April. When we get a job they pull us off. Commercial printers are furnished through union headquarters, and they will not give us any cards.

"The $5 a week benefit has been denied us, until about $150 is owing us. We pay $200 a year in dues and assessments but have no rights and privileges as members, no voice in anything. The rank and file have been intimidated."

PWA AGREEMENT ON SUBWAY UP FOR STUDY TODAY

City Council Receives Contract Tomorrow.

BY WILLIAM BROMAGE.

The city council's local transportation committee will meet today to consider a contract suggested by the Public Works administration fixing the terms under which an eighteen million dollar subway grant will be made to Chicago.

The formal offer by the PWA was received by Mayor Kelly yesterday. After referring it to the transportation committee, he called a special meeting of the council tomorrow morning to act on the proposal.

Terms Set by Ickes.

William H. Sexton, traction counsel for the city, last night began an analysis of the suggested contract. The contract formally sets forth the conditions under which Harold L. Ickes, PWA administrator, authorized a grant for the forty million dollar subway project.

These include the usual PWA provisions for the supervisions of plans, construction and disbursement of funds. In addition, there are special conditions imposed by Ickes, including a requirement that the PWA be given the right to approve a traction unification ordinance before it is passed. There is also a clause requiring the city to put future compensation from the traction lines into a special fund for extending the subway system.

The PWA engineering commission that is supervising plans for the subways today is expected to announce approval of engineering details of the tunnel construction. The committee has been working on these plans with city engineers for two weeks.

Ready to Prepare Contracts.

The approval of the commission will permit the city to go ahead with preparation of construction contracts and the advertising for bids for the work. It is planned that the first of these contracts will be offered in about two weeks.

Mayor Kelly will explain the subway plans to Chicagoans at 8:30 o'clock tonight in a broadcast over station WENR from the grand ballroom of the Palmer house, where he will speak before the annual banquet of the Association of State Street Seniors.

The Citizens Transportation association, representing holders of six million dollars of securities of the surface lines and elevated railways companies, yesterday urged Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson to preserve the Abbott plan for reorganizing the surface lines. The association asked retention of the Abbott plan in preference to a new proposal offered by Walter A. Shaw, traction adviser to Judge Wilkerson.

WOMAN INJURED CRITICALLY BY A HIT-RUN DRIVER

Up to 4 p. m. yesterday 681 persons had been killed in Cook county since Jan. 1. Of these, 529 were killed in Chicago, where 16,326 were injured in the same period.

NEW 103D STREET VIADUCT WILL BE OPEN SATURDAY

The new 103d street viaduct, opening the thoroughfare from Cottage Grove to Torrence avenues, will be dedicated Saturday. City officials and representatives of the Chicago Motor club will preside.

With completion of the viaduct 103d street will be the only through street between 95th and 130th streets, a distance of four miles. The viaduct cost approximately $670,000. It crosses the tracks of the Nickel Plate and Western Indiana railroads.

A 45 per cent grant of the total cost was made by the Public Works administration and the railroads shared half the total cost. The city's share—$60,000—was taken from motor fuel tax funds. The viaduct is 1,026 feet long, has four trafic lanes, and two six-foot sidewalks.

POLICE INJECT A BLUE NOTE IN OPERATIC ARIA

Evanston's police were embarrassed as anything yesterday. Rosalinda Morini, the opera singer, gave them a concert right in their station. She sang every thing they asked her to, and was generous indeed in her response to encores.

The singer had come to the station with her friend, Miss Leah Barskey of 5742 North Christiana avenue. Miss Barskey was showing Evanston to her when Trafic Policeman Philip Midday clocked the car at 42 miles an hour. That's why Desk Sergeant Samuel Bell and his men were embarrassed.

After thanking the singer for her songs they had to tell her Miss Barskey would have to come back just the same to face trial as a speeder.

BATISTA, CHIEF OF CUBAN ARMY, TO VISIT CHICAGO

Plans Washington Trip to See Roosevelt.

BY GUSTAVO RENO.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

HAVANA, Oct. 26.—Col. Fulgencio Batista, Cuban army chief of staf and strong man of Cuba, tonight announced he would visit Chicago Nov. 12 and 13.

This visit will follow a five day stay in Washington, D. C., where Batista will see President Roosevelt, Secretary of State Cordell Hull, and Assistant Secretary of State Sumner Welles. In Washington Batista will be the guest of Gen. Malin Craig, United States army chief of staf, who invited Batista to attend the Armistice day parade.

Treaty Reforms to Be Sought.

Batista and his retinue will discuss economic and political problems affecting Cuban-American relations with Washington officials. He will seek reforms in the reciprocity treaty now about to be renewed and will discuss his project for revaluing mortgages. This includes a 10 year extension of the date of maturity and a reduction of interest.

In addition, Batista plans to make speeches in Washington, New York, and Chicago. Batista, who recently legalized the communist and Fascist parties in Cuba, said he is neither an old time conservative nor a radical, but instead is a socialist.

Promises to Protect Investments.

"The United States' $1,200,000,000 investment in Cuba shall be as adequately protected in the new constitution and government as it is now," he said. "This is a point I wish to make clear to American officials and the American people."

A new constitution and form of government is to be drafted in Cuba by a constituent assembly.

The Rev. Matthew Hanley, 66 years old, pastor of St. Joachim church, 700 East 91st street, died yesterday in the Mercy hospital after a short illness. He returned three weeks ago from a visit to Ireland, where he was born in County Tipperary.

Father Hanley began his work in Chicago forty years ago. Formerly at St. Dominick's church, he became pastor at St. Joachim's twenty years ago. He is survived by a brother and two sisters in Ireland. He was a cousin of the Rev. James O' Shea of Maywood, Sister Mary Seraphine, Sister Mary James, Sister Mary Josephine, and of the Rev. Paul O'Shea of Ireland. Requiem high mass will be celebrated Saturday at 10:30 a. m. and burial will be in Mount Carmel cemetery.

Blind Boy Scouts were given permission yesterday to take their guiding dogs into Garfield park. The boys previously had been turned away by police because of the rules against allowing dogs in the park. Permission was granted by Nathan F. Balter, park district representative, following a plea by Fred F. Bolotin, 10 South Mason avenue, blind scoutmaster of troop No. 300.

At the same time, Bolotin announced that members of his troop would visit engine company No. 95 and truck company No. 26 of the fire department at Wilcox and Pulaski road next Tuesday night. The boys will try to envision the huge fire engines by touching them.

BLIND PERSONS MADE VICTIMS OF CRUEL HOAX

Blind persons in at least four states have been made the victims of a cruel hoax within the last four weeks, it was disclosed yesterday by New York headquarters of the Seeing Eye, the society that supplies trained German shepherd dogs to guide the blind. Pranksters, according to Dickson Hartwell, of the membership committee, have circulated the report that blind persons may obtain a Seeing Eye dog free by saving 10,000 paper match folders. This is, of course, false, Hartwell said.

Many of the blind have been saving the folders for weeks and have had their friends helping to gather them. One or two have actually presented 10,000 of the folders in the belief that they would receive one of the valuable dogs.

DR. KARL MEYER DEFENDS COUNTY HOSPITAL WORK

Dr. Karl A. Meyer, medical superintendent of the Cook County hospital, issued a detailed statement yesterday defending the quality of his work at the institution. He has held the post twenty-five years.

The hospital was dropped from the accredited list of the American College of Surgeons ten days ago. It previously had been dropped by the American Medical association. Dr. Malcolm T. MacEachern, director of hospital activities for the A. C. S., said the lack of full time medical superintendent was one of the things wrong with the hospital administration.

Dr. Meyer said he got his job through a civil service examination. He asserted that he is active in directing medical affairs at the hospital and that he has a full time assistant, Dr. Ole Nelson. Dr. MacEachern complained that Dr. Meyer's outside practice keeps him away from the hospital.

HELP KIDNEYS PASS 3 LBS. A DAY

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. Most people pass about 3 pints a day or about 3 pounds of waste.

Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning shows there may be something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

An excess of acids or poisons in your blood, when due to functional kidney disorders, may be the cause of nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

2 GERMAN JEWS BEAT UP 4 NAZIS IN BELGIAN PORT

Berlin in Rage; Press Hints at 'Revenge.'

BRUSSELS, Belgium, Oct. 26.—(AP)—Antwerp police today charged two German Jews with an attack upon four German passengers from the liner Cordilleras yesterday. Neither Jew actually was placed under arrest.

Police declined to disclose their names, but said charges had been made on information furnished by a "Belgian lady." They said that when the four Germans asked directions to the postoffice they were knocked down from behind, beaten and kicked. One victim was said to have suffered an eye wound and to have lost a camera valued at $140.

The incident occurred in Pelican street, the center of the diamond trade in which many Polish and Belgian Jews are engaged.

Germany Warns Jews.

BERLIN, Oct. 26.—(AP)—The German press carried reports today that fifty Jews had attacked five German passengers of the liner Cordilleras yesterday as they walked through the streets of Antwerp. The press warned that "Germany is strong enough and determined under all circumstances to protect her nationals."

One Nazi party organ—Westphaelische Landes Zeitung of Dortmund—even intimated German-Belgian relations might be disturbed unless "these dangerous elements" are curbed.

Nazi pressure to force Jews out of business is increasing steadily. Authorities closed all jewelry stores in Vienna. Vienna Jews have been forbidden to attend sporting events because of recent "unpleasant incicents."

These developments came as the weekly organ of the Hitler guards attacked the Roman Catholic and Protestant Confessional [Evangelical Lutheran] synod churches for their alleged unpatriotic attitude in the German-Czechoslovak crisis and declared Jews in Germany and Italy were "hostages."

Assail "Political Clergy."

The attack on the churches was contained in an article captioned "A Squaring of Accounts."

It charged that "in the fateful hour of the German people that part of the clergy which still dabbles in politics stood faithfully on the side of the opponents."

Politicians among prelates and pastors, it continued, "felt so sure of themselves on the basis of information received from Rome and London that they openly stated within their own groups that a lost war would bring freedom to the church, meaning to political christendom."

The Nazi district leader for Salzburg declared he would "punish without mercy" Nazis who disturb "religious peace and confessional freedom." This was regarded as a response to Cardinal Theodore Innitzer's letter of last Sunday which church and official quarters interpreted as an offer of peace between state and church.

Rodeo King Dead

Tex Austin, who once visited Chicago with rodeos, was found dead in garage attached to his home at Santa Fe, N. M.

Santa Fe, N. M., Oct. 26.—(AP)—Tex Austin, Santa Fe restaurant proprietor, rancher, and one time promoter of big time rodeos, was found dead in his car in his garage here today. Dr. E. W. Fiske reported death was due to carbon monoxide poisoning. A note signed by Austin and asking his wife's forgiveness was found at his home. Austin had promoted rodeos in New York, Chicago, Hollywood, and London.

LOOT HOME, BIND WIFE, DRIVE OFF WITH HUSBAND

Four gunmen held up Howard Schultz, 33 years old, and his wife, Marian, last night as they were parking their automobile at Humboldt boulevard and Wabansia avenue. Climbing into the machine, they forced the Schultzes to drive around the block, then stop in front of their home at 1708 Humboldt boulevard.

The outlaws accompanied them indoors, where they took $31 from Schultz and also pocketed jewelry and watches worth $150. Then two of the gunmen bound Mrs. Schultz with ropes, taped her mouth, and cut telephone wires while the other two drove away with her husband. They pushed him from the machine at La Salle and Schiller streets and returned to pick up their companions.

West North avenue police said Mrs. Schultz, who is 30 years old, was suffering from shock but otherwise unharmed.

BRITISH BLOW UP ARAB VILLAGES IN NEW ATTACK

Rebel Positions Located by Army Flyers.

HAIFA, Palestine, Oct. 26.—(AP)—Several thousand British troops today began a drive against Arab rebels in the districts of Acre and Galilee. It was the largest military operation in Palestine since the arrival of British reënforcements in an effort to put down Arab-Jewish disorders.

Preceded by land mine sweepers, armored cars, and wireless wagons, detachments of troops with light mountain artillery, machine guns, rifles, and bombs moved into the area of 300 square miles under the command of Brig. Gen. John Francis Evetts, new military governor of the district of Galilee.

By courtesy of the British high command newspaper correspondents joined the attacking column as it moved through the rebel infested section.

Dozen Houses Dynamited.

British forces dynamited a dozen houses in an Arab village from which shots were fired at the troops.

The rebel leader had threatened to lead his army against the British if they dynamited houses in offending Arab villages. After the attack, however, little except a pile of mangled masonry remained of the village.

The headman of the village and a few weeping old women stood by the ruins.

"Your old Turkish masters would have killed you all if you had fired on the Turkish army," Gen. Evetts told the homeless villagers.

"If you will make peace we will make peace, but if you will continue to resist us we will fight you," the commander continued.

Trenches Dug in Roads.

Mile after mile of highway were gashed by deep trenches which appeared to have been hacked out by hydraulic drills. The trenches were intended to impede the progress of British mechanized units.

Everywhere there were evidences of sabotage, especially to communications.

"This sabotaging was carried out so carefully," said one officer, "that it undoubtedly was done by foreign technicians in the service of the rebels, possibly Germans."

Arab trenches also bore marks of being foreign made. Officers said they had found many German rifles among the Arab rebels, as well as firearms and munitions stolen from Syria.

British Flyers Spot Rebels.

The sound of Arab firing was heard as the troops moved through the hills.

Frequent halts were called by the British commander while machine gunners and riflemen rushed ahead of the main column to return the fire.

Royal air force planes informed the mechanized units of the rebel positions.

As the attacking column started on its return journey to Haifa, thick clouds of brown dust and smoke filled the air from dynamited houses in villages punished for sniping.

Let Britain Handle Palestine, Borah's Warning to U. S. Jews

BY CHESLY MANLY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 26.—[Special.]—Senator William E. Borah [R., Idaho], dean of the senate and former chairman of the foreign relations committee, warned today that continued agitation against Great Britain's policy respecting Palestine might involve the United States in a dangerous situation.

The veteran foe of meddling in other people's business expressed his views regarding the Palestine question in a telegram to Dr. Stephen S. Wise of New York, declining an invitation to speak at a massmeeting protesting against the closing of the doors of Palestine to Jewish refugees.

No official announcement of such a policy has been made.

Mistake to Meddle.

Senator Borah's telegram reflected the isolationist opinion that it is a serious mistake, fraught with possibilities of dangerous involvement, for the United States to meddle in the explosive Palestine situation. Senate isolationists deplore President Roosevelt's attitude, as expressed at Hyde Park, N. Y., last Saturday by Senator Robert F. Wagner. They realize that this gesture was wholly political and designed to get votes for Senator Wagner and Gov. Herbert H. Lehman from New York's 2 million Jews. But it was unfortunate, they say.

After talking with Mr. Roosevelt, Senator Wagner said the President was greatly concerned about Palestine and would do all in his power to prevent limitations from being placed on immigration. Wagner said the United States was in a position to make its protests effective and that the administration was prepared, if necessary, to do more than protest to Great Britain. He refused to explain further.

Since the outburst at Hyde Park, British newspapers which usually reflect the attitude of the government have suggested that Great Britain would be happy to turn over its Palestine mandate to the United States.

Fascists Incite Arabs.

Senator Borah's telegram to Dr. Wise drew attention to the embarrassment that would result if the United States should be called upon to exercise the obligations of a mandatory power. Great Britain, which controls Palestine under a league of nations mandate, has a perpetual state of war on her hands and so far has not been able to subdue the Arabs. Nazi Germany and Fascist Italy are known to be encouraging the Arabs and supplying them with arms.

Although the United States has a convention with Great Britain that gives its nationals the same business and educational rights in Palestine that British subjects enjoy, the convention does not include immigration.

"I have been in sympathy from the beginning with the effort to establish a Jewish national home in Palestine," Senator Borah told Dr. Wise, "and I feel now that if the sanctity of treaties, moral obligations, and the first principles of humanity have any place left in international affairs, the mandatory obligations with reference to Palestine will be faithfully kept.

"But I think strongly that Great Britain is now placed in a very delicate and dangerous situation and that we may not be helping the cause in which you are interested by holding a massmeeting which would have no justification, except upon the theory that Britain is proposing to do a reprehensible thing."

Bomb Blast Damages Nazi Party Offices in Copenhagen

COPENHAGEN, Denmark, Oct. 26.—(AP)—Headquarters of the Danish Nazi party, in the heart of Copenhagen, was badly damaged today by a bomb explosion. No one was injured. Ten members of the party, including the leader, were arrested recently on charges of blackmailing Jewish business men.

IMMIGRANT LIMIT CUT IN HOLY LAND; ORDER HITS JEWS

JERUSALEM, Oct. 26.—(AP)—Palestine today reduced the quota for immigration to 4,870 for the next six months. This is 1,230 less than the previous six months.

The government figure was set as "the political high level" despite Jewish demands for allowing immigration up to "the absorptive capacity" of the country.

The new quota restricts immigration to 2,020 "capitalists" having at least $5,000 each, 40 craftsmen having at least $1,250 each, 200 in the rabbinical profession, 1,150 laborers, 1,450 dependents other than wives and children, and ten orphans.

Mortality Rate in Stockings Is Easily Reduced

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

The filmy silk sheaths that do so much to make feminine legs alluring add up to a substantial figure when estimated in terms of cold cash.

The stocking mortality in most families is higher than it need be. If thoughtfully selected in the first place, and washed often enough to prevent weakening of the delicate threads, the yearly supply of stockings required by the average woman can be virtually cut in half.

Correctly sized stockings wear longer. Hosiery today is graded not only according to foot length but for figures that are tall, medium, or short. Weight is another factor that requires careful pondering before purchase. For reasons of economy as well as discernment in dressings, the filmiest of sheers should be donned only in the evening, service weights reserved for sports, and semi-service weights worn for ordinary workaday occasions. Toe and heel reinforcements, garter tops, and full fashioning are other factors that give stockings longer life. And obviously it is most economical always to buy two or more pairs of the same kind.

Frequent washing is the first rule in cutting down costs of stocking replacement. Experts recommend a washing even before a new pair is ever put on. It acts to make the threads more pliable and therefore less likely to develop runs. Washing as soon as possible after each wearing prevents perspiration and soil from attacking the tender fibers. Lukewarm water for washing and rinsing, and quantities of thick, mild soapsups, make the washing easy and quick enough to be tossed off at odd moments before bedtime or during the day. A moment's rolling in a towel speeds up the drying and prevents the development of disfiguring streaks.

LAST THURSDAY'S QUESTIONS RESTATED AND ANSWERED.

Question 5: With neither side vulnerable and North [your partner] the dealer, the bidding has proceeded:

North	East	South	West
Pass	Pass	1 spade	Pass
2 clubs	Pass	?

You, South, hold:

♠ K Q 10 8 6 5 ♥ A K Q 4 2 ♦ None ♣ Q 4.

What call do you now make?

Answer: Three hearts. After your partner responds to your opening spade bid with two clubs your hand becomes very powerful. Hence you should select an informative rebid which also is absolutely forcing. A jump rebid in spades would not be an absolute force. [Fourteen points demerit for three spades, 36 points demerit for two spades, 32 points demerit for two hearts, 24 points demerit for four spades, 20 points demerit for four hearts, 38 points demerit for any other bid.]

Question 6: Both sides vulnerable. East, the opponent on your right, deals and bids one spade. You, South, hold:

♠ None ♥ K 10 8 6 ♦ A J 8 5 3 ♣ Q J 9 2.

What call do you make?

Answer: Two diamonds. You are not strong enough to double for a take-out, especially since your spade void suggests that partner might well leave in the double for penalties. [Twelve points demerit for a double, 14 points demerit for passing, 28 points demerit for bidding two spades, 20 points demerit for two hearts, 16 points demerit for two clubs.]

TODAY'S QUESTIONS.

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
Pass	Pass	Pass	Pass

O, yes, I have recorded the bidding correctly! The deal actually passed out, and South almost did likewise.

But before my readers let disgust overwhelm them, I might point out that South's action in passing, when holding a laydown game in his own hand, might be duplicated by a great many supposed experts. They would feel [with some logic] that the hand would almost certainly be opened by one of the other players, and that they probably could coax a double by entering the bidding secondarily, as though they were "sacrificing." Thus, a lucrative redouble would develop.

But in this case South laid it on a bit thick. "A bird in the hand" was the best philosophy and, by that token, four spades was the best bid.

her father, the late Theodore Roosevelt, when her dashing and fascinating personality won her the title, "Princess Alice." Despite her well known aversion to public utterances she recently embarked on a lecture tour that will bring her to Chicago for a lecture under the auspices of Northwestern university next Wednesday evening at Orchestra hall.

Miss Lawrence takes pride in being a member of the San Francisco Press club, one of three women ever admitted to membership. The others are Helen Hayes and Lillian Russell.

Since some 2,500 club leaders of the Chicago area have requested tickets to the press conference the program will be held in the ballroom of the Medinah club, rather than at W-G-N studio, as originally planned. All who receive tickets will be able to see and hear the entire program.

Deafness, Poor Vision May Not Be Noticeable

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.

Is your child doing well in school? By this time he or she has gotten well into the term's work. Perhaps things haven't been going well; perhaps they didn't last year, either, and you feel discouraged and rather at sea as to what to do next.

Naturally, there may be a number of causes responsible: Your child may be placed too high or too low; he may be upset or unhappy over some home situation; the children at school may torment nim, or just one may bully him; his teacher may not understand him, or he may not like her. These are all perfectly possible reasons for a child failing in school. Each one can be dealt with if you'll take the time and trouble.

But quite apart from all these mental or emotional causes there is the possibility that the trouble is entirely physical. This is surely one that should be looked into.

What are some of the possible physical difficulties that might make a child do badly at school?

Well, there are two that come first to my mind: Poor hearing and poor vision. Neither parents nor teacher may be aware of this, and not even the child himself, for how can he know how well he should see or hear? So, look into that first, so he may be helped, and also seated correctly in the classroom, or put in a special class.

Next comes undernourishment as a cause of poor work in school. Your child may not have the right food set before him, or he may have poor eating habits. Or he may be like many growing things—he may need to eat more often. A midmorning snack works magic sometimes. Where communities have had very low incomes [or where parents have desired it] milk and crackers [or some other light nourishment] has been given during the morning, with marked improvement not only in work but in behavior. Incidentally, keep an eye on your child's school day breakfasts and lunches.

Next, there's low energy due to fatigue. Does your child sleep enough? Is the school journey too long? Is the school day too long? Have you tried an afternoon nap or rest period? No child who is chronically tired can work well with his mind?

These are a few fundamental suggestions. It follows that it is a good plan to have your child gone over at least once a year by a good doctor.

We'll talk about this further tomorrow.

"Helping the Nervous Child" is a leaflet of interest to parents and teachers. It will be sent on receipt of a large, stamped, self-addressed envelope. Address Mrs. Gladys Bevans, The Chicago Tribune, Chicago, Ill.

Shirtwaist Frock a Standard

WOMAN'S AND MISS' SHIRTWAIST FROCK.

We're all frankly crazy about the return to elegance that the winter styles have taken. It's in every woman's nature to love the glamorous, the opulent, and the extravagant modes that will enhance her feminity. But there are plain, everyday facts to face, too. One can't go to work and to meetings in such fabulous attire. For daytime occasions of the practical sort one needs practical clothes, and there is nothing more suitable than the perennially lovely shirtwaist frock. It's kind to the mature figure, too, which is a tribute that cannot always be paid to the "picture album" gowns!

This shirtwaist frock is flattering to both youthful and matronly silhouettes. You can style it in girlish fashion, as illustrated at the left, if you are slim and svelte. If you're frankly plump, better adopt the styling suggested at the right. The girlish version has a prime contrasting collar on a high, round neckline. There is a zipper down the front of the bodice. Plaids are smart for this design, especially in woolen.

The other dress has a flattering V neckline with a soft rolled collar, and buttons may be used instead of a zipper, if you want trimming. Plain shades or discreetly figured woolens and silks are best for this version.

Style No. 2132 is designed for sizes 14, 16, 18, and 20 years, and 32, 34, 36, 38, 40, 42 and 44 inches bust measurement. Size 36 requires 3¾ yards of 39 inch material for the dress with the V neckline.

Dried fruits are available in many qualities. The cheapest kinds are those which are least clean and most tightly shriveled and which require much washing and long soaking before they can be cooked. The best are the carefully selected, very clean, plump, and moist fruits which are good right out of the package, and which require no soaking and very little cooking.

In between there are dried fruits of varying conditions. Usually I like to buy packaged dried fruit rather than that in bulk, for I feel that it is cleaner and, obviously, it's of finer quality. It's more expensive than the bulk fruit, however, so if you're pinching pennies especially hard, the extra cleaning and soaking processes will be justified.

Dried fruits, singly or in a mixture, are excellent food at breakfast time. And they go into hundreds of the finest baked products, too.

Spiced Dried Peach Cake
[3 layers]

1½ cups cooked dried peach pulp
⅔ cup butter
1½ cups sugar
3 eggs, beaten
2¾ cups all purpose flour
3 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon soda
1 teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons ginger
1 teaspoon cloves

Drain two cups of cooked, unsweetened, dried peaches and mash them to a pulp. Measure 1½ cups for this recipe. Cream the butter, add sugar gradually, and beat the mixture until light and fluffy. Add beaten eggs and peaches, and mix thoroughly. Add dry ingredients, which have been sifted together three times. Beat the batter smooth and spread it in three round layer tins, which have been greased and lined with wax paper. Bake at 375 degrees for half an hour. Put the cake together with a butter icing.

Fig Filled Cookies
[2½ dozen medium]

½ cup butter
1 cup granulated sugar
3 eggs
4 cups sifted flour
1 teaspoon cinnamon
½ teaspoon salt
3 teaspoons baking powder

Cream butter and sugar thoroughly. Add beaten eggs and stir. Add sifted dry ingredients, mixing thoroughly. Work dough with the hands until smooth. Divide into pieces of convenient size to handle, and work in sufficient flour to make rolling easy. Roll very thin and cut into rounds, using a cookie cutter and a doughnut cutter of the same size, so that half the cookies are centerless. Lay the whole rounds on a greased cookie sheet and place a spoonful of filling on it. Put a doughnut round over each and press the edges together. Bake at 400 degrees about 15 minutes.

FIG FILLING FOR COOKIES: 1½ cups dried figs, ¼ cup orange juice, 2 teaspoons grated orange rind, ½ cup water, ½ cup sugar, ¼ teaspoon salt, and ½ cup nuts, if desired. Rinse figs in hot water, drain, and chop. Combine with all ingredients except nuts. Cook until very thick. Remove from heat, add nuts, and cool before using.

Another True Ghost Story.

An amazing tale of the supernatural is told by a Chicago woman who vouches for its authenticity and even names the prominent Chicago lawyer in whose office the ghostly incident took place.

He was the late John C. King, member of an old Chicago family. Among his clients was a neighbor who died leaving her estate to a son. She had told Mr. King she was doing so but the will could not be found, and had not been located some months later when Mr. King's daughter returned from school and dashed down to see her father at his office.

"I just saw Mrs. Blank (naming the neighbor) in your outer office," the daughter said after greetings were over. "She told me to tell you you would find that paper you were looking for is . . ." and the girl repeated the information given her.

"But Stella, Mrs. Blank is dead," protested her father. "She died while you were at school. I guess we forgot to write you about it."

"She was sitting there—wearing her old sealskin coat," expostulated the daughter. "And I talked with her, and she said to be sure and tell you where the paper is you are looking for."

The will was found exactly where the daughter had been told it would be found.

Women in sable, mink, and ermine; wearing tiny tilted hats held on by ribbon and velvet; tricked out in purple and fuchsia; sitting on little gold chairs in lecture rooms; attending theater openings, sipping champagne at wedding receptions; assisting at charity drives, the tinkle of their 1938 bangles and bracelets a running accompaniment to the speeches. Grid Luncheons of Big Three to Be Stag Parties

BY JUDITH CASS.

A NASTY BLOW has been struck the wives and sweethearts of Harvard-Yale-Princeton alumni with the announcement that by popular demand this season's football luncheons are to be STAG affairs. If it is a case of woman scorned, the three young men on the luncheon committee, John B. Morse of Yale, Cyrus H. Adams III. of Princeton, both married, and Philip S. Dalton of Harvard, a bachelor, had better keep a sharp eye on the preparation of their morning cereal.

On the other hand Yale wives who are football enthusiasts cannot feel as bitter as the others, for they and the wives and feminine friends of Dartmouth graduates are included in the invitations to a joint luncheon on Saturday at Henrici's to hear a direct wire broadcast of the Dartmouth-Yale game.

The game is to be played at New Haven, and aside from the fun of getting together, every one will be concerned with the serious problem of whether Dartmouth can repeat its victory of last year, or whether the old jinx of the Yale Bowl will down the team once more.

John J. Goodwillie of Dartmouth more or less is in charge of the luncheon on Saturday. The Dartmouth luncheons are informal affairs; no reservations are necessary.

The Harvard-Yale-Princeton clubs' luncheons will be held at the Palmer house. The Harvard-Princeton game is to be played Saturday. The Yale-Princeton match will be heard on Nov. 12. On Nov. 19 the Yale-Harvard game will come over the wires.

Tavern Will Hold Daily Tea for Ladies.

The Harvard, Yale, and Princeton men may not care for the company of ladies at their football luncheons, but members of the Tavern are departing from custom and inviting wives and feminine guests to have tea at the club any afternoon except Sunday.

The tea service will be available from 3 to 5 o'clock. Until now ladies have not been welcome at the club until 6 o'clock except on Saturdays and Sundays when they may be invited to luncheon.

Issue Cards for Debut of Mary Ryerson.

Cards are out for Miss Mary McBirney Ryerson's debut tea on Tuesday, Nov. 8. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph T. Ryerson, will give the party at their home, 1406 Astor street. On Dec. 30 the Ryersons will give a ball at the Blackstone hotel for their eldest daughter.

Mrs. Ryerson's mother, Mrs. Hugh J. McBirney, arrives at home today from a long trip which included a trip abroad and a subsequent stay at the Virginia Hot Springs. Tomorrow night the Ryersons will entertain at dinner for Mrs. McBirney, who will be celebrating her 80th birthday tomorrow. Mrs. McBirney's other daughter, Mrs. Henry B. Stimson, and Mr. Stimson are coming from their home in Rye, N. Y., for the occasion.

Miss Ryerson will not be at her grandmother's birthday party for she will be dining and dancing at the Palmer house, where Mrs. George A. McKinlock will be entertaining for three popular buds—Miss Ryerson, Miss Nancy Orr and Miss Alice Wyeth. Miss Orr and her cousin, Miss Wyeth, are making their debuts tomorrow afternoon along with another cousin, Miss Nora Perkins, at a tea at the home of Miss Orr's mother, Mrs. Robert C. Orr, in Stone street.

Miss Perkins is arriving tomorrow morning from Bennington, Vt., and will return there Sunday for she is at Bennington college this winter, so is having only an occasional taste of being a debutante.

It is Miss Carolyn Chapman who is making a debut with Miss Sally Perry on Dec. 29 and not Miss Catharine Johnson. She is being introduced with

THROUGH THE LOOKING GLASS

A French hair stylist, who will be coming to Chicago soon, offers this modified high coiffure as typical of the line that will be most widely accepted when the upswept fashion "settles." It has a distinct effect of height, but hair is not awkwardly skinned up and there is softness around the face.

New York, Oct. 26.—[Special.]—We thought we'd heard just about everything there was to hear on the controversial theme of high versus low hair, but we hadn't heard nothin' till we got here.

We hereby stick our neck way, way out and prophesy that hair will be high rather than low for a long time to come. But by "high" we don't mean skinned up tight to the crown of every head.

For the average woman it will mean hair ends above the nape of the neck, with a definite feeling of height in the front. For the woman who can wear it and who can keep it well coiffed the very high, somewhat formal fashion will be smart—and envied.

The shoulder length line will disappear until another fashion cycle comes round. Right now clothes and hats call for the dramatization of face and shoulders that the high hairdress lends itself to.

In this town, for evening, long hair in a low arrangement is the exception with all but the very young. The debutantes and the subdebs are distinguished by long, beautifully shiny hair—and charm bracelets that rattle like anchor chains. Both affectations seem to be essential to the youthful conception of the glamor girl and by these signs ye shall know them.

A hair stylist recently arrived from Paris [one who says, by the way, that the up line is "in"] did the coiffure pictured above. It is one of the best expressions of the modified upward line that we've seen. It has the high line, but softness, too. And softness where it counts—which is framing the face.

The moral of it all is—up with the hair, but not in a line that is set and hard and too much of quick change for your public.

Ballet Leader Eager to Start Work in Opera

BY CECIL SMITH.

Full of eager anticipation and high hopes for the part her ballet will play in the coming Chicago City Opera company season, Catherine Littlefield arrived in the city from Philadelphia yesterday. Accompanied by her sister, Dorothie Littlefield, she went forthwith to the Civic Opera house to examine the stage on which her ballet of forty-five dancers will dance as the opera company's official ballet during the season opening Saturday evening.

While she rested at the Civic Opera house yesterday after making preparations for the first all-ballet program Sunday evening, her blonde beauty matched against Dorothie's striking brunette hair and complexion, Catherine Littlefield outlined her aspirations for the future.

"America is destined to produce the finest dancing the world has yet seen," she declared. "People often still laugh at the idea of a successful ballet composed wholly of American dancers, but those with vision see a splendid future ahead.

"I should like to see an American ballet develop prestige and public acceptance equal to that given to the Russians. It takes time and perseverance, and it is a back breaking job at present, but I believe that the eagerness and enthusiasm of Americans will make them the best of all dancers when they have received the proper discipline."

Formed three years ago as a modest group of eighteen in Miss Littlefield's home town of Philadelphia, the company has achieved international reputation in the course of its short career. In the summer of 1937 the troupe danced in London and Paris. This past summer the ballet has taken part in opera performances in the outdoor Robin Hood dell at Philadelphia in preparation for the serious task ahead of it in Chicago this fall.

It is not fair to call the Littlefield ballet a completely eastern company, for two new Chicago dancers have been added to the roster this fall. For the most part, however, the company's personnel has worked for two or three seasons under Miss Littlefield's direction, hoping to establish themselves as a strong and typically American ballet group.

On Sunday night for the first time they will show to Chicago the work and preparation of three years. Later in the season six additional all-ballet programs will be given under the auspices of the opera company. The ballet will also dance in all opera productions requiring incidental dances.

Looking at Hollywood
By Ed Sullivan

These Three.

Hollywood, Cal., Oct. 26.—On stage 6, at M.-G.-M., there is an interesting threesome, Norma Shearer, Clark Gable, and Director Clarence Brown. Singly, each one of them is worth a column; collectively, they are worth a page in any Hollywood history book, because these three were last together in June, 1931, when they made "A Free Soul," which in turn made flicker history.

Now they are engaged in making "Idiot's Delight" and Gable is as much a star as Norma. Seven years ago, when they filmed "A Free Soul," Gable was not much more than a promise. He had scored as the gangster in "Dance, Fools, Dance," but the industry had had a lot of one picture clicks who scored once and then fizzled out.

"A Free Soul" was the acid test for the big Ohioan. He was in fast company with Miss Shearer, Leslie Howard, and Lionel Barrymore. Once before Gable had been tested to play opposite Norma, but in the tests he was nervous and blew up while making love to her. Neil Hamilton got the part instead. So there was plenty of tension surrounding the making of "A Free Soul." It was Gable's big chance and biggest test.

The picture played in 7,000 feet. In thirty feet of it Gable was to become a star. "In that scene where you bawl out Norma," suggested Director Brown, "reach out and shove her hard. Make her teeth rattle." It was that rude shove that made Gable over night the he-man hero of the screen.

"It was funny at that," recalled Norma. "You see, Leslie Howard was the love interest of the picture and Clark was the gangster. The audience was supposed to grow to hate Gable. In the daily 'rushes' it was obvious that Clark's charm was making him a sympathetic character. It was decided that the only way to make the audience really hate him was to have him shove me around. That was then considered the unforgivable sin.

"But so thoroughly was the audience with Gable that when he let me have it the whole theater started applauding. Even when he was rude he was charming and the audience recognized it. When we finally killed him the audience was mad as the dickens."

It was in that same picture that Lionel Barrymore delivered an address to the jury that won him the academy award. It was an uneventful picture for Barrymore. In the first place he had determined to give up acting and concentrate on becoming a director.

The academy award had the same psychological effect on him as though he'd hit a homer with the count two and three on him. Gable's success added to Lionel's pleasure because it was the elder Barrymore who had brought Clark to the lair of Leo the Lion for his first movie test.

Director Clarence Brown is as celebrated in his field as are Gable and Shearer in the realm of make-believe. In his career he has directed Rudolph Valentino, Norma Talmadge, Greta Garbo, Jean Harlow, Norma, Joan Crawford, Marie Dressler, Helen Hayes, Wally Beery, John Gilbert, Lionel Barrymore, Fredric March, Myrna Loy, Charles Boyer—a blue ribbon list of performers that indicates his ranking and his versatility.

An ex-army aviator, he says that "Night Flight," which he made with Helen Hayes, Gable, and John Barrymore, was one of his favorite chores. He ranks "Flesh and the Devil," "Anna Karenina," and "A Free Soul" close behind.

How does a person become a director? If you'd follow Brown's formula, you'd arrange to be born in Clinton, Mass., on a May 10, win two engineering degrees at University of Tennessee, work in the engineering department of an auto factory at Moline, Ill., serve as an aviator in the United States army, and then swerve abruptly from engineering to the movies.

He remembers lines from his pictures better than the picture itself. He says the biggest laugh he ever heard in a movie house was in "Red Dust," when Jean Harlow was cleaning a canary's cage. She scraped and scraped, finally squinted quizzically at the canary and asked: "What've you been eating, birdie—cement?"

Between takes we sit in the reproduction of the cheap hotel room and chat. . . . "Thanks for that nice paragraph on the success of 'Marie Antoinette,'" remarks Norma. . . . "You know the only city where it didn't do business? Right here in Los Angeles. This is a curious town in many respects."

I ask Gable if he is having as much fun learning to dance for "Idiot's Delight" as did Alfred Lunt. . . . "I guarantee he had more fun than me," says Gable wryly.

"That is a high class insult, Mister Gable," concludes Norma. . . . He grins an apology. . . . "Didn't mean it the way it sounded," he assures her. "I meant the trouble of learning to dance. Say, I never gave Fred Astaire and Eleanor Powell credit for dancing. It wears you down, physically."

Says Norma: "I know what you mean. I took an hour's rhumba lesson and I was completely exhausted." . . . Producer Hunt Stromberg arrives on the set: "Come on, break it up," he interrupts. . . . "He's an understudy for Simon Legree," says Gable, sotto voce.

Stromberg and director Brown go into a huddle. . . . "This is a cute scene," says Brown, "but the censors ruined it." . . . Norma shakes hands with Gable: "Well, at least they can't say WE ruined it."

"That," added Brown, "is what you think."

Black Hosiery Shades Go on Dress Parade

BY RHEA SEEGER.

Dress parade clothes worn with dark, luxurious costume accents of bags, gloves, or footgear need the distinctive swank of filmy, extremely dark tones in hosiery. Some exciting off-black shades are not only new but most dramatic for black suede footwear. Thin as a shadow, flattering to the eye as well as the anklelines, these black beauties are winning the shopping throngs.

One called "jungle" comes in all weights for daytime or evening wear. Another thin film of black is called "mascara." Both have that dusky, warm brown-black tone that is so flattering. Black heels are back again to thin down ankles. Most of these black heeled stockings are made with tiny thread, thin back seams, also in black, to assure good lines. Another bit of heel trickery is the kind called "rib row." These are black heels with vertical lines, giving a run effect Surprisingly good for keeping the optical illusion of slim, slender anklelines.

The last gasp for the pampered souls who demand supercomfort is the hosiery made of oil bathed thread. Literally dunked for hours in softening cosmetic oil, these new "smoothies" are the answer to the problem of finding nonirritating hosiery for tender skins.

Sounds pretty sissy to the tougher shoppers, but a grand find for the sensitive sisterhood, who will rise and cheer for such thoughtfulness. Such oil bathed stockings come in all new daytime and evening tints for amazingly small sums.

The Housewife

One of the nicest little household helps we've ever had is the polishing cloth that comes equipped with an inner red cloth which is chemically treated and will shine slightly tarnished silver in no time. You hold the cloth by the outer flannel surface, to protect your hands from dirt. Use the inner one for the polishing. It works quickly and efficiently, and postpones the day when you have to get out the silver cream.

This cloth may be used to polish gold, jewelry, and auto accessories, as well. It's not expensive.

New York's First Big Benefit, Velvet Ball, to Be Held Tomorrow

New York, Oct. 26.—[Special.]—The Velvet Ball and Debutante Cotillion, first benefit ball of the season, will take place Friday night at the Waldorf-Astoria hotel.

Approximately eighty-five debutantes, under the chairmanship of Miss Brenda Frazier, will participate.

Advance reservations and ticket sales indicate that the ball will have an attendance of about 1,500 persons. The event will benefit the New York Infirmary for Women and Children.

The setting will recall modes of the early eighteenth century and this motif will be enhanced by old fashioned waltzes, polkas and other favored dances of that era.

A Door Closed Softly

By Alice Campbell

[Copyright, 1938, By Alice Ormond Campbell.]

SYNOPSIS.

David Beddoes, young American, accompanies his cousin, Alison, to a party at Lady Wibbe's. By mistake they go to the house next door. While they are talking to the spinsterish woman, who receives them, they hear a woman scream and a body fall. The spinster explains it is a parrot. But young Penelope Wibbe says their strange neighbors have no parrot. But they acquire one next day. David learns his former love, Betsy Greentree, lives in the mysterious house. Betsy's father died after losing his money. While traveling in Europe with her aunt, Fanny Rush, Betsy met and married an Englishman, Geoffrey Scarpath. David sends a letter to Betsy, which is unanswered. He confronts Scarpath, who explains that Betsy is suffering from a chronic nervous condition and can have no visitors, that she is being taken care of by his sister Evelyn. David gains a secret interview with Betsy and learns she is miserably unhappy. When the specialist, Dr. Broderick, insists on her taking the medicine, which always makes her feel worse, Betsy grows desperate. Alison's friend, Dr. Colin Ladbroke, leaving her flat one night, finds Betsy unconscious on the threshold. Revived she explains Penelope helped her escape. Colin plans to have his friend, Dr. MacConochie, examine Betsy, after he learns Dr. Broderick is a drug addict. Geoffrey appears and tries to get Betsy to go to his London flat, but she refuses. Betsy's aunt arrives and is met by Geoffrey.

INSTALMENT XXXIV.

WINNING FAVOR.

Fanny Rush was heading for a line of taxis when Geoffrey interposed, gently guiding her towards a new car.

"Mine," he explained. "Thanks to you. And now, where am I to take you?"

"Savoy," said she promptly. "You'll have supper with me."

"I was going to propose putting you up," suggested Scarpath with faint diffidence. "Any objection?"

He was sweeping deftly into the Buckingham palace road.

"I'm alone," he explained. "Suppose you just see my place before you decide? Unless," he qualified, "you're too tired."

"Me? Not much!" declared Fanny Rush staunchly. "Well, just as you say. It's barely 11, I see, and I managed forty winks on the boat—mostly"—with grim humor—"upside down."

He smiled but grew grave again as they rounded the palace and put up into St. James's. "By the way, Fanny," he asked, "why at this season did you think of coming to London?"

She cocked a drolly malicious eye in his direction.

"I wanted," she said coolly, "to eat some grouse."

Scarpath chuckled appreciatively and questioned her no more, while she for her part said nothing except that London looked much the same dreary, badly run place, whose fascination she had never comprehended. Whizzing through Clarges street and skirting Shepherd's market, they arrived at a retired angle of streets.

Fanny got out, and with a brief upward glance at a dignified house front tramped into the lighted entrance. Old fashioned, she reflected, but well decorated—and the quarter, well known to her, irreproachable from worldly standards.

Geoffrey must be managing quite ably on the allowance she had contrived should come to him without Elizabeth's knowledge. She had known he could be trusted to install his wife suitably. Maybe the entire story about a dismal, half wrecked house was an invention. . . .

"An elevator?" Dubiously she stepped into the small bronze cage. "I hope it works."

It did—slowly—and stopped imperceptibly some distance up. Geoffrey held open the gates—how fine his profile looked, etched against the ivory wall!—and in another moment was ushering her into an interior really warm for England, and aglow with subdued lights. Quite a large and certainly a handsome room!

"Well?" said her nephew, removing her fur coat.

"Very nice indeed!"

She muttered it gruffly, frowning about her at the skilful mingling of antique and modern ideas.

She refused to remove her hat from hair none too presentable after her journey. Geoffrey had provided food for her. Eat first, then get to business—the business which had driven her all this long way from Java to England, because only her iron hand could settle it. . . .

Alone for a moment, she paced restlessly to and fro, came to a halt by the small, lace covered table drawn close to the fire. Here was Geoffrey, with a silver bowl, the disclosing of which wafted a familiar aroma to her nostrils. She sniffed, her hawk eyes lighting.

"Oyster stew!" she grunted. "So you remembered?"

He had even secured the correct crackers, nearly unknown in this country. Down she plunked, crumbled a handful into the hot, creamy mixture, and set to with appreciation.

Geoffrey was not really eating, only keeping her company. Silent too as he untwisted the gold foil from her favorite Pommery, the one brand she would touch. First a splash into his own glass, then hers filled to the brim. How few American men observed or knew this courtesy!

Grimly she wondered if Betsy had ever valued what she had got. Now the raised glass, grazing the edge of his guest's, and the grave, intimate communion of eyes. A mute toast—to what? Her, of course. She nodded brusquely, and grew conscious of a thrill along her battle scarred veins.

"Well," she sighed, "it's quite good to be here. Where's the child, by the way?"

"It's a longish story." Geoffrey set down his glass. "It's really most opportune you should have come just now, Fanny," he declared. "If I believed in such things I might call it a direct answer to prayers. What about telepathic connection? We always said you and I hadn't much need of wireless."

"Humph!"

It was an enigmatic snort, not hiding the gratification behind it. Red like the dregs of old claret was tingling her leathery old cheeks. Resolutely she finished her soup and pushed the plate from her.

"Nothing more," she announced. "What's this? O, cold grouse!" Again their eyes met. "Considering what I said, I can hardly say no to that, can I?"

"More telepathy."

He murmured it lightly, and sat with his chin on his knuckles, watching her attack the plump breast. His eyes appraised her with a fixity cold and detachedly speculative. He seemed to be studying her every movement.

Now she had taken a Balkan cigaret from the box set at her elbow. He was waiting for her, gold lighter aflame.

"Coffee?" He rose. "I've got it ready."

"No coffee!" She sat back in her chair, still upright, and with the cushion offered her flung to the floor. Then her question came, abrupt, undecorated. "What," she demanded, "can you tell me about an American named David Beddoes?"

Geoffrey glanced at her, then away. Unemphatically he replied: "Very little. I've met him once." The hawk eye was cocked, waiting. Perceptibly pausing, he added, "I have certainly heard Elizabeth mention him. Fairly frequently."

"O, you have?" Fanny also paused. "Then it may not surprise you to learn that this man Beddoes—he says he knows me, but I've no recollection of him—had the gross impertinence to send me a cable and a letter. I won't say it's the result of his officiousness that I'm here. He did, though, make me aware of certain matters which appear to have been kept from my knowledge. I wonder if that was wise?"

"I don't know." Scarpath spoke frankly and seriously, standing by the harth and gazing down on the half consumed log. "You will quite appreciate why."

"Yes, yes!" The gruffness was counterbalanced by a furtive, grateful flash of the eye. "We know all about that. I have the cablegram here." Delving into her alligator skin bag, she thrust on him a flimsy paper. "Says nothing, you see. All that counted was in the letter."

"Have you that as well?" He had scanned the form and laid it aside. "Or perhaps you don't care to show it to me?"

"I burned it. It so enraged me. . . . But here's the gist: First, did I know my niece was in a bad, possibly critical, state of health? Second, that she was cut off entirely from her friends, living in a wretched, out of way house, and desperately unhappy? Third, that the writer was convinced she was not suffering from the alleged complaint at all, her symptoms in his opinion being wilfully misinterpreted—if it didn't mean something worse. There! That sums it up."

WINNIE WINKLE, THE BREADWINNER: A Man of Phew Words

BY NANCY CABOT.

With winter evenings looming ahead, it is time to prepare for indoor recreation. If your friends are bridge fans, this set of four mats is ideal to protect the table surface from water marks or other defacements. Red and black are used for the cards, and the design may be in any selected color. It is a simple matter to work up these card mats, and each hot iron transfer pattern contains a set of four.

For the hot iron transfer pattern of the card mats, No. X-523, send 10 cents in stamps or coin to the Needlework Bureau, Chicago Tribune, 220 5th avenue, New York City.

Grid Luncheons of Big Three to Be Stag Parties

Plan Children's Theater Institute.

The Chicago Junior league's Children's theater season will have the benefit of a Children's Theater institute to be held Nov. 14-18. Mrs. Maurice P. Geraghty, the former Helen Tieken, is in charge of the institute, at which known figures in the theater world will speak on makeup, lighting, decoration, and the dozens of subjects of interest to the stage.

The institute seeks new blood for Children's theater work. Mrs. John R. Winterbotham Jr. and Mrs. Richard Gambrill Jr., who have carried the brunt of dramatic rôles for many years, have "retired," and new talent must be discovered.

Further information on the institute will be announced at the annual fall meeting of the league on Monday, Nov. 7, in the Tower room of the Drake hotel. Harold Ehrensperger, former executive secretary of the Drama League of America and lecturer on drama at Northwestern university, will speak on "The Theater in the New World."

Although activities in the Children's theater are postponed until the time of the institute, league members are not idle. Pursuing its policy of training members in the work they do, nine young women just have been graduated from a class in Municipal court training—Miss Elsie Clow, Miss Lucy Harrison and Miss Joan Ford among them.

Mrs. Francis R. Stanton, Mrs. Amsden Gooch, Miss Barbara Hess, and Miss Eleanor Janney are among those taking a six weeks' course in arts and crafts. Miss Cynthia Cleveland is one of a group learning informal song leading; Miss Eleanor Wilson and Miss Dorothy MacArthur, who is convalescing at the Passavant hospital from an emergency appendectomy on Saturday, are learning group games. The last three courses are useful for the members who amuse and instruct children in community houses.

Also of interest to the members who teach at community houses will be a talk by Mrs. Gordon Lang, president of the league, before the Nursery Institute of the Council of Social Agencies tomorrow.

Elsa Maxwell Will Not Appear at Tea.

Miss Catherine Littlefield will be the only especial guest at the Arts club tea tomorrow. Miss Elsa Maxwell will not attend. The tea was planned originally for Miss Littlefield, the director of the ballet of the Chicago City Opera company. When it was discovered that Miss Maxwell was to be in Chicago on that day her name was included on the invitations.

Also on the cards were the words, "Guest fee, one dollar." Miss Maxwell is under contract not to appear in Chicago at any event to which admission is charged except in Orchestra hall tomorrow night under the sponsorship of the junior guild of St. Luke's procathedral, so the young women of the guild sent regrets for Miss Maxwell to the tea.

Mrs. James Ward Thorne, chairman of the reception committee, has asked Mrs. Jacob Baur, Mrs. Jason F. Whitney, Mrs. Shreve C. Badger, Mrs. Ernest A. Hamill II., Mrs. Charles S. Dewey Jr., Mrs. Walter Paepcke, Mrs. Walter R. Kirk, and Mrs. Ambrose C. Cramer to pour tomorrow.

The John J. Mitchells, the Henry Faurots, Mrs. Faurot Tolson, Bishop and Mrs. George Craig Stewart, the Hayden B. Harrises, the Leander McCormicks, the Charles Glores, the Stuart Logans, the Vincent Healeys, and the Theodore W. Robertsons will be in the audience tomorrow night to hear Miss Maxwell speak on "Today Society Is Different."

Charles H. Morses Home from Europe.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Morse, who have been abroad for several months, have arrived at home in Lake Forest.

Mr. and Mrs. Willard Monroe (Patty Jenkins) named their infant son Fayette for his late grandfather, but they will call him Peter. The baby was born on Oct. 18 at the Evanston hospital. Mr. and Mrs. Austin D. Jenkins of Winnetka are his maternal grandparents.

The Kenwood and North Side branches of the Infant Welfare society will hold their annual fall rummage sale next Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday at 153 North Michigan avenue. Mrs. Herbert Mayer is president of the Kenwood branch; Mrs. Frederick L. McNally is president of the North Side. Mrs. Joseph Ross and Mrs. Eugene Talbot Jr. are co-chairmen of the sale.

Mothers and sisters attending the annual card party of the Chapel Guild of the Cenacle, to be held Nov. 26 at the Stevens hotel, will be commissioned by family baseball fans to bring home a baseball used in the final game of the world series, autographed by all of the Yankees. The coveted item was given to the guild to be auctioned that afternoon.

Mrs. Henry Murphy, president of the guild; Mrs. Britton I. Budd, and Mrs. George D. McLaughlin are giving a tea on Nov. 15 at the Casino for the young women serving on the committee. Mrs. Harry L. Drake is head of the young committee.

School Playgrounds to Have Halloween Fetes Monday Night

The city's sixty-two public school playgrounds on Monday evening will be the scene of gay Halloween parties complete with costumes, games, and refreshments. The parties will last from 7 p. m. to 10 p. m. and are free to all children in the neighborhoods.

Officials of the school board planned the parties to reduce vandalism and destruction of private property. Civic groups and neighborhood organizations are providing the refreshments. All activities will be supervised by the playground attendants.

Herman J. Fischer, director of the board's bureau of recreation, said there would be special programs in all the schools Monday. These will include dramatizations and readings designed to show the meaning of Halloween and why it is observed.

Carter Harrison Invited to High School Reunion

Carter H. Harrison, collector of internal revenue, yesterday received a delegation of young people from St. Ignatius High school, Roosevelt road and Blue Island avenue. They asked him to attend the school's fall festival and homecoming Saturday night at the 132d Infantry armory at Madison and Rockwell streets. Mr. Harrison was graduated in 1881.

Claims Lum and Abner Have Earned Half Million

Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 26.—(AP)—Lum and Abner's rural wit on the radio has earned them upwards of $500,000, Bill Hay estimated today, in suing the pair for an accounting and 10 per cent of their income. Hay, who announces the Amos 'n' Andy program, asserted he obtained a five year contract for Lum and Abner in 1931, but instead of his promised 10 per cent commission, they paid him only $191.

Dreams About the 'Ideal' Girl Always Futile

BY DORIS BLAKE.

Michael is 24 and of a mind to marry, if he only could find the right girl. His life, he confides, has been one of hardships so far. Orphaned in babyhood, he has had to fend for himself since nine years of age. His schooling was sketchy, but he has managed to catch up somewhat in night school classes, which he still keeps on attending.

He has made friends with several girls, but after seeing them for a period he would have none of the feelings, he found, characteristic of true love. So he would break off, looking elsewhere in search of the fair one.

"I feel sometimes that I am too old-fashioned," Michael writes. "Other times I feel that it isn't my fault. I just don't like the average girl's behavior. I am a settled person now, eager for a home and what it means. I would like a girl after the same home-loving pattern. Where can you find such a girl? Or are there any?"

Where have you looked for your ideal woman, Michael? Or have you scouted around? We suspect that you've just taken whatever came your way.

Shy, we suspect you of being, reserved and a bit of a dreamer, believing this nice girl you want will fall into your lap some day as a gift of the gods.

You young men who are supercritical of the girls overlook one big point frequently. You forget to turn the searchlight on yourselves. You fail to ask yourselves just what you can bring into a girl's life to induce her to consider your home proposition.

If you are cheerful and gay and like fun, that's something that might intrigue her. We suspect, though, that you aren't of this caliber, Michael.

You remain too immersed in your hardships and your prejudices about girls. Aren't we right? You are only one of many men whose childhood was bereft of joy.

The wise ones among your kind, however, learned to pull the shutters down permanently on those early griefs and disappointments.

WALDORF CALLS N. U.-GOPHER GAME A TOSSUP

Wildcats Have Edge in Defensive Play.

BY EDWARD BURNS.

Happy thought for the day, fresh from Northwestern's lovely campus: "The team that wants most to win Saturday's football contest between Northwestern and Minnesota probably will win—provided it gets a break or two."

That's Coach Lynn Waldorf's latest way of saying he thinks the teams virtually are equal in physical equipment, skill, guile, and stamina. He holds that the team that is hopped up most for the fray will find zeal the decisive factor. But please, in quoting the Wildcats' sly maestro, don't forget to put in the part about the breaks. No smart coach ever will stick out his neck without cushioning it with something about the breaks.

The Lines Are Powerful.

Mr. Waldorf says, and less expert observers agree with him, that both the Wildcats and the Gophers have great lines. The proof of this, perhaps, is to be found in the fact that Northwestern hasn't been scored on this year. Minnesota has been scored on twice, but the only touchdown achieved by a Big Ten foe, Michigan's, was made on a pass.

Since this piece has taken a historical slant, quite against our will, we assure you, we may as well set down the scores of the two teams to date this year:

Northwestern, 26; Kansas State, 0.
Northwestern, 33; Drake, 0.
Northwestern, 0; Ohio State, 0.
Northwestern, 13; Illinois, 0.
Minnesota, 15; Washington, 0.
Minnesota, 16; Nebraska, 7.
Minnesota, 7; Purdue, 0.
Minnesota, 7; Michigan, 6.

Northwestern partisans probably wouldn't be so chatty about equality of offense were it not for memories of the Illinois victory last Saturday. It is felt that the Wildcat offense really found itself in the match in Champaign. And about time, statisticians opine, for they know that the first score against Illinois was the first made in five games against major foes, counting last season and this.

They Think They're Ready.

Now, however, the Wildcats feel they are set with a clicking offense. Yesterday we made reference to Waldorf's appraisals of the two first string left half backs, Harold Van Every of Minnesota and Jack Ryan of Northwestern, both smart, hard runners, but not especially elusive. The comparisons on offense are carried on with the thought that the full backs, Larry Buhler and Marty Christiansen of the Gophers, and George McGurn and Jay Laskay of the Wildcats, are similar performers and standoff pairs.

Haman Will Do at Center.

Campus observers say that the greatest improvement in the whole outfit has been in the case of John Haman, who has come along so fast in backing up the line that Mr. Waldorf has spoken of him as "the best center we have had."

Lest he be thought too optimistic, Coach Waldorf occasionally pulls out an old envelope on which are jotted statistics. The figures show that in all of their games to date, excepting only the Michigan game, the Minnesota boys have been rather ruthless in the matter of compiling yardage this year. Here's what the jottings on the envelope say:

Minnesota outgained Washington, from rushing, 242 yards to 85; from passing, 215 yards to 85.

Gophers Get a Rest.

Coach Waldorf says Minnesota gained an advantage over Northwestern by not playing last Saturday, giving it two weeks to work on maneuvers exclusively anti-Northwestern.

Minnesota, too, will have had two weeks to reflect how lucky it was to beat Michigan. In that game, and these figures do not appear on Coach Waldorf's scarey old envelope, Michigan made 171 yards from rushing to 111 for Minnesota, while Michigan made ninety-seven yards from passes to forty-one gained aerially by Minnesota.

GOPHERS TRY FOR GOALS.

Minneapolis, Minn., Oct. 26.—[Special.]—Coach Bernie Bierman will overlook no chances when the Minnesota football team meets the Wildcats in Northwestern's home-coming game in Evanston Saturday. He made that evident today when he gave his star field goal kickers, George Faust and Horace Bell, extra practice. They tried for goals from all over the field in anticipation of a close game Saturday and the possibility that the result may rest on those three points.

IT TAKES MORE THAN PEP TALK TO WIN IN BIG 10

BY WILFRID SMITH.

All football players may put on their pants one leg at a time, as Coach Francis Schmidt of Ohio State sagely informed the Buckeyes several seasons ago when he was trying to combat an inferiority complex, but frequently the comparison of equality ends with this sentence. The die for dear old Rutgers spirit will not take the place of thorough blocking and jarring tackles.

So-called upsets are not founded alone on stirring student rallies and inspirational pep talks, else Saturday's winner would be that university which built the largest bonfire Friday night. Upsets occur when the teams are at least nearly matched and when the superior eleven is handicapped by overconfidence, injuries, or errors. But the underdog must be within striking distance in material and methods.

Big Ten Teams Well Balanced.

With the exceptions of Chicago and Iowa, the western conference has such a limited difference in ability that any one eleven may upset a supposedly superior foe. And this year, with the renaissance of Michigan and increased strength at Wisconsin and Northwestern, the degree of difference is even less than usual.

Not only have several universities improved but Ohio State and Minnesota have suffered a decline in attacking strength to bring the top and bottom closer together. Minnesota, for instance, leads the Big Ten, but the Gophers have scored only fourteen points to their opponents' six points. Ohio State defeated Indiana by one touchdown, tied with Northwestern, and, of course, overwhelmed Chicago.

Except for the games involving Iowa and Chicago, only one Big Ten game has been decided by two touchdowns. Northwestern defeated Illinois, 13 to 0. And the Illinois squad, by Bob Zuppke's admission prior to the opening of the season, was the heaviest he has coached. Zuppke since has added that "Illinois still is the lightest in the conference."

Aggressiveness Counts for More Than Weight.

This may not be true in regard to Chicago. It also can be said that Illinois now would have a better defense if Mel Brewer had not been injured. When key men are removed from the lineup they cannot be replaced.

Weight per se is insufficient since the linemen need aggressiveness more than bulk. Bob Voigts, Northwestern tackle, probably is Northwestern's best defensive lineman, because he possesses the agility to recover from his original charge. Alex Schoenbaum of Ohio State, and Henry Luebcke of Iowa are only fair tackles because of inadequate charge.

Year after year the larger conference universities and those located geographically to receive a better than average grade of freshman material have numerical and physical advantages over the smaller schools. Occasionally these disadvantages are overcome and conditions equalized by alumni who are determined to send players to their alma mater. Again, coaching technique may offset disadvantages, but in these days of intensive scouting and preparation surprises are seldom.

HARRIDGE TO LET NATIONAL LEAGUE FEAR THE YANKS

Says American Will Find Its Balance.

Tony Still a Cub

TONY LAZZERI, who on Tuesday announced he was no longer a Cub is still on the club's official roster. After he had declared himself from his home in California the club expected to receive direct word yesterday that he had accepted the agreement to release him if he so desired, but word failed to arrive.

However, the club, according to Publicity Expert Charles Drake, speaking for Owner-President P. K. Wrigley, who departed yesterday for New York, will draw up the release papers as soon as the one time Yankee star files notice of his intentions.

The job of worrying over whether the New York Yankees are too strong for the good of baseball is one for the National league to handle in the opinion of Will Harridge, president of the American league.

"I suppose a lot of people think the Yanks may be too dominating an influence on the game," Harridge said yesterday. Then he added: "But I don't think we have anything to worry about, at least so far as the American league is concerned.

"We'll get ourselves balanced up. Boston is improving and Walter Briggs in Detroit won't stand still. Connie Mack at Philadelphia always has been a builder and will go places when he gets pitching."

Browns Need Help.

St. Louis, Harridge said frankly, is the American league's weak spot. He feels certain, however, that the men behind the Browns will never stop until they make that club a winner. Among them are such civic leaders as Donald L. Barnes, president; Francis Talton, Sam McCluney, Frank Rand, Andrew Johnson, and Howard Stephens.

"I know that when this group took over the Browns they did it more as a civic enterprise than for profit," Harridge continued. "Barnes frankly told us a year ago that he would appreciate consideration in deals which would strengthen the Browns and today's trade [the Yankees sent Catcher Joe Glenn and Outfielder Myril Hoag to St. Louis for Pitcher Oral Hildebrand and Outfielder Buster Mills] will be the start of several deals which will make St. Louis a better team."

Attendance Holds Up.

The American league attendance, he said, was good considering the weather. The Yankees set the pace, attracting approximately 1,000,000 at home. Every club except Detroit and Chicago showed increases or equaled their 193. attendance figures. Chicago, beset by injuries, showed the greatest decrease. Detroit, which drew more than a million fans in 1937, fell off that pace about 100,000.

YANKS GET HILDEBRAND

New York, Oct. 26.—[Special.]—A four player deal with St. Louis, which sent Catcher Joe Glenn and Outfielder Myril Hoag to the Browns in exchange for Pitcher Oral Hildebrand and Outfielder Buster Mills, was announced today by the New York Yankees.

It was a straight player for player trade with no cash involved.

The deal is expected to strengthen the already powerful Yanks, as Hildebrand won eight games while losing ten with the seventh place Browns last season. He has been unusually effective against the Yankees since entering the league with the Cleveland Indians in 1932.

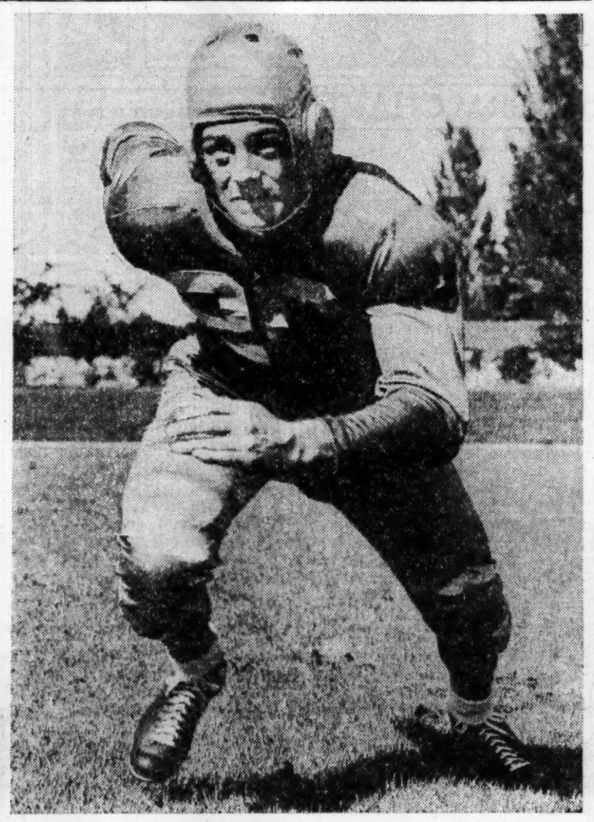
Coach Suffers Broken Leg Showing Boys How to Play

Princeton, Ill., Oct. 26.—(AP)—Foster Keagle, coach at the Princeton High school, had a broken leg today because, in attempting to show his team how a forward pass should be caught, he lost his balance. The team carried the coach from the field.

Old Lions and New Stalk Bears

Regis Monahan, who came to the Tribune's All-Star team in 1935 from Ohio State, has been a regular at Detroit for several years.

George Christensen, 6 feet 3 and 250 pounds, will play tackle for the Lions.



Monk Moscrip, former Stanford end, who returned to football this fall after a year's layoff, will make his first appearance in Chicago Sunday when he plays with the Detroit Lions against the Bears on Wrigley field at 2 o'clock Sunday.

Day Hammers Out a Decision Over Pete Lello

They boxed on even terms in the first round. But in the second and third Day found the range with a series of rights to win each.

In the fourth Day waited for an opening, while Lello scored points with a left to the body and a right to the head. Lello had the better of a bitter exchange in the fifth, Day returning to his corner with a discolored left eye.

In the opening bout of four rounds Garland Parnell, Springfield, Ill., welterweight, and Johnny Williams of Danville, fought to a draw. George Nyberg, Port Arthur, Ont., 147 pounder, and Joe Lubin, west side heavyweight, won the next two fights of four rounds. Lubin conquered Virgil Clark and Nyberg whipped Louis Dipiero. Chester Rutecki, C. Y. O. middleweight, pounded out a six round decision over Bobby Lamonte.

In the last of the preliminary bouts, Leon Efrati, 132 pound boxer from Rome, Italy, scored a decision in five rounds over Johnny Balmer of Peoria.

BEARS PREPARE TO CHECK LIONS' RUNNING ATTACK

BY GEORGE STRICKLER.

Orders went out from the Bears' office yesterday for extra ushers and some pleasant weather on Sunday. Advance sales for the Detroit Lion game in Wrigley field have reached such proportions that Coach George Halas expects attendance to surpass the 35,000 who congregated for the Lions' visit last year. Favorable weather, of course, is necessary to insure such a turnout. Regardless of the elements, however, Halas is assured of the largest professional crowd of the season in Chicago.

While Halas was sending out his orders Coach Dutch Clark of the Lions was issuing ultimatums to the Lions in Detroit. Clark wants some touchdowns. Clark has been coming to town to play the Bears every season since joining Portsmouth in 1930 and has yet to participate in a victory over them in Chicago.

Some Previous Setbacks.

Winding up his career with a triumph in Chicago over some one besides the Cardinals has become almost as important to Clark as winning the division championship. His first "farewell" appearance here last fall came near being a success until Vernon Huffman, the giant quarter back from Indiana, got off a poor kick. The Bears seized the opportunity and went on to win, 28 to 20.

Poor kicking by Huffman again led to the Lions' downfall in Detroit on Thanksgiving day. After Clark had been presented with a new automobile bearing a silver Lion to top off its fancy Honolulu blue finish, the Lions went to work with a vengeance to give the young coach a victory in what was designated as his final game as a player. They hurled all their running might at the Bears, but had to kick on fourth down.

An Unhappy Memory.

Huffman's punt slipped off the side of his foot and dribbled out of bounds on the Lions' 44 yard line. On the tenth play of the game, Jack Manders place kicked from the 26 yard line to give the Bears a 3 to 0 lead. Four plays after the following kickoff, Huffman punted twenty-eight yards out of bounds on the Bears' 46 yard line. Beattie Feathers made nine on first down, Manders twenty-four on second and two more plunges put the ball on the 16 yard line from where Manders made the score 6 to 0 with another place kick.

With these two games vivid in his memory, Clark has been stressing punting all season. Against Green Bay Huffman and Bill Shepherd kept the Packers well bottled up throughout most of the afternoon with long, accurately placed kicks. Shepherd has been doing the best punting of the half dozen kickers Clark has on the squad.

Shepherd Strengthens Team.

In fact, Shepherd has been the outstanding player in the Lions attack all year. Filling in for the veteran Ace Gutowsky, he has perfected the spin which is so essential to the success of the Lions' vaunted reverse attack. When Gutowsky comes in, Shepherd shifts to left half back or right. From these positions, he runs, kicks and passes. Coaches who have opposed him are unanimous in the belief that Shepherd is twice the football player this year he was in 1935 when he carried the brunt of the All-Stars' attack against the Bears on Soldiers' field. He will be the man the Bears will have to watch if they are to gain an advantage in the championship race Sunday.

Lectures at night and the long practice sessions on Wrigley field each morning are being devoted by Halas to acquainting the Bears' defense with means of stopping the Lions running plays. In Lloyd Cardwell, Huffman, and Shepherd the Lions have three of the hardest running backs in the league. All are capable of going all the way, but Shepherd and Huffman are essentially plungers. Cardwell and the veteran Ernie Caddel, when he is in the game, are the climax runners in Clark's squad. It is doubtful whether any member of the Bears can catch Cardwell or Caddel once they straighten out for a sprint.

CARTER SCORES ON 5 YARD PASS IN 2D PERIOD

Penalties Break Up Chicago Marches.

Erie, Pa., Oct. 26.—[Special.]—Philadelphia's Eagles recovered a fumble and converted it into a touchdown to score a 7 to 0 victory over the Chicago Cardinals tonight in a National Pro league game played before 10,000 in the Erie Memorial stadium.

The score came on a five yard pass from Dave Smukler, Eagle full back, to Joe Carter, over the Cardinal goal line on the fourth play of the second period, just when it appeared the Cardinals would be able to stave off the threat.

Fumble Proves Costly.

The Eagles took the ball just as the first quarter ended when George Rado, former Duquesne star, recovered Dwight Sloan's fumble on the Cardinal 8 yard line. Emmett Mortell twice cracked the Cardinal line, but could gain only three yards and Smukler's first pass, intended for Bill Hewitt over the goal line, was incomplete. The next pass to Carter was good. Henry Reese kicked the extra point.

Although the Cardinals made ten first downs to six for the Eagles, the Chicago club was outplayed throughout the first three periods. Not until they opened up with a spread formation in the fourth period did the Cardinals threaten to score.

They drove from deep in their own territory to the Eagles' 25 yard line, with Jack Robbins carrying the ball twenty-two yards on one run and passing to Bill Smith for a seventeen yard gain.

Eagle Kicks Go Wide.

Reese and Smukler of the Eagles attempted field goals in the first quarter, but both kicks were wide.

The Cardinals had a net gain of 101 yards to 116 for the Eagles. Chicago completed five out of ten passes for fifty-one yards, against four completions out of nine attempts by the Eagles for thirty-nine yards.

Several penalties, among them one to their 1 yard line, imposed against Coach Milan Creighton, who came on the field without permission to protest an earlier penalty, cost the Cardinals several chances to advance.

DEW AND PAGE HOLD MONOPOLY ON FOUR RACES

But Jocky Castille Beats Them in Fifth.

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

Jockies Earl Dew and Willie Page, two riders whose equestrian talents are well adapted to the half mile track at Sportsman's Park, yesterday staged a two man show of their own for the first four races of the program at the southwest side oval.

The Canadian, Page, took the opener, but Dew, the lad from Sac City, Ia., who has proved himself a real half mile booter, came back to take the next two numbers. Thereupon Master Page replied by winning the fourth.

Both Page and Dew had mounts in the featured fifth race, the Aurora purse, but they reckoned without Delpha Castille, the little Louisiana native who on Monday scored a triple in four appearances and then came back Tuesday for a double.

Rides Sir Quest to Victory.

Castille went to the post on Sir Quest, which had scored two victories and a place in his other three starts at Sportsman's Park. The customers liked that record so well that they sent the Jewett gelding to the gate at 3 to 1. Page was up on the well played Symphon and Dew had the mount on Lowry, which had won two of his last three races. But neither had any chance against the combination of Sir Quest and Castille, who came down a length and a half in front of Symphon, with Lowry third. The winner paid $8.

Page's bid for riding honors at the meeting was ended quite abruptly in the sixth race, when he was set down for the duration of the meeting which ends Monday. Rough riding tactics on The Jurist were given as the reason for the suspension.

Dew and Page were responsible for the daily double, which paid $68.80. Page brought home Beautiful Bud in the opening number at 5 to 1, and Dew added Transfun, at the same odds, in the second. Then Earl brought home longshot Fletus in the third, and Willie returned with Moss Gal in the fourth.

Martin on Sidelines.

Tay Pay Martin, the second leading rider of the meeting, was sent to the sidelines after taking mounts in the first three races, canceling his job on Lyngate in the fourth. An examination revealed that the South Chicagoan still was suffering from the injured knee which he incurred in a spill off Beau Thor during the sixth race Tuesday.

Hunting Days Fail to Cramp Muskies' Style

BY BOB BECKER.

Muskie fishermen have been crowding the hunters on northern lakes in their efforts to throw lures at the big ones. Before the heavy storm swept through the north country a number of Chicago fishermen, among them Manager Gabby Hartnett of the Cubs, connected with some good sized muskies. Hartnett hooked a 46 inch 32 pounder on Lake Tomahawk.

The largest Canadian muskie about which we have heard during the recent fishing season was taken on October 10th. It was a 51½ pounder that was 56½ inches long. This lunge was caught by Louis Hilfer Sr. of St. Louis. The fish, taken from Big Eagle lake, Ontario, was caught on a big plug lure [musko-oreno].

Three Lures; Three Muskies.

R. N. Hartsing of Chicago, who was fishing with Hilfer, hooked a 25 pounder on an under water plug lure. Edward Sanders and Louis Hilfer Jr., two other Chicagoans in this party, also hauled in muskies of good size. Sanders hooked a 29 pounder on a spoon lure. Thus three of the muskies taken by this party struck three different kinds of lures.

The 51½ pound muskie undoubtedly will be among the winners in prize fishing contests of the 1938 season. As far as we know just one fish taken in Michigan tops it. This Michigan specimen was caught in Lake St. Clair and weighed 56 pounds and seven ounces. It is legal to troll with a motor in Lake St. Clair. Percy Haver, the fisherman who hooked and landed the 56 pounder, was using a motor when he connected with his fish.

Big Eagle Reached by Auto.

That some Canadian lake should produce a muskie weighing better than 50 pounds is no surprise. For a number of years the Lake of the Woods region has been making muskie fishermen happy with large specimens of Esox immaculates. We recall that one year the Lake of the Woods yielded a 52 pounder. Another year it was an old lunker that was several pounds heavier.

Big Eagle lake is a large body of water east of Kenora and west of Port Arthur. It has been accessible to automobiles for just a few seasons. We have been getting reports from this lake for several months. They told of muskies weighing 35 and 45 pounds being caught but nothing over 50 pounds, although the guides and fishermen have been combing the lake for the big ones. It remained for the closing days of the season to put a St. Louis fisherman in contact with a 51 pounder.

Phillips, Young Replace Zimmerman, Castelo.

Champaign, Ill., Oct. 26.—[Special.]—Two sophomore ends, Jim Phillips and Herb Young, who stand more than 6 feet and won fame as high school basketball players, will start for Illinois against Michigan, Coach Bob Zuppke indicated today.

Phillips has played considerably this season, but Young saw his first action against Northwestern. If they remain on the first team they will displace Ken Zimmerman and Bob Castelo, seniors, and reduce the number of lettermen in the starting line-up against Michigan to three, Capt. Jim McDonald, center, Jim Reeder, tackle, and Ralph Bennett, full back.

Zuppke continued to give attention to John Thistlewood, junior, who alternated with Cliff Peterson at left half back. George Rettinger appeared with the second back field and is expected to be able to play at Ann Arbor. George Bernhardt was able to return to practice, lining up with the second team.

The Illini will take their final workout here tomorrow, then go to Ann Arbor Friday, working out in the Michigan stadium.

MICHIGAN SEEKS KICKER.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Oct. 26.—[Special.]—Search for a dependable kicker to match Illinois' George Rettinger occupied Michigan's coaching staf today in a long kicking drill.

Half Backs Paul Kromer, Fred Trosko, and Dave Strong and Full Back Wallie Hook were sent through an extensive drill, kicking under pressure. End Vincent Valek also continued to practice punting as a possible alternate or replacement for Half Back Norm Purucker, whose kicking has fallen off in two games, in that department.

Defense occupied the Michigan squad in group work as it went through a lengthy pass defense drill and a long but light defensive scrimmage against reserves.

Half Backs Purucker and Tom Harmon and Guard Ralph Heikkinen did not report for drills until late because of late classes. Heikkinen reported briefly but took only a light exercise as he rested an ankle injury and a slight knee injury received yesterday.

Strong replaced Purucker at a half back post for part of the drills, indicating the former Illinois quarter back may see extensive service against his erstwhile team mates this week.

INDIANA ALTERS LINEUP.

Bloomington, Ind., Oct. 26.—[Special.]—Russ Higginbotham was shifted from guard to his old position at left end today as Coach Bo McMillin sought to strengthen the Indiana flank posts, which have been hard hit by injuries.

Today's practice forecast other probable revisions in the Hoosier lineup for Saturday's game against Wisconsin in Madison. John Maycox, sophomore center, was shifted to guard where he alternated with Jim Logan, veteran lineman, and Don Verdine relieved Russell Sloss at center. Ray Dumke, sophomore substitute back, appeared to be the choice for the starting full back assignment.

The Hoosiers held another long drill, which included blocking for the passer under fire, a review of defensive maneuvers and scrimmage against the freshmen who used Wisconsin plays.

BADGERS HUNT BACK FIELD.

Madison, Wis., Oct. 26.—[Special.]—Various back field combinations were tried out by the Wisconsin coaching staf today in an attempt to find a suitable quartet to start the Indiana homecoming game Saturday. One set of half backs included Roy Bellin at left half and Claude York, a sophomore, at right half; another had Bellin at right half and the injured Bill Schmitz back at his old left half back position, and a third combination had Bellin at left half and Karl Schuelke, husky reserve full back, at right half back. Schmitz still favors an injured shoulder and may see little, if any, action against Indiana. Hope also faded that Tony Gradisnik, speedy half back, will be available this week. Gradisnik was hurt in the Iowa game and lasted just one play against Purdue.

OHIO STUDIES N. Y. U. PLAYS.

Columbus, O., Oct. 26.—[Special.]—Ohio State university's football team had another look at New York university's pet plays as demonstrated by the Buckeye freshmen today. The regulars showed improvement in tackling and blocking. All week Coach Francis Schmidt has had the Ohioans working on fundamentals, a department in which the team has been below par most of the season.

Polishing their own offense, the Buckeyes spent much time training passers, with Bill Bullock and Jimmy Sexton doing most of the throwing. Mike Kabealo and Jimmy Langhurst took a long turn at kicking. The Buckeyes will leave for New York tomorrow night.

KILIAN AND VOPEL TO RIDE AS TEAM IN SIX DAY RACE

Gustav Kilian and Heinz Vopel, the famous German six-day bike riders, will again ride as a team in Chicago's fortieth international six-day bicycle race, which starts in the Stadium a week from Sunday night. Manager Harry Mendel has listened to the pleas of Torchy and Doug Peden, the Canadian team, as well as to those of Jimmy Walthour and Al Crossley, the American duo, and will not split up the Germans.

Peden and Peden beat the German riders in the last Montreal race, while Walthour and Cross'ey defeated them not so long ago in a New York six-day race. The Peden boys think they can beat Kilian and Vopel here just as they did in Montreal, while Walthour and Crossley are anxious to get another crack at them.

Irish End Drill for Army with a Scrimmage

Notre Dame, Ind., Oct. 26.—[Special.]—Live scrimmage featured Notre Dame's final home drill today. The team leaves tomorrow without practice for New York where it will face Army in the 25th game of the series on Saturday. This is the latest scrimmage Coach Elmer Layden has ordered in his five seasons at Notre Dame and today's drill may be taken as an indication of the respect in which he hold the Cadets.

Most of the skirmish was devoted to defensive play against Cadet formations staged by the B team. Layden reminded his squad that Army has not been held under three touchdowns a game in five starts this season. The only defeat came from Columbia when Army missed three points after touchdown to lose, 20 to 18.

The offensive drill featured timing and ball-handling. Milt Piepul, husky Thompsonville, Conn., sophomore, worked with the first team at full back in place of Mario [Motts] Tonelli, who still is out with a torn cartilage. Bob Saggau, sophomore from Denison, Ia., alternated with Harry Stevenson Jr., Bloomfield, N. J., junior, at left half back. Stevenson and Tonelli probably will start Saturday's game.

ARMY TAPERS OFF.

West Point, N. Y., Oct. 26.—[Special.]—Army's back field was the center of interest today as Coach Bill Wood and his aides put the cadets through a drill of polishing assignments for Saturday's game against Notre Dame.

Woodrow Wilson, Jim Schwenk, Art Frontczak, and Huey Long again lined up with the starting team, and it is evident that Wood's decision rests entirely upon conditions.

During the afternoon Mullin alternated with Wilson at tail back, with Dubisson at wing back, Kelleher at blocking back and Due at bucking back. Apparently the line will remain largely intact, except at center, where either Gillis, Maxwell, or Greene may start.

BELAZS REJOINS IOWA.

Balazs reported for practice Monday, but was withheld from active scrimmage as he still favored the knee injured in practice the week following Iowa's opening game with U. C. L. A.

Tonight Balazs, who was not expected to return this season, participated in scrimmage against the freshmen from his regular full back position. His reappearance brought up the morale of the squad.

Ed McLain and Red Olson, half backs, and Bob Allen, guard, also returned to active duty and will be available for Iowa's Dad's day game against Purdue Saturday.

PURDUE USES PASSES.

Lafayette, Ind., Oct. 26.—[Special.]—The same type of aerial attack that started the second half rout of Wisconsin may be employed against Iowa Saturday as Purdue seeks its second Big Ten victory of the season, judging from this afternoon's scrimmage session.

Winding up the hard work of the week, Coach Mal Elward concentrated on the development of the overhead offense, with Mike Byelene, Jim Nesbitt, and Ted Tykocki making the most impressive showing. Jack Krause, Dave Rankin, Felix Mackiewicz, and Swede Thursby were given the most attention as receivers.

Among the sophomores most apt to see action against the Hawkeyes are Al Rossi and Pete Timperman, tackles; Jack Winchell, Loren Proudfit, and Everett Cook, guards, and Tykocki, half back.

Canzoneri Given Decision Over Scott in Eight Rounds

Maroons Forced to Alter Line as Tackle Is Hurt

University of Chicago alumni who constitute the La Salle street coaching staf, will convene today for their sixth annual luncheon. Two hundred are expected for the meeting, which will take place at 12:15 on the 19th floor of the La Salle hotel. Harry Swanson, editor of the Daily Maroon in 1917, will give the principal report, as head coach.

The Chicago varsity, preparing to entertain DePauw at Stagg field Saturday, went through another shakeup yesterday. It was discovered that Morton Goodstein, who was shifted Monday from full back to tackle, has a knee injury of sufficient seriousness to keep him out of the forthcoming contest. This led to shifting Jack Plunkett, sophomore center, to the right tackle post, and Plunkett will probably start there. John Bex, another sophomore, has become left guard.

DEPAUW HOPEFUL.

Greencastle, Ind., Oct. 26.—[Special.]—Coach Neal announced tonight that he would cut the DePauw squad to thirty players for the game with Chicago university Saturday. The Tigers will leave Friday morning by bus and work out on Stagg field Friday afternoon.

"I believe this team has one good game under its belt, and it might as well be played in Chicago as in Greencastle," Coach Neal said. The DePauw coach indicated that he would change the starting lineup for the game with the Maroons.

Hawks Work So Hard That Four Are Hurt

Champaign, Ill., Oct. 26.—[Special.]—That the world champion Chicago Blackhawks are practicing for the forthcoming season in earnest was indicated by their scrimmage on the University of Illinois rink this afternoon.

Four players required first aid from Trainer Froelich. Alex Levinsky had a stitch taken over his right eye, the result of a collision with a goal post. Bill MacKenzie suffered a long cut below the knee when he fell under Paul Thompson's skate during a scramble. The wound required a couple of stitches. A high stick lacerated Art Wiebe's right ear lobe, necessitating two more.

Paul Goodman, recruit goalie, was hit hard on the left hip by a puck driven by Baldy Northcott in the morning's practice and he was excused from the afternoon's hectic workout. He spent the afternoon in the Hawks' dressing room allowing his bruised hip to absorb some electric heat.

The casualties did not disturb Manager Bill Stewart. "I ordered the boys to give everything they had in the afternoon workout, body checks included, and it was to be expected that a few bruises would result," Stewart said. "This afternoon workout should go a long way in fitting them for Saturday night's game against the Cleveland Barons."

Play Soccer Double-Header in Sparta Stadium Sunday

The second soccer double-header of the season will be played Sunday in Sparta stadium, 21st street and Kostner avenue. The Manhattan Brewers meet Hansa of the International league in the first game. Garden City, national champions, meets the Swedish Americans, league leaders, in the second.

Made it worth while for me to stick around.

STATE CUTS OFF PHONE SYSTEM OF RACE SERVICE

Harrisburg, Pa., Oct. 26.—(AP)—The Pennsylvania public utility commission ordered three telephone companies today to stop service to any place which has "any telephone or telegraph connection with the race track circuit of Nationwide News Service, Inc.," or any of its subsidiaries.

The commission issued its order upon three telephone companies in one phase of a state investigation as the Dauphin county [Harrisburg] court took under advisement arguments on an injunction limiting activities of a legislative committee investigating dissemination of race information.

The County court said the injunction against the legislative investigation would remain in effect until pro and con arguments could be given "due consideration." The injunction, obtained by M. L. Annenberg, publisher of the Philadelphia Inquirer, restrained the committee from requiring Annenberg to testify or to produce his records. It permitted the committee to proceed with other phases of its inquiry. In previous testimony Annenberg was named as head of Nationwide Race News Service.

WAGE-HOUR HEAD THINKS 'PATIENT' WILL RECOVER

Admits 'Some Blood Lost in Operation.'

New York, Oct. 26.—(AP)—Elmer F. Andrews, wage hour administrator, said today that reports regarding inauguration of the fair labor standards act "encourage us to believe the operation has been a success." He made the statement to the Cotton Textile institute, which was in annual session.

Speaking from the "vantage point of two and a half days," the administrator reported that "unpleasant repercussions" had occurred only in scattered instances and that a minimum of industrial dislocations resulted. These, he asserted, should disappear soon.

Calls Job Loss "Unfortunate."

"It is unfortunate," he added, "that any one should lose his job because of this law, but there are few operations in which the patient does not lose some blood."

The new law, calling for a minimum wage of 25 cents an hour and a maximum 44 hour work week in industries in interstate commerce, became effective Monday.

Andrews told the institute how the textile industry committee had started its work under the law.

Expects Recommendation Soon.

Andrews said he had been told the committee expects to make a recommendation around the first of the year.

"And I should like to say a word about learners," Andrews continued. "The wage and hour division is making an effort to avoid hasty action.

"The problem of learners differs in various industries. We want to allow as much as possible for these differences, but we also want to make sure that the purpose of the fair labor standards act is fulfilled. We expect to hold hearings on the question of learners, industry by industry. That for the textile industry should be scheduled very soon."

WHEAT, FUTURES PRICES DECLINE UNDER SELLING

Wheat prices closed lower yesterday. Heavy selling of futures by commission houses with eastern and southwestern connections resulted in an early decline of about 1 cent a bushel. Buying around 67 cents for May checked the decline, however, and a moderate rally followed. Closing trades were at losses of ⅞ to ¾ cent.

Corn showed an easy undertone from the start and closed at net losses of ⅞ to ½ cent a bushel. Demand for cash corn was reported slow.

There was some buying of wheat futures on dry weather reports from the winter wheat belt. The weather bureau's weekly summary said the outlook for the crop in the western belt continued unfavorable because of persistent drouth.

October wheat in Liverpool closed 1½ cents a bushel lower. This established a new seasonal low mark.

Investors' Guide

General Cigar.

Investors' Guide: Please send me a report on the General Cigar Co., Inc. I notice that the price of its stock has not fluctuated very much this year. What is the company's dividend record?—F. R. T.

Answer: General Cigar Co., Inc., is the largest producer of cigars in the country. Its brands include "White Owl," "Van Dyck 32," and "William Penn," selling at 5 cents, and the more expensive "Robert Burns" cigar.

The greater volume of business is done in the 5 cent brands, but those selling for 10 cents and up yield a larger margin of profit. This year's recession brought a contraction of cigar sales as a whole, and also caused some smokers to switch to 5 cent cigars from higher priced brands. Competition is particularly severe in the 5 cent field.

This combination of factors was largely responsible for a drop in net income for the first nine months to $716,872, or 96 cents a common share, compared with $986,394, or $1.53 a share in the first nine months of 1937.

Although a long period of steadily declining cigar consumption was halted in 1934, the trend of the company's earnings has been gradually downward in recent years. Last year net income amounted to $1,674,000, or $2.80 a common share. This compared with $1,803,000, or $3.07 a share in 1936, $2,076,000 in 1935, and $2,334,000 in 1934. Record net income of $4,296,000 was reported in 1929.

Sales in 1937 were $21,724,000, against $21,650,000 in 1936. Volume of sales was not reported in previous years.

The company this year reduced the dividend rate on its common stock to a $2 annual basis. Last year, the rate was $3. Regular payments of $4 a share were made each year from 1928 through 1936, with extras of $3 each in 1934 and 1935.

Funded debt was eliminated in 1932 by calling $2,800,000 of notes then outstanding. The company has outstanding 50,000 shares of $100 par preferred stock and 472,982 shares of no par common.

American Tobacco Stocks.

Investors' Guide: Is the 6 per cent preferred stock of the American Tobacco company callable? What are the voting provisions of the company's stocks?—R. M.

Answer: American Tobacco's 6 per cent preferred stock is not callable. Holders are entitled to four votes per share. Holders of the common have one vote per share. The B common stock, however, carries no voting rights.

The gain over the third period of last year was $159,544. As a result of reduced earnings in the first quarters of this year, net earnings for nine months fell below a year earlier. For the nine months ended Sept. 30 earnings totaled $1,089,098 against $1,594,899 for the like period of 1937.

REFUSE TO HEAR CARGILL CHARGES AS SINGLE CASE

Washington, D. C., Oct. 26.—(AP)—A referee for the Commodity Exchange Commission ruled today that charges brought against the Chicago Board of Trade by Cargill, Inc., a Minneapolis grain company, must be heard independently of counter-charges filed against Cargill by the board.

After lengthy arguments by counsel, Referee S. Abbott MacGinnis held the commission had no authority to consolidate the cases.

Cargill charged that the board had on two occasions, once in 1936 and again in 1937, violated the commodity exchange act by manipulating grain futures prices downward.

The board's answer charged that the Cargill member of the exchange had itself violated the act by manipulating prices upward and said that for such practice it was expelled from the exchange last March.

Stock Dividend.

Electric Power Associates declared a dividend payable with about 200,000 shares of common stock of American Water Works and Electric Company, Inc. The distribution will amount to one-fourth share of American Water Works for each common and class A share Electric Power Associates. The stock closed yesterday on the New York Stock exchange at $14.75 a share. One-fourth a share, the amount of the dividend, thus had a value of about $3.68.

Meeting Deferred.

Directors of Libbey-Owens-Ford Glass company deferred fourth quarter dividend meeting, which normally would have been held Tuesday, until late in November. The action was taken to determine approximate annual earnings before declaring dividend. The last payment by the company was 25c a share Sept. 15.

Illinois Bell's Net $7,609,848 in Nine Months

Lower earnings were reported in interim statements issued yesterday by the Illinois Bell Telephone company and a long list of other companies.

Net income of Illinois Bell for the nine months ended Sept. 30 was $7,609,848, compared with $9,227,236 in the corresponding 1937 period. Dividends paid by the company to the American Telephone and Telegraph company exceeded net income. After dividends a deficit of $1,390,152 was shown for the period. In the corresponding 1937 period there remained a surplus of $227,236. The total dividends paid, amounting to $900,000, were the same in both years.

Big Companies Earn Less.

Among the other large companies reporting lower interim earnings were Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing company, Freeport Sulphur company, Cutler-Hammer company, and the Link-Belt company.

A. W. Robertson, chairman of Westinghouse Electric, said business is in a state of "slow and unsteady convalescence from its illness."

"Orders received over the last two or three months," he said, "show no particular trend either up or down, and the levels of new business are about the same to date as in May and June."

Unfilled orders of the company on Sept. 30 totaled $43,817,402, Robertson said. A year earlier they amounted to $78,155,632.

Two Concerns' Profits Rise.

Loose-Wiles Biscuit company and Hecker Products corporation [formerly Gold Dust corporation] were exceptions to the trend. Loose-Wiles had net income of $342,939 for the three months ended Sept. 30, equal to 56 cents a share. This compared with $186,837, or 26 cents a share, in the corresponding 1937 period. FACT FINDING BOARD GETS 2 MORE DAYS TO FILE RAIL REPORT

Washington, D. C., Oct. 26.—[Special.]—President Roosevelt today extended by forty-eight hours the time for his fact finding board to report on the railroad wage dispute.

Instead of reporting by midnight tomorrow the board has until midnight Saturday. The board was appointed to make recommendations after unions representing nearly 1,000,000 workers voted to strike Oct. 1 against a 15 per cent pay cut.

Under the railway labor act the fact finding board is directed to report within thirty days after its appointment. The brotherhoods and the railroad managements agreed to the extension.

UTILITIES' SUIT ON TVA LEGALITY IS CHALLENGED

Washington, D. C., Oct. 26.—(AP)—The Tennessee Valley authority challenged in the Supreme court today the legal right of 15 privately owned utilities to attack the constitutionality of its vast power program and Tennessee river development.

In a brief defending the TVA's flood control, navigation, power, and national defense program, the authority contended the companies were without standing before the court. Thus, it was argued, they were "estopped" in their appeal from a decision of the three judge federal court at Chattanooga, Tenn., which upheld the constitutionality of TVA.

The TVA contended that the companies lacked franchises that would confer immunity from competition and that nine of the companies "are not shown to be threatened with damage by any concrete act" of the TVA.

Middle West Hunts Owners of $500,000 of Securities

The Middle West corporation announced yesterday it is making a final effort to reach the persons for whom it is holding $500,000 in unclaimed securities. These consist of stock, purchase warants, and scrip to which note and stockholders of the predecessor company are entitled. Security holders of the old Middle West Utilities company, keystone of the Insull system, received proportional shares in the new company in 1935, but many of them have not presented their claims.

Everyday Economics

Mining Lingo.

The mining industry has a language in many respects peculiar to itself. For example, a passenger elevator in mining lingo is a "cage." True, they are usually little more than cages, often consisting of a platform with a metal framework around it to which a cable and steadying guide lines are attached.

The term elevator, on the other hand, is usually applied to an endless belt for elevating crushed ore.

A "blow" is an outcropping, or a point where a mineral vein reaches the surface of the ground. A blind vein is one which has no outcrop.

A "cradle" is a box on rockers used for washing gold bearing gravel. Use of a compass in surveying is often termed "dialling" by miners. The small locomotive used for switching cars in mines receives the name "dinky," probably derived from the donkeys which they replaced in this operation.

Banker Warns of Government Centralization

White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., Oct. 26—[Special.]—Both democracy and the free capital system have been placed on the defensive by the growing trend toward centralization of government and state capitalism. This assertion was made today by Francis E. Frothingham, president of the Investment Bankers' Association of America. He spoke before about seven hundred investment bankers assembled in the twenty-seventh annual convention.

Frothingham gave a disturbing description of the state of affairs in the world. He expressed grave concern over the ultimate outcome of the struggle between dictatorships and democracies and its effect upon the capitalistic system in this country. Only by maintaining a high standard of living and providing a large measure of human freedom can the present free capital system survive against state collectivism, the banker warned.

Methods Are Questioned.

Expressing sympathy with the fundamental purpose of the federal administration — that of correcting abuses which had arisen in the economic and financial structure — he questioned the wisdom of the methods used and the rapidity with which the sweeping corrective measures are started.

"What we need to observe is that these regulatory steps automatically and inevitably become increasingly authoritative, so that morality suffers and society degenerates," he said. "Therein lies the concern about the New Deal: That is, that it may go the way of the dictatorships and centralize too great authority in Washington."

Business Lags Too Much.

Despite many steps taken by the government to bring about a sound business recovery, business still lags beyond all justification, he said. This is attributed to restrictions and penalties that confront it, he said.

"All thoughtful people view with grave concern the continuing growth of the public debt, the budget deficit, and the constant use of deficit financing," he said. "They are concerned by the political and human implications in the administration of relief; the constant making of grants, loans, and subsidies of public funds; the increase of burocratic controls, and the imposition of taxes for purposes foreign to the original plan."

One of the principal results of the prolonged subnormal rate of business activity has been an almost complete stagnation of the flow of new capital, Frothingham said.

New Capital Shrinks.

"From the average of $5,000,000,000 of new capital raised annually from 1924 to 1929, the total has fallen to only $500,000,000 during the period from 1932 through 1937, and there still is little demand for new capital," he said.

In defense of the position of the investment banker in this situation, Frothingham pointed out that the investment machinery, no matter how efficient, nor how willing the members of the industry to aid in a revival of capital financing, can not operate in the vacuum which has been created by the continued stagnation of business.

Nash to Cut Auto Prices; Biggest Slash Will Be $68

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 26.—(AP)—W. A. Blees, general sales manager of the Nash-Kelvinator corporation, announced today that reductions on the company's 1939 model automobiles will range up to $68.

Business Bits

Harry P. Justin, superintendent of the Chicago division of the Rock Island lines, will retire Oct. 31, it was announced yesterday. Justin has been with the railroad fifty-two years. He began as a yard clerk at St. Joseph, Mo., in 1886. He took over his present post Feb. 1, 1933. His father, the late Roderick Justin, taught him how to be a switchman. The father went to work for the Rock Island in 1867. The son succeeded the father as general yardmaster in 1905 when the elder Justin retired. Harry's son and daughter are employed by the road.

Harry P. Justin.

Leo Nejelski, advertising director of Swift & Co. will address members of the Chicago Federated Advertising club at luncheon today in the Hotel Sherman. Nejelski will discuss the latest developments in packaging of products.

Walter G. Baumhogger has resigned as president of the Certain-teed Products corporation, maker of building materials. He will devote his entire time to the affairs of the United Cigar-Whelan Stores corporation, of which he is chairman of the executive committee. C. L. Von Egloffstein, former executive vice president of Holton, Richards & Co., Inc., has been elected president of Certain-teed.

J. Nelson Stuart has been appointed director of advertising and sales promotion of the Kelvinator division of the Nash-Kelvinator corporation. He formerly held a similar position with the Delaware, Lackawanna, and Western Coal company.

PEOPLES GAS CO. THIRD QUARTER PROFIT $210,841

But Reserve in Rate Case Leaves Loss.

The Peoples Gas Light and Coke company yesterday reported net income of $210,841 for the three months ended Sept. 30. In the corresponding 1937 period, when lower gas rates were in effect, the company operated at a loss of $212,931.

George A. Ranney, chairman of the board, told stockholders that the additional revenue resulting from the rate increase amounted to $781,166 for the September quarter. The higher rates went into effect Feb. 5, 1938. After allowing for increased taxes the company set aside $632,928 of this additional revenue as a reserve pending a final ruling in the rate case. The increase in rates was obtained by the company through a court order and is under attack in the courts from the Illinois commerce commission. The Supreme court has not yet ruled on the case.

Special Reserve Provided.

After the special reserve there was a deficit of $422,088 for the September quarter, or nearly twice the loss incurred in the third quarter last year.

Net income for the nine months ended Sept. 30 was $2,477,347, against $1,722,998 in the corresponding 1937 period. Net income of $949,881, equal to $1.45 a share, remained after provision was made for the special rate reserve of $1,527,466 for the nine month period.

Chairman Ranney said gas sales to industrial consumers showed some indication of an upward trend in the third quarter. Total industrial sales for the period, however, were well below a year earlier. Sales to other utility companies were also lower.

General Sales Hold Up Best.

Gas sales to general customers showed the smallest decline from last year of any class of customers. Revenues received on such sales were larger because of the higher rates. Total gas revenues for the three months' period were $9,052,790, against $8,808,269 last year. Without the higher rates the gas revenues would have shown a decline of $496,645.

The third quarter, Ranney said, is normally the least favorable for the company. He said the decline in industrial sales accentuated that condition this year.

Veteran Railroader

MRS. EDITH JARVIS ALDEN.

WOMAN ELECTED SECRETARY OF BURLINGTON LINE

The directors of the Burlington railroad yesterday elected a woman to a high executive position for the first time in the eighty-eight years of the carrier's existence. Mrs. Edith Jarvis Alden was elected secretary. She succeeds Charles I. Sturgis who is retiring at 78, after fifty-eight years of service with the Burlington.

Mrs. Alden's father, Harry E. Jarvis, on Jan. 1, 1882, became private secretary to C. E. Perkins, president of the Burlington when its headquarters were in Burlington, Ia. Jarvis, when he retired in 1922 after forty years with the road, was assistant to Sturgis. He was succeeded by his daughter, Mrs. Alden.

Mrs. Alden is a member of the Chicago Alliance of Business and Professional Women and is president of the Altrusa club of Chicago, an organization composed of executive and professional women.

Sturgis' other duties are being taken over by Andrew T. Williams, who was elected treasurer. L. R. Catron was elected vice president in charge of trafic.

Argo Oil President Reports Deal for Mexico's Surplus

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 26.—(AP)—Roy Fisher, president of the Argo Oil corporation, announced today that his firm, a Michigan company, had entered into an agreement with Mexico for purchase of all surplus Mexican oil. Approximately 200,000,000 gallons of oil annually will be brought to the United States, processed, and distributed, Fisher said, with the Argo firm acting as agent. Money paid to the Mexican oil commission will be spent in the United States for machinery to be used in expansion of Mexican refineries, he said.

NORTH WESTERN AND MILWAUKEE MERGER ASKED

Plan Would Save 10 Millions Yearly.

A proposal for the merger of the North Western and Milwaukee railroads was submitted to the interstate commerce commission yesterday by two protective committees for shareholders of the two railroads. One committee represented the common stock of the North Western and the other represented the holders of the preferred stock of the Milwaukee. Both roads are being reorganized under section 77 of the bankruptcy act.

Charles P. Megan, trustee of the North Western said, "I am strongly in favor of the consolidation of the two railroads if a practicable plan can be worked out. The difficulties are very great." H. A. Scandrett, president of the Milwaukee, would not comment on the plan.

Create New Bonds and Stock.

The plan proposes an issue of $80,000,000 of new first mortgage bonds which would provide funds for paying off bank loans and RFC loans and leave a balance of about $13,000,000 for working capital. It would create an issue of 5,000,000 shares of new common stock, junior to the general mortgages, to income bonds, and to preferred stock issues. No plan is made to allocate existing securities of the two roads.

The proponents of the plan said that the merger would make possible an annual saving estimated at more than $10,000,000. This would result from the combined operation of the two roads.

All the assets of the two roads would be transferred to one new corporation. Securities to be outstanding upon completion of the reorganization would include: $45,987,000 of equipment trust obligations which would remain undisturbed; $80,000,000 of first mortgage bonds; $185,000,000 general mortgage bonds, series I; $170,000,000 income mortgage bonds, series A; $50,000,000 income mortgage bonds, series B; $240,000,000 of preferred stock and 5,000,000 shares of new common stock.

Estimates on Savings.

The saving in operating costs by coördination, abandonments involving unimportant parallel lines, and joint use of lines is placed at $1,769,750; station and terminal coördinations in larger cities, $366,406; savings in passenger service consolidation between Chicago and Milwaukee and Chicago and Madison, Wis., $640,000; saving from trafic diversion, $879,000; saving from joint use of coal supplies, $1,500,000 to $2,048,267; coördination of outside agencies such as branch offices, advertising, etc., $1,300,000; consolidation of Chicago terminals and other operations, $900,000.

The two roads have in effect some coördinated operations, including passenger service in parts of Wisconsin, and handling of iron ore.

New York Stocks.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Oct. 26.—Heavy demand for low priced shares yesterday helped to check a general stock market decline. Much of this buying developed in the last few minutes of trading.

Of the day's total turnover of 1,702,180 shares, approximately 22 per cent was accounted for by seven stocks selling for less than $10 a share. Packard sales totaled 179,200 shares and Commonwealth and Southern amounted to 93,700.

Buying of the low priced issues left most of them fractions higher. The usual leaders were under pressure most of the day and declined fractions to around 3 points. Steel led the recession.

Power and light shares were prominent in the late trading. A sale of 56,000 shares of Commonwealth and Southern common at 2 was outstanding. The stock closed at 2⅛ for a gain of ¼ point. The preferred issue jumped 2½ points to 53¼, a new 1938 high.

United Air Lines, Glenn-Martin and Douglas Aircraft took over the lead in the aviations. The latter two gained 1 point at new highs. United Air Lines added ¾ at 12, also a new peak.

United States Steel, Bethlehem, and Republic closed only fractionally lower. Youngstown and Crucible both lost around 1 point. Chrysler, after being down nearly 2 points at one time, steadied to close only fractionally lower. General Motors moved in a lower fractional range.

Uncertainty over the impending report of the President's fact-finding board on wages reputedly brought about some selling in the rails, but losses generally were of minor proportions.

High priced issues were hard hit in the morning selling. In many instances severe declines later were halved.

New York Bonds.

New York, Oct. 26.—(AP)—Higher prices for United States government loans and a selected group of domestic issues marked a dull and irregular bond market today. Governments came to life in the final hour and closed 1-32d to 6-32d of a point higher.

Nickel Plate 6s continued in front with a gain of 2 points on top of successive advances in the last week. They closed at 96, stimulating reports that some announcement may be expected shortly as to disposition of the bonds not deposited under the extension plan.

A rise of 5⅝ points in Tokio City 5s to 49¼ was the high point of the foreign dollar list, where prices worked lower on light offerings.

Chicago Stocks.

Chicago stocks moved lower yesterday in moderate trading. Turnover was 33,000 shares. The Tribune average closed at 11.88, against 12.03 on Tuesday.

Despite the lower trend five new 1938 highs were touched during the day. These included Abbott Laboratories, Kentuck Utilities junior preferred, Monroe Chemical, United Air Lines, and Gossard Manufacturing.

Trading leaders were Central & Southwest Utilities common, unchanged at 2; Chicago corporation common, off ⅛ at 27¾; Jarvis Manufacturing, up ⅝ at 22¼, and Butler Brothers, down ⅜ at 8¾.

Bank Stocks.

Dealers reported exceptionally light trade in Chicago bank stocks yesterday. Only one leading issue, Chicago Title and Trust company stock, changed position. It closed $1 lower at $148 bid, $151 asked.

CLOSED BANKS' LIQUIDATION IS MUCH SLOWER

Quarter's Receipts Run Below Outgo.

BY HAROLD SMITH.

Influenced by the decline in other business activities, liquidation of the 139 closed state banks in Cook county slowed down in the third quarter.

This condition was shown in the quarterly statements released yesterday by State Auditor Edward J. Barrett. The reports are based on figures provided periodically by receivers for the banks. Charles H. Albers is general receiver for all except two of the closed state institutions.

Total receipts for the 139 banks during the quarter just ended were $2,211,022. This was $13,987 less than was paid out by the receivers. In the June quarter the receipts of $2,482,392 exceeded disbursements by $21,383. The income of $3,353,840 in the September quarter last year exceeded outgo by $208,244. Last year's figures included one additional bank that has since been taken out of receivership.

Sources of Collections.

The collections in the most recent quarter came principally from advances made to protect assets. These totaled $1,102,841. Only $982,658 was realized from income, interest, stock assessments, and the sale of assets.

Creditors of the 139 banks got back only $860,940 of their money during the September quarter. This was well below the $1,055,817 of repayments made during the preceding three months and it was less than half the $1,976,178 paid on claims and loans in the third quarter of 1937.

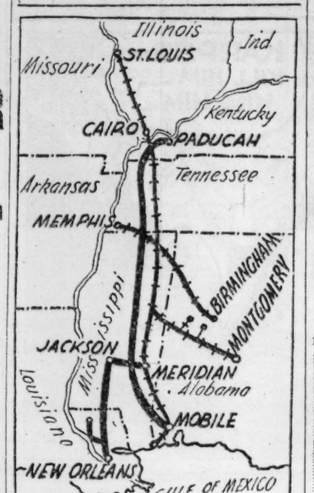
Depositors received only $563,187 in the last quarter. This was slightly above the liquidating payments they received in the June quarter, but only slightly more than half the total a year ago.

Other Creditor Payments.

Preferred and secured creditors received $28,588 in the three months. A total of $57,435 was paid on bills incurred before the banks closed. Repayments on loans from the Reconstruction Finance corporation and other sources totaled $211,728.

There was a sharp drop in the expenses of liquidation. These expenses totaled $249,902, compared with $299,460 in the June quarter and $325,714 for the third quarter of last year.

Proposed Merger



MOBILE & OHIO R.R.
GULF, MOBILE & NORTHERN R.R.

This map shows the main lines of the Gulf, Mobile and Northern and the Mobile and Ohio railroads. Directors of Gulf, Mobile yesterday approved "in substance" a proposal merger of the roads.

Bondholders of the M. & O. also have approved the plan, "subject to minor conditions," and as speedily as possible the proposal will be submitted to the Interstate commerce commission.

Ralph Budd, president of Chicago, Burlington & Quincy railroad, which owns 27.7 per cent of G. M. & N. stocks, however, said tonight that the decision of the Gulf, Mobile board to consolidate with the M. & O. did not represent the feelings of the Burlington interests.

New York, Oct. 26.—(AP)—A plan for merger of the Gulf, Mobile & Northern and the Mobile & Ohio railroads today was approved "in substance" by directors of the G. M. & N.

INSURANCE HEAD CALLS INVESTING WORST PROBLEM

Northwestern Mutual's Results Reported.

The finding of satisfactory outlets for investment of funds was described yesterday as the major problem of the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance company of Milwaukee. M. J. Cleary, president of the company, told the board of trustees about the problem in a report for the first nine months of the year. Cleary said the interest rate obtainable is at the lowest level in recent years, and that the volume of securities available is small. His company is the largest of its kind in the mid-west.

M. J. Cleary.

"There is relatively little new financing and only a moderate amount of refunding in the classes of bonds in which we are permitted to invest," he said. "The trend of the year to date in other major factors, however, has been reasonably satisfactory."

Assets Reach New High.

Assets of the company as of Sept. 30 were $1,223,822,132, compared with $1,175,365,597 on Sept. 30, 1937. This represented an increase of $48,456,535. Insurance in force at the close of the nine-month period Sept. 30 totaled $3,860,472,773, compared with $3,837,737,488 on Sept. 30, 1937.

New life insurance sales of the company for the first nine months this year, Cleary said, totaled $150,514,715 on 43,578 policies. Life annuities numbering 1,339 for a total of $5,235,012 also were written.

Nine Month Income 155 Million.

Northwestern Mutual's financial statement for the first three quarters of 1938 showed total income of $155,854,598 and total disbursements of $110,017,228. This was an excess of $45,837,370 in income over disbursements. Taxes paid of $3,045,904 were included in disbursements. Dividends totaled $23,492,393, and death claims paid aggregated $34,032,435.

CHICAGO LIVE STOCK

Live stock sold mostly lower yesterday. A large run of longfed steers and yearlings caused a break of about 25 cents a hundred pounds. Some late sales were off as much as 50 cents. Only a few top steers and a few plain kinds escaped losses. Top loads of steers at $13.50 equaled the 1938 peak.

Packers obtained lambs at the lowest prices since Thursday. The market slumped 10 to 25 cents. Best natives topped the list at $8.75.

Buyers balked at an early rise of 10 cents in hog prices and trading came practically to a standstill. Buyers won out, however. First gains were rubbed out, and additional cuts late brought final prices 5 to 10 cents under the average of the preceding session, and as much as 15 to 25 cents below the first transactions.

A few loads raised the early top to $8.25, highest in sixteen days, but later it was difficult to obtain $8.10.
